QUETTAH.—A letter from Quettah of the 24th October, gives scarcely any news, but the whole force, except Capt. Beau's corps, were to start that evening for Khelat, where operations will immediately commence for the reduction of the fort. At Shikarpore Mr. Bell is most actively engaged with the Belooches, and it is expected that the road between Shikarpore and Dadar will soon be quite safe.

ALLY MUSJID.—The Fort of Ally Musjid was attacked by a large party of Khyberites, on the 29th of October. The Garrison turned out and met the enemy outside of the works.

A correspondent says:—The Kyber Pass, which is about thirty miles in length, is much more formidable than the Bolan, in which there are no precipices. In the Kyber, one whole day's march consists of them, and the pass might be disputed by a hundred men, and why it was not so I do not understand. We must put it down to the Company's Ukbat, which has done much for us. No arrangement had been made with the Khyberites; on the contrary they had been driven, unintentionally no doubt, but still the fact was so. These people have from time immemorial been paid for their torments. The Europeans in former times did so, and every power since. They offered for one Lac and five thousand Rs. a year, not only to keep the Pass open for our troops, stores, &c., but for all commercial purposes, to make it a free and secure road, and to be answerable for all losses. Now, to understand the value of this offer, you should know that the merchants from Jellalabad and its vicinity are obliged to go round via Cabul, Candahar, Shikarpore, and Uburpore, to our provinces from dread of this very Pass. When Col. Wade passed through, he promised to make arrangements with these chiefs, on his return, as he was then pushed for time. When he returned, the chiefs were warned to meet him at Ally Musjid; but they were warned so late that it was impossible for them to arrive in time, and Colonel Wade would not wait a day for them but pushed on, leaving Lieutenant Mackeson to settle with them, and he was at Nimrod. The chiefs thought they had been betrayed, and immediately planned an attack on Ally Musjid and a Sikh post near it. The former was bravely defended by Captain Ferris with his company, but the latter was carried with the slaughter of three hundred Sikhs, and the loss of all their arms, baggage and every thing else.

Captain Ferris' company being very much weakened by sickness, &c., the two companies of the 27th, under Lieutenant Lang, were left to reinforce; but as they had no supplies it became necessary to send some from this; accordingly a party, consisting of two six-pounders, a squadron of the 3d Cavalry, two companies of N. I., and some supplies and mulemen, marched under command of Captain Farmer, 21st N. I., in charge of supplies. The guns and cavalry were left at Nimrod, the rest went on, and the grain, &c., were deposited at Ally Musjid, to which place Lt. Mackeson had accompanied the party from Nimrod, taking with him a large body of Sikh Troops, 7 or 8 hundred. In the afternoon of the 12th they left Ally Musjid to return, and there had been some skirmishing in the morning, in consequence of attempts to carry off the camels; but here the Khyberites were driven off. There are two roads from Ally Musjid to this, one rather open, but round about—the one we came—the other more direct, but over precipitous mountains; by this latter the party returned, and the Khyberites taking advantage of the difficulties, commenced an attack, which ended in the rout and flight of our party, leaving upwards of three hundred camels and lots of baggage in their hands. Several officers have lost every thing but the clothes on their backs. Among others, Lieutenant Mackeson, who, I understand, had eight thousand rupees of cash in his boxes—of course, I conclude, belonging to Government. It is difficult to get at the truth on these occasions. In a scene of confusion like this, perhaps none could give a precise account of it. As far as I understand, the men started from Ally Musjid with thirty rounds of ammunition each, which was all expended in a desultory kind of fire before they got half way; when the enemy discovered this, they became bolder, and the party of Sikhs seized with a panic, rushed through our ranks, throwing every thing into confusion, and carrying all before them; from that moment it was mauve qui perit. About four or five men have been killed, and ten or fifteen wounded. I believe that is the amount of loss in human flesh, but the camels are all gone, and how we can't name. We are camel-bound; besides which these rogues have found out the trick, and will attack all passengers with double courage. It is a most unfortunate affair, but the 37th and 48th are on their way from Jellalabad, and will, I hope, be able to put matters to rights. Besides this petty affair, it appears that Mr. MacNaghten has taken alarm at news of 50 regiments, comprising 30,000 Russians, being at Khiva, and halted the Bombay troops.

KUNDAH.—The column of the Army of the Indus, under Sir John Keane, changed ground on the morning of the 21st ultimo, but halted at Kundah, two miles and a half from Peshawar, until intelligence could be received of the operations of the detachment that had been sent on to Ally Musjid. On the 21st ultimo, authentic news came in that the detached party, which consisted of 60 Europeans and 2 companies of the 37th Regt., had fallen in with the Khyberites, 1,200 in number, at a pass about a mile and a half on the Peshawar side of the fort. A conflict here took place, which ended in the Khyberites being beaten off with severe loss. Captain Prole, of the 37th Regt., N. I., and Lieut. McMullen of the European Regt., were both wounded in the thigh by balls, the latter severely. No European soldiers were touched, but nine sepoy were wounded. The Khyberites it is said, were quite electrified by the steadiness and sharpness of the fire of the British troops. A battalion of Sheiks, who were coming up in the rear, are reported to have quietly halted and remained passive spectators of what was going on!

A few camels, mules and bullocks, had been picked up by the ever-active Bengal commissariat, but they were only sufficient to carry on two or three days' supplies. Nevertheless, a fresh start was to be made on the 23d ultimo, and it was expected that other carriage would be procurable on the road. Not less than 2,100 camels had been lost by death or capture since the Army left Cabul.

Colonel Wheeler, with the 48th N. I., and the remainder of the 37th N. I. was moving by a different route from that taken by Sir J. Keane for the purpose of paying his respects to the most formidable of the Khyberie chiefs and settling accounts with him for the recent affaires.

The following interesting information of Col. Wheeler's affair, is extracted from a letter dated Camp, at the mouth of the Kyber, 23rd Nov 1839—I believe you have heard of the march of the Native Brigade under Col. H. M. Wheeler, towards Kyber; if so, some of your readers will no doubt be anxious to hear something further of them. On the 13th instant, while in Camp at "Ali Baghan," one march from Jalallabad, an express was received from Lieut. Mackeson P. A., requesting our services at "Choura," one of the principle Khyber villages, to which Mr. MacNaghten assented. We accordingly made another march to "Chahardel," and then struck off the King's road South. After making two marches with much difficulty, owing to there being no roads for the guns, we were again requested to move on to "Ali Musjid" with all speed. On the 19th our breakfast baggage and Camp colormen, with a suitable guard, preceded the column by two hours as usual. They had not left Camp long, when they were attacked by a body of from 3 to 400 Kyberies, who came down shouting in a most terrific manner, hoping to frighten away the guard. The men, however, stood their ground and prepared for the attack. Little time elapsed before volley after volley was poured in upon them; but the sepoys returned the fire and kept it up with a spirit which did them the greatest credit, and when they found their ammunition fast going, they charged the Kyberies, and drove them up the valley at the point of the bayonet. The Quarter-Master Sergeants of the corps were fortunately present. I say fortunately, not with the view of taking credit from the sepoys, but it gave them a confidence which they otherwise would not have had. In the conflict we had four men killed (three of them sepoys of the 37th Regiment Native Infantry, and the fourth a kulahee of Col. Wheeler's) and eight wounded. One of the 37th's sepoys was hit on his breast plate, which was completely smashed. The number killed and wounded of the opposite party, was not known, for as soon as ever a man was knocked over, he was immediately carried off the field, a practice the "Army of the Indus" have all been eye-witnesses to. The European Sergeants spoke of the sepoys' conduct as being beyond all praise, and a young lad of the 37th, who led several of the charges and saved the life of the Quarter Master Sergeant of the 48th Regiment, was called out to front of the lie, on the arrival of the column at "Lunle Khana," and promoted to the rank of Naik. One Kyberie only was found by us on our arrival at the place. The hills round were covered with men, and every officer of the detachment had an opportunity of witnessing the crowds of savage barbarians, which our small but gallant little party, had put to flight. One poor fellow was cut to pieces, and I never saw so frightful a spectacle.

On the 20th, the detachment marched to "Ali Musjid," where they arrived late in the day, and the Rear Guard, not up till 7 P. M. A part of the Commissariat was left behind and came in on the following morning safe. On the march, when not far from the Fort of "Ali Musjid," the advance guard was fired on by party of Kyberies, but these were soon dislodged and driven up the hill faster than they came down a great deal. On reaching "Ali Musjid," the whole of the hill, South and S. E. of the Fort, we observed to be covered with Kyberies and firing over at the Seik Camp, as fast as they could load. This was far beyond our expectations. The sepoys came laughing and jumping along, notwithstanding their long march, as if they had had a lack of rupees given to share amongst them, quite delighted at the prospect of having a brush with the gentlemen. We found at "Ali Musjid" a detachment of the European Regiment, Sappers and Miners, and native details for the new 9th Companies, who had arrived the previous day and had to fight their way to the Fort. I was not present and shall therefore leave them to their own story. Suffice it to say, I found Captain Prole, of the 37th, and Lieutenant Macmullen, of the European Regiment, lying wounded, both having been shot up near the hip, and Lieutenant Van-Homrigh of the 48th, had a narrow escape, by a ball hitting the sole of his shoe, which luckily was a good thick one. The men of the European Regiment came a short distance (for they could not leave Camp bounds without running a chance of losing their lives,) to meet their old friends the volunteers, and such was the greeting and rejoicings as took place between the natives and the Europeans, that really had I not been an eye-witness to it, I should not have believed it possible. Each party asking after his particular friend, and the Europeans giving in their broken Hindoostani and English, an account of the preceding day's skirmish, surpassed any thing of the kind I ever heard of. At a late hour one of the Chiefs came into camp, in compliance with Lieut. Mackeson's request, and remained with him till morning, when he went back to talk over matters with his subjects. He returned about 10 A. M., when he had two hours given him to choose a treaty or a thrashing. After much useless talk, he chose the former of course, and got a thousand rupees (£s. 1,000) hard cash, to ratify the treaty. We were accordingly ordered to march in the morning. Europeans leading—sappers—gun 48th—treasure—37th—gun Native details under Captain Farmer of the 21st—baggage in the rear. The hills were crowded with spectators as we supposed them; however, the column had no sooner passed by the Kyberies' favorite place of attack, than they came down amongst the baggage and commenced cutting and hacking at every thing they came across. On the alarm being given, our Light Companies' Europeans and Sappers, rushed up to the point of attack and commenced a heavy fire. Such a scene of confusion as ensued I shall not forget in a hurry. Our gallant little Colonel, in the anxiety of the moment, went up with his Light Company, and left no orders for the column. Every man was asking for orders, and no one would take upon himself to give any, and baggage, sick, mules, horses, cows, and every thing, crowding up and crushing in upon the column. This state of things continued for a time, when the column moved on. The attack commenced about $\frac{1}{2}$ past 8 A. M., and lasted till past 11 A. M., during which time it was as sharp a business as a man could wish for. The firing was brisk on both sides, and during the affray our sepoys occasionally had their bayonets crossed with the Kyberies' swords and large knives. One young lad of the 37th, shot a Chief, who was on horseback, and on running up to take his arms, found him with his sword drawn, ready to receive him. The lad rushed on, took the Chief on his bayonet, whipped (I mean whip'd) the sword out of the Chief's hand, and took his head off with it. The sword is now in the lad's possession, and is a splendid one. The boy is very proud of it. Lieut. Collinson commanded the rear guard, and had he not been an active and smart officer, and well up to his work, he would very probably have been beaten back, owing to the companies that were sent up to crown the heights having been withdrawn long before the Lieutenant's guard reached them. He was, however, ably supported by Lieut. Hasell, the Adjutant of the 48th, and these two officers worked their way to Camp in a very creditable manner. The loss (I am not quite certain) was: European Detachment.—1 Sergeant and 1 Private killed.

37th Regiment—3 Sepoys killed, 6 or 7 very severely wounded

48th.—1 Sepoy killed, 8 very severely wounded; in all, some 24 killed and wounded; besides Camp followers, camels, cows, bullocks, horses, &c. &c. Some 7 or 8 officers lost every thing they had to their name. Pray, will Government remunerate them for this loss or not? The sepoy's conduct on this occasion was beyond all praise. I had an opportunity of judging of the volunteers who are as brave a little band as ever handled muskets.

The Khyburees appear to have come to terms at last; they are to receive 80,000 rupees, and to return all the property they plundered to the camp.

BAMEEAN.—The following is an extract of a letter from a correspondent dated Bamian, Nov. 13th:—About 9 or 10 days since, we received intelligence, at first by bazaar rumours and afterwards in a more authentic form, that a party of horsemen had come down from Kooloom, and taken up a position before Syghan, which place, it was said, they were besieging. Mahomed Ali Ben, an Uzbek, is the Governor of Syghan. His son came in here to ask for assistance, and from him and some of our scouts we learnt that the Tartar horsemen were headed by the son of the Wallee of Kooloom. Their number varied (according to the different reports) from 200 to as many thousands, but our best information fixed them at 370 fighting men. Lord, our political agent, sent a message to warn them off, and gave them until sunset of the 31st, to consider and to make their arrangements for departure. And he further told the chief, that should he continue at Syghan after the period allowed, he must stand the consequences. The Tartar, however, did not show any signs of complying with this order, and Lord determined on putting his threat into execution. On the 31st arrangements were made for surprising these Tartars in their camp, by one of those sudden forays or chupaos for which they themselves are said to be so famous. The troops told off for this, with us unusual, service, were 65 noncommissioned officers and troopers Horse Artillery (as Cavalry), 180 sepoy, &c. of the Goorkah Corps, 90 sowars of Christie's horse, 56 Afghan horse belonging to the Mission, 100 Afghan horse under the Hakim of Bameean.

A party was sent out to Abrobat, early on the morning of the 31st, to prevent any communication between Bameean and Syghan, and at 6 p. m. the detachment left Bameean, the Infantry mounted on tatools for the march. Distance is about 34 miles, and the country most villainous. The road leads over two steep and difficult passes, one of which is that of Abrobat, and in general passes along the edge of hills enclosing narrow and rocky valleys. It was expected, that our party would have reached Syghan at about 5 in the morning, allowing time for some rest at Abrobat, but the mounted Infantry did not get on very well and the Cavalry were delayed much in consequence. It was near 8 o'clock when the foremost came in sight of Syghan, which is a Mud Fort situated on the summit of a lofty and insulated mound. The besieged, as soon as we made our appearance, set up a shout of joy, and this alone would have been sufficient to warn the Tartar horse; but they must have heard of our approach some short time previous, as when we first saw their camp, they were already dispersing in all directions,—some flying to the hills and others along the valley: The Horse Artillery troopers and Afghan horse charged after the runaways in the valley, while the Goorkahs ascended the hills. The Tartars were easily overtaken by the Cavalry, but they made no resistance whatever, and as the Chief had made his escape, we soon discontinued our chase. Some few were shot in the hills, and some were taken, but afterwards released. A small party of the fugitives sought refuge in a fort, and from it fired on a party of our men and wounded a couple of horses, but on being summoned, the chief of the party, holding the fort Khilich Ali Beg (of Heibuk I believe) agreed to come into Lord in two days, and on the strength of this promise, he was allowed to remain undisturbed. However, he has not kept his promise, and the Uzbeks are still in the Fort—the consequence is, that a second expedition to Lyghan is talked of, and this time we shall be obliged to take Ordnance—and now the folly and uselessness of posting a troop of H. A. in such a place as this, becomes apparent.

Our list of killed and wounded is but a short one. A Jemadar of Afghan horse wounded, and two Artillery horses wounded (one since dead.) The Tartars lost about 4 or 5 killed and perhaps as many wounded. The party returned to Bamian on the morning of the 2nd.

Lieutenant Eldred Pottinger and Dr. Ritchie, arrived from Herat on the 31st: they came a very circuitous route by Mennuua.

Mr. Campbell passed through about a week ago; he is to have employment in the Shah's service. Many of the Dost's soldiers have also come in; what the Chief himself intends to do still remains uncertain. Some of our latest accounts say, that he is preparing for a trip to Persia.

BOMBAY.

The duties at Aden are represented as pressing very heavily on all ranks. Some of the officers are on constant duty. The Native Regiment has not one disposable, and the Adjutant takes his tour of picket. Captain Iapp, of the 1st European Regt., who was a passenger by the Zenobia, having volunteered his services, has been detained at Aden to do duty with the head quarters of his regiment. Col. Capon has forwarded a representation to the Government of Bombay, stating that a reinforcement of 500 Infantry and 100 Artillery is indispensably necessary to the safe keeping of the fortress. He has also recommended that a few additional guns and a small body of horse be sent, in the event of its being necessary to resort to offensive measures.

PIRATES IN THE PERSIAN GULF.—Reports are current, throughout the bazar, that pirates are beginning to carry on their depredation in the Persian Gulf.

OPIMUM.—Government has advertised 18,992 chests of opium for sale by auction, at any price above the upset price of 400 rupees the chest.

TROOPS FOR ADEN.—In consequence of the news from Aden, the vessel lately taken up by the Government for that place, has been sent off with troops to strengthen the garrison, and an ample supply of ordnance stores. It is rumoured that the attack was instigated by Mohammed Ali, and that a certain sum in dollars was agreed to be paid by him for every man that fell.

A SEIZURE.—A large seizure of shawls was lately made at Bhutnee near Hanis, on their way to Bombay, viz: twenty nine bundles, value rupees 1,75,000. The party in charge was endeavouring to evade the duties at the frontier check.

BURMAH.

ARRAKAN.—Accounts from Khrook Phyo of the 19th ultimo mention, that the 65th is almost totally inefficient from the ravages of sickness. Nearly three hundred men are on the sick list, and scarcely so much as a single company can be assembled for drill.

MAULMEIN.—It is stated, that troops, to the number of above six hundred, have lately come down to Rangoon, for the purpose, it is said, of relieving those who have been some time stationed there, and that a small force of about two hundred and fifty men, under the command of a son of the Governor of Bileng, an individual well known here, is coming to take up its quarters at Martaban. The reason assigned for the approach of his force in this direction, is the inquiet state of Zimmay; but it can scarcely be believed that Martaban would be chosen as a place of rendezvous for troops having such an object in view.

It is further stated, that an English merchant at Rangoon, who has for some time been on good terms with the Burmese Court, has lately gone up to the Capital with 2,000 stands of arms, and that he has consequently received fresh testimonials of regard from his Majesty.

A cidant officers of the Talieng corps, whose name is Nagamoo, having conceived a desire to distinguish himself as a military leader, for some time past, has been engaged in persuading others to join him in the formation of an independent military corps, of which he was to have the command, and which, as it is said, he was to lead against the Burmese. With a view to secure the fidelity of his followers, he administered to them an oath, according to the form used by the Burmese in that ceremony. Unfortunately for his further progress in the path which he had chalked out, his plan exploded too soon, and he was summoned to appear before the civil authorities. He was convicted of unlawful practices, and very properly put into confinement. It seems to be possessed with a notion that his merits have not been duly appreciated. He was dismissed from the Talieng Corps some time since for disrespectful language and conduct towards his superior officers.

The following is an extract of a letter dated Kyauk Phyo, Arrakan, 11th Dec. 1839:—"There is little news here. The accounts from Ava are still uncommonly pacific, and, considering the state to which the troops in this province are reduced, it is perhaps as well that they are so. The 65th Regt N. I has, through sickness and death, become utterly inefficient. Since its arrival at Kyauk Phyo, it has lost by death 74 men, it has sent away on sick certificate to Hindoustan 66, and it has at this moment two hundred and fifty-nine in hospital, and the sickness increasing. These men, I should say, are in the hospital and in tents, the hospital cannot accommodate half the number of patients. It is most sad to see these poor brave fellows suffering in this manner. If the province must be retained, why not try the effects of its climate on the Malraa troop, with whom it is supposed, it would agree comparatively well. There is but one effective medical officer at this station."

CEYLON.

MR. JUSTICE JEREMY.—Mr. Justice Jeremy is about to leave Ceylon for England, and will take the Egyptian route.

TRIAL FOR LIBEL.—The Editor of the Ceylon Herald, was tried on the 4th instant for libelling the Governor of the Island, and acquitted.

PAUMBAN WORKS.—The Paumban works which have been so successfully commenced and continued, are at a stand-still, as the season is over, but they will be resumed again at the usual period. The progress which has already been made in clearing the channel is at once astonishing and highly satisfactory, taking into consideration the anticipated difficulties of the undertaking. There is now but little detention at Paumban, nearly all the dhonies sail through when the wind is fair, and vessels of considerable burden have past through, without taking out any part of their cargo, or even dropping an anchor.

PENANG.

PIRATES.—It is said, that pirates are fast congregating in the neighbourhood of Penang, to commence their annual depredations.

RESTORATION OF THE EX RAJAH OF QUEDA.—Tuanku Daer, the youngest son of the ex-Rajah of Queda, who lately arrived at Penang from Malacca, in consequence of a special invitation from the Siamese authorities, conveyed to him through his relatives, Tuanku Anom and Tuanku Hassan, who are now administering the affairs of Queda, jointly with a Siamese chief, has proceeded to that country for the purpose of arranging measures preparatory to the restoration of his father to the throne of his ancestors.

MALACCA.

CAPTURE OF PIRATES.—On the 20th of November, two Malacca gun boats took into Malacca seven pirate prahus of small dimensions, and a Malay man severely wounded with grape shot, one of which was extracted from his side the same evening by the Medical officer in attendance. The report of a fleet of prahus, supposed to be pirates, having passed within the limits of the harbour on the 18th instant, being received at the Police office on the following day, the local authorities deemed it advisable to dispatch the gun-boats in pursuit of them. The gun boats on leaving Malacca, steered, in the first instance, for Palo Arang Arang, from thence towards Lockoot, at which places they saw nothing suspicious, and ultimately to Blankan, where they perceived a number of boats drawn up on shore. They examined them, and found they were provided with regular passes from Singapore, but having no cargoes on board. The Rajah of the place, who is a relative of his Majesty of Salengore, gave information of their being pirates, and of their having captured one or two boats belonging to his people. Upon receiving this information, the Nacolahs of the gun-boats sent for the head Panglimah of the prahus, whose name was Lagew, to inquire into the truth of the report. He, however, refused to come. The Nacolahs of the gun-boats having threatened to deprive them all of their arms, this Lagew sent to say, that if they wanted his arms, to come to the Straits of Limboju and take them if they could. In the mean time, two other Panglimahs, who were recognized by a part of the crews of the gun boats, made their escape in small sampans, they being closer in shore. At this stage, one boat, with seven men in her, all armed to the teeth with spears, run-kels, crescents, &c., appeared anxious to board one of the gun boats, when Rajah Hussein advised the gun boats not to let her approach, as they would most assuredly board her, and run a muck amongst the crew. The Nacolahs, on hearing this, warned her off; but she still continuing to approach, they discharged a few volleys at her of grape and small shot, which she returned with blunderbuss and musketry; but the affair being rather too hot for them, they all jumped overboard and escaped into the jungle. The Rajah thus discovered the man mentioned above concealed in the mangrove jungle, and delivered him up to the Government boats, promising, should he discover any more of the crews of the pirate prahus, to forward them to Malacca. The gun-boats, on coming away brought the seven deserted boats along with them.

The captured man, who is not expected to live, states, that six years ago, his mother and himself were captured at Paukalang in Java, by the son of one Panglimah Itogah while engaged in the pursuit of selling serees in a sampan. His mother was sold at Pahang for seventeen dollars, the prisoner himself was taken to Galang at which place the Panglimah resides and kept until the beginning of the present moon, when he was again taken by the Panglimah's son into his prahu, intending to proceed to Penang for beche de mer. They touched at Singapore for passes, and sailed from thence to the Northward. Six days after their arrival at Quallon Blankan, the gun-boats came there, and the crews examined all their prahus, but remained quiet. They returned on the 18th of November and demanded their passes again. Upon refusal they fired into the prahus, and all their crews ran away except this poor fellow, who was too severely wounded to escape.

SIAM.

Advice from Bangkok to the 17th of November state, that the market was abundantly supplied with British piece goods; but the demand continued limited, and there was much shyness in making purchases. The opium question was not yet finally settled, but an increased demand was looked for during the cold season, which was then fast approaching. With the exception of stirce and rice, produce was very scarce. There was a plentiful supply of good quality of the former in the market at 16 a 9 ticals per picul, and the latter is quoted at about 25 a 27 ½ ticals per coyan of 25 piculs. No sugar in the market, and the past season's crop nearly exhausted.

CHINA.

China news to the 25th of November is in town. We understand that there has been some more fighting between the Chinese and English, and that Opium was still selling at the enormous price of 900 dollars per chest, without any difficulty whatever being experienced in obtaining buyers.

THE ATTACK ON THE BLACK JOKES.—The High Commissioner Lin, it is said, has bestowed a reward of two thousand taels on the villains who murdered the crew of the Black Joke and wounded Mr. Moss, thereby at once proving that the atrocity was not committed by Ladronees, as had been supposed.

RE-OPENING OF THE TRADE.—On the 15th of Oct. Captain Elliot, accompanied by Capt. Smith, of the Volage frigate, Capt. Warren, and the gentlemen of the superintendent's establishment, landed at Macao, in order to make arrangements for a temporary re-opening of the trade. On the day before leaving Hongkong, Capt. Elliot issued a public notice that he had accepted conditions from H. E. the commissioner, involving the re-opening of the trade, without the necessity of British subjects signing the bond consenting to capital punishment.

THE ENGAGEMENT.—The Volage and Hyacinth left Macao roads on the 28th October, and proceeded to the Bugue. Strong northerly winds delayed their arrival there until the 2d Nov., when Capt. Smith sent a despatch to the Commissioner at Chumpee, the purport of which was a demand that the Commissioner should withdraw his often repeated threats of burning and destroying the English merchant fleet now at Hongkong, and allow them to remain there unmolested until the orders of the home government had been received, or until other arrangements for the discharge of their cargoes had been made; that if these threats were not withdrawn, he, Capt. Smith, would be obliged, in defence of the lives and property of his countrymen, which it was his duty to protect, to take effectual measures for their safety. This chop having been delivered, the Chinese requested the ships of war to remove some distance farther away from the Bugue, and Captain Smith complied with their wish and dropped down about three miles, waiting for the reply. On the following morning the despatch was returned, and without an answer, and twenty-nine war-junks were seen coming down upon the two ships, when Captain Smith sent again a letter to the Chinese Admiral, warning him not to come too near, as he would be obliged to fire on him in self-defence. To this the Admiral returned an answer, that he should proceed as he thought proper, and again demanded the immediate surrender of the murderer of Lin Weihe. Upon this the junks coming very near with a fair wind and tide, the Volage fired a shot across the bows of the Admiral's ship, which was immediately answered with four from the Chinese. An action was now inevitable, and in less than an hour's time, between twelve and one o'clock, the whole of the twenty-nine junks were disabled—three had been sunk, one was blown up, several others drifted on shore in a sinking state, and of many the whole crews had jumped overboard to save themselves by swimming, leaving their vessels at the mercy of wind and tide. The junk in which the Admiral was, had been so roughly handled, that that officer, who is represented to have displayed considerable personal courage, left her when sinking, for another junk, some say badly wounded. The Chinese, though they displayed courage, seem to be very bad gunners, few of their shot having told, and having only done some slight damage to the rigging of the Hyacinth. The English had only one man very slightly wounded, and though the loss of the Chinese is not known to a certainty, it cannot have fallen short of between four or five hundred men. Six hours after this engagement, the frigates anchored in Macao roads, and Captain, Elliot and Smith and Mr. Morrison, went on shore; immediately after which the event was made known to the English residents at Macao, about forty or fifty in number, with a recommendation to embark immediately, there being some probability that the Chinese, in revenge for the defeat, might secure their persons. All the English, with a few exceptions, accordingly left Macao early the following morning, for Hongkong, whither the Volage also proceeded, leaving the Hyacinth in the roads, whence she sailed for Hongkong on the 7th November.

It is difficult to understand what can have led the Chinese to the attack on these two English ships of war, except it be a total misconception or ignorance of their strength, and that they relied for success on their great superiority of numbers. It is possible that in the report sent to the Commissioner of the little affair at Kowloon, in which the Queen's cutter and the small schooner Pearl were engaged against three junks and the fort, and which was undecisive either way, the small English vessels having only a few rounds of powder and shot, that their strength has been much overrated by the mandarins, whose interest it was to report the affair as much more formidable than it was; it is even said that the report to the Yumchae said, that the three junks and fort had been engaged the whole afternoon with the two English tri-gates, which they succeeded at length in driving away as night came on. The officer in command of Kowloon, has in consequence, it is said, been rewarded with a higher rank. It is also rumoured, that the Admiral gave to the Commissioner a very false estimate of the strength of British ships for war; he is said to have reported that, though it was true that the English had large and very good guns, and that though in point of sailing the English had the advantage over the Chinese, yet, that their crews were lazy and good for nothing, lying on deck the whole day, either sleeping or smoking; and that it would be an easy thing for two Chinese junks to take one English ship; the junks had only to go alongside, then board the ship immediately, cut down her masts, make the crew prisoners—who would only be too glad to beg for their lives—and then destroy the ship.

Upon such accounts and surmises the Commissioner is said to have proceeded in ordering the attack on the Volage and Hyacinth and to be quite certain of success, sent the great number of junks mentioned, some of which mounted as many as sixteen guns, and none less than eight; their crews may have numbered between 100 and 200 men each. It was evidently their intention to have surrounded the two ships, and to have driven fire ships against them, whilst they were at anchor, some of the junks, it is said, being filled with combustibles for that purpose.

An American ship, the Maresa, passed through the Bogue during the engagement, and was spectator of the fight; her passenger represent, the destruction of the Chinese flotilla as complete. The firing had brought forth immense numbers of the inhabitants to the sea-shore, and the battlements of the Bogue forts were filled with spectators. The engagement took place just opposite the small fort at the southernmost point of Anson's bay. It was expected that the English ships would have destroyed the junks collected at the fort there, but nothing was done, and on the contrary, Captain Smith sent notice to the commanders of merchant ships, that the Volage and Hyacinth were about to proceed to Tungkoo bay, whither they were invited to follow if they wished to avail themselves of the protection of the men-of-war.

A PARTY OF GENTLEMEN ATTACKED.—A party of five gentlemen went on shore, to walk, but were attacked by a number of armed Chinese, who attempted to make them prisoners. The gentlemen fortunately succeeded in reaching their boat, not however without a hard struggle, and one of them received a severe cut with a spear on the head.

REMOVAL OF THE BRITISH FLEET.—Several batteries had been erected on shore at Hongkong, by the Chinese near enough for the guns to reach the shipping, and whence several shot had been fired on the ships, and returned by them, without, however, doing any damage. On the 12th the Chinese again opened the batteries on the shipping. The firing began at about half an hour after midnight and was kept up without intermission until about 3 o'clock in the morning, when it ceased, but recommenced at about four and was kept up until daylight, without, however, doing the slightest damage, not a single ball having hit any of the ships, though some of the shot were heard to pass over the vessels nearest the land. Had their fire been well directed they might have done much mischief, it being perfectly calm at the time, and the ships consequently unable to move out of the range of the guns. At daylight soldiers were seen on the shore, removing in great haste, and the guns seemed also to have been removed, nothing but the hastily thrown up breast-works remaining. No attempt was made from the shipping though the Hyacinth was at Hongkong, to land and destroy the forts and batteries, and the fleet remained at anchor all that day, and the next night the weather continuing calm; but on the 14th the greatest part set sail for Tungkoo bay, and were on the next day followed by the remainder, where they all anchored. Hongkong is described by the Captains of the merchant fleet as a much better anchorage, and a representation to allow the fleet to remain there, signed by thirty five masters of ships, was addressed to Capt. Smith, and also to Capt. Elliot, but without effect; several merchants did the same with a like result. The objection to the anchorage at Tungkoo bay, arises from the strong tides which prevail there, which render all communication between the shipping extremely difficult, and from its open situation, which may render an attempt on the Chinese of firing the fleet, more successful at Hongkong.

A letter of the 16th of November says:—"We lead a rum life of it here. Since my last, which was on the 19th ultimo, I have been at Macao, for a fortnight, afterwards at Hongkong, and have at last brought up here, where I shall probably now remain for some time, having a good deal to do in the way of transhipping. Soon after writing my last, I received a letter from —, telling me that every thing was settled, and recommending me to join him at Macao immediately, which I accordingly did; and certainly, on my arrival, things looked in a very promising state. A day or two afterwards, however, I was undeceived, for the Commissioner then thought proper to break through all his agreements, and we were just as far advanced as ever, our servants being again taken away, and our provisions stopped. Under this state of things, Captain Elliott thought proper to move up to the Bogue, with the two ships of war, and when there, Captain Smith sent a chop to the Chinese Admiral, informing him that he had been sent on by his Government, to protect the lives and property of British subjects, and that both of these having been menaced by him, he had come to inquire into the matter. This chop was returned to him the following day, and a fleet of twenty nine war junks moved down towards where the frigates were anchored. Captain Smith warned them to keep off, and on their refusing to do so, the Volage and Hyacinth got under weigh, and as you may imagine, very soon settled the business. Three junks sunk, one blew up, and the remainder were desperately crippled. It is supposed that about four hundred Chinamen were killed, but not a man was even severely hurt in either of our ships. As soon as they had given them what they considered sufficient, they made all sail for Macao, to embark the few English that were there, fearing the Chinese might seize upon them; and almost all left, with a few exceptions, who were obliged to keep quiet in their homes for a few days. The Chinese, however, claim the victory as usual, and say the foreign ships ran away, which is very natural. Why did they not allow one vessel to remain at Chumpee, they surely did not require two to take the news to Macao. During the absence of the ships of war, the Chinese had been busy, erecting forts along the shore in Hongkong Bay, to annoy the shipping with; but on the return of the Volage, Captain Smith declared that he could do nothing, and that we must all move to this anchorage. I should like to know what Captain Smith means. He considers himself justified in sending about 200 unfortunate wretches to kingdom come, because they threaten to fire upon and burn the fleet; but when they do fire then he can do nothing! Incomprehensible! The Chinese will, of course, say that they have driven the whole fleet of some sixty or seventy ships out of Hongkong, and does Captain Elliott think that they will leave us in peace here? Not a bit of it; before we are a week older, we shall have them firing upon us here. I am heartily sick of the state of things, and only wish I could have gone on in the Shaw Allum to pay you a visit; but this is impossible at present.

"The Sunda, from England, with a cargo valued at £100,000, is lost on Huinan, and the whole of the crew and passengers in the hands of the Chinese. The Psycho has been sent down to look after them. One of the Opium coasters is also missing, and said to have been cut off."

Another letter of the 24th November, from Tong-koo Anchorage, says, "We have just received letters of the 22d from Canton, representing everything as going on there very quietly, and all alarm of interruption to the transshipping trade as having subsided. The market for imports generally was dull, and cotton had fallen about five mace."

Freight from this to Whampoa is still maintained at very high rate, Sp. Drs. 5 to 6 per bale of cotton, and as a natural consequence numerous English ships have lately changed owners (really or nominally) and hoisted foreign colors. Of these we hand you a list at foot, and we may mention that very high prices are said to have been paid for the two last on the list, viz., £12,000 for the "Sir C. Malcolm" and £16,000 for the "Vansittart."

It is said that the Commissioner is about to make fresh overtures to the British Merchants for the renewal of the trade within the Bogue, and that he has declared that he will not hold them in any way responsible for the acts of Captains South and Elliott at Chumpee. That he does not expect to succeed, is, however, pretty evident, from the fact of his having given his written sanction to the system of English vessels entering the port under foreign colors.

We understand that some very serious collisions between the Opium Clippers and the Mandarins have lately taken place on the East Coast, in which the latter have been worsted with rather heavy losses. These reports, it being very certain that they reach the ears of the Commissioner, are of themselves sufficient to prevent ships from going within the Bogue under English colors, but an additional difficulty now presents itself to such a course, from Capt. Smith of the "Volage" having agreed to Captain Elliott's request, declared his intention of preventing their entrance by force.

The Thomas Conitt remains unmolested at Whampoa, having discharged her inward cargo.

Some of the finest new teas have been bought at rates about one tael higher than last season, say 30 to 31 taels. Very few crops, however, will be taken at these rates, and some time will elapse before the holders will accept proportionate prices for their second qualities, especially as a new Consol duty of two taels per picul is to be imposed on all teas shipped after the 26th instant.

The Alexander Baring, John O'Gaunt, and Cordelia, will all be dispatched in about a fortnight, they being the only ships now ready to receive teas.

Nothing doing in raw silk, nor can we hear of any operations in Exchange.

There are still upwards of 75,000 bales of cotton in the fleet, all Bombay, except the cargoes of the General Kyd, and Abraham Robinson, and about half of the quantity brought by the Atist Rohman.

BY THE PRESIDENT IN COUNCIL.

PORT WILLIAM, GENERAL DEPARTMENT, DECEMBER 26.—The following letter from Captain C. R. Drinkwater, R.N., of Her Majesty's ship Conway, to the address of His Excellency Rear Admiral F. L. Maitland, R.N., upon the subject of a danger which he has recently discovered in Bass's Straits, and the doubtful position of the south west Cape of Van Dieman's Land as laid down in the charts, is published for general information:

His Excellency Rear Admiral.

Sir F. L. Maitland, K. C. B.,

&c &c &c.

Sir,—I have the honor to report to your Excellency, that passing between King's island and Reid's rocks in Bass's Strait, I perceived a danger, the position of which is different from that described as Bell's rock in the Australia Directory, vol. 1, page 112.

The following observations were made—21st April, 1838, wind strong from N. W. heavy swell; ran between King's island and Reid's rocks, steering S. W. by S. (S. 43deg W.) passed the Centre rock at a distance of 3 or 4 miles, they appeared correctly placed with reference to King's island.

Black Pyramid in one Centre rock (S. 30deg E.)

At the Centre rock of Reid's E. S. S. (S. 61deg E.) 4 miles by estimation.

Steered south (S. 9deg W.) in 5 minutes perceived from the masthead a heavy breaker, right ahead, estimated at 6 miles distance, hauled up S. W. (S. 54deg W.) 2 miles then S. S. W. (S. 31deg W.) and south (S. 9deg W.) the distances on these two last courses not accurately noted, rate from 7 to 8 knots per hour.

(1) 4h 27m breaker and black pyramid in one E. 11deg S.

(S. 71deg E.)

(2) 4h 13m pyramid E. 2deg S. 1 breaker and pyramid

(S. 79deg E.)

4h 56m N. 52deg E. 30deg 15m
(3) 57m S. 54deg 61deg 6m
58m S. 59deg 64deg 20m

4h 07m N. 81deg E. 63deg 15,

S. 87deg E.

Course Steered S. S. E. (S. 15deg E.) for 10 Minutes, Rate
South (S. 9deg W.) 20 .. p hour

The bearings from 1, 2, 3, (see sketch) give the relative position of the Pyramid and Breaker P and B and the bearing of the Pyramid from Reid, the bearing and distance of Reid from the ship and the bearing of Breaker from ship right ahead) give the position of the ship and Reid S and N.

The result is
From the Reid's Centre rock bears (N. 32deg E.) N. N. E. 10m
Breaker & Pyramid (S. 73deg E.) E. S. 13m

Now from (2) when anxious to get an angle to Reid's rock, it was just visible from a point 35 feet above water, and on passing it we judged it from 20 to 30 feet high, therefore at (2) we were about but less than 12 miles from Reid; the sketch gives 11deg 8m

Assuming Reid's Rock in 40deg 15m S. S., it places the Pyramid in 4deg 27m Ss, nearly 5 miles North of its position on the chart, thus agreeing with a remark made by Captain King, who thought it probable the Pyramid was placed too far South by 4 miles.

The distance from S. to B. agrees with the run of about 8 knots per hour, but cannot be reconciled with the estimated distance when first seen, of 6 miles;—this however, having been judged from the masthead, cannot be much relied on.

The position of Bell's rock being 4 or 5 miles more to the eastward, I feel inclined to consider this a new danger; at any rate great caution is necessary in taken the passage between Reid's rocks and the Pyramid.

The state of the weather precluded more accurate observations, I consider the probable limit of error in the position to be half a point in the bearings, and one mile in the distances.

I have also found reason to doubt the position of the S. W. Cape of Van Dieman's Land as marked on the chart; my observations place it about 6 miles more to the Northward, this nearly restores it to the original position assigned by Flinders, W. Cestie, commanding H. M. C. ship L'Herminie, informed me that he had found that the latitude 43deg 39m S. was too far south by 6 or 7 miles.

The 22d April, 1838, five observations near noon, each reduced to noon by the run gave the latitude 43deg 15m 2s S. at 2h 12m—the S. W. Cape bore E by N. (N. 86deg E) 4 miles.

Run in interval S. E. & S. (S. 31deg E) 16m 8s
S. E. & S. (S. 42deg E) 4m 8s
Resulting difference latitude, 17m 8s
Latitude, 43deg 15m 2s

Latitude of S. W. Cape, ... 43deg 33m 0s

Flinders, 43deg 32m
King, 39m
Conway, 23m

I considered the latitude at noon as good as can be obtained from sea horizon—the run may also be trusted, as we were going 10 knots steadily. The course may be subject to error as there was a great swell, but this would not much affect the determination.

I will add, that having run between the Melstone and Verdle's rock, a course E. by N. & N. brought the south Cape right ahead, this, though, not accurately observed with a view to fixing any position tends to prove that the S. W. Cape and its neighbouring islands are 4 or 5 miles too far south.

I have, &c.

Letter No. 4, dated August 16.—Para. 1. In our Military Letter to Bengal, dated the 16th April, 1838, we expressed our regret at the inconvenience to which officers proceeding on furlough, via another presidency, would be exposed in being deprived of their Indian allowances from the date of quitting their own presidency but that we were precluded by the Act of the 23 Geo. 3d, Cap. 87, Sec. 37, from sanctioning a different arrangement.

2. In our letter in the public department to the Government of Madras, dated the 24th March, 1835, we apprised you, that we considered ourselves precluded by the Act of 2d and 3d William 4th Cap 85, Sec. 79, from sanctioning an arrangement allowing civil and military servants to draw from month to month through agents at their respective presidencies the allowances to which they were entitled when absent on leave to the Cape or at Satol Helon, on their being security to refund any sum which might be advanced by them.

3. It is now matter of satisfaction to us to acquaint you, that by the Act of the 1st of Victoria, Cap. 41, (of which copies have been sent with our Public letter of the 9th instant) such parts of the Act of the 23d George 3d and 3 and 4 William 4th, as prevented our sanctioning the two arrangements above referred to, have been repealed.

We now approve and confirm the Regulation established by your Government upon the subject first referred to, as published in General Orders of the 12th May 1838, of which the following is a copy viz.

Fort William, May 12.—"In conformity with the rule prescribed by the Hon'ble the Court of Directors in their General letter to the military department to the Government of Fort Saint George, under date the 20th of April 1839 the Right Honourable the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct that all military officers of the Bengal, Madras and Bombay establishments who may proceed by permission of their respective Governments from any intermediate presidencies under the presidency to which they belong to the seat of Government of another presidency for the purpose of finding a passage to Europe shall be permitted to draw Indian allowances until their departure from the Presidency to which they have so proceeded, provided no unnecessary delay in their embarkation at such Presidency shall take place."

GENERAL REGISTER.

"It is to be distinctly understood, however, that this indulgence is restricted to Officers who, from the proximity of the seat of Government or another Presidency and the remoteness of that of their own, would suffer unnecessary inconvenience and delay if compelled to proceed to the latter for the purpose of embarking to Europe."

"And it is not intended that this order should interfere with the operation of the 21st January 1839, No. 31, with exception to the special case above provided for. The allowances hereby granted are invariably to be drawn by the agent of the absent officer at the presidency to which the latter belongs."

With reference to the second subject, viz. the issue of the absence allowances of officers who are absent at the Cape of Good Hope, we now empower you to frame a regulation by which our officers who are entitled under existing rules to receive Indian allowances on their return to India, from leave of absence to any place within the limits of the Company's Empire or the Cape of Good Hope, or the Mauritius, or the Island of St. Helena, shall be entitled through their agents at their respective Presidencies, to draw these allowances from month to month, upon their giving sufficient security to refund the whole amount in the event of their proceeding to England without previously returning to India, or such part of the amount as may have been over issued on any other account.

6. You will take measures for introducing similar regulations at the presidencies of Madras and Bombay, to the provisions of which we shall send copies of the present despatch.

Letter No. 75, dated October 18.—Referring to our Military Letter of the 16th August last we have now to apprise you that Officers returning to their duty at the Bengal or Madras Establishments, viz. Bombay, will be granted the same advantages as officers coming to England by the same route, viz. that when their regiments shall be stationed at ports nearer to Bombay than to the Capital of their respective Presidencies, their Indian allowances shall commence from the date of their landing at Bombay, provided that no unavoidable delay takes place in their joining their regiments.

Letter No. 59, dated July 36.—Referring to our Military letters of the 16th August and 15th October 1837, relating to the commencement and termination of the Indian allowances of officers of the Bengal and Madras Establishments proceeding to, or returning from their respective presidencies, viz. Bombay, we have now to apprise you that the officers of the Bengal army whose corps may be stationed at any place above Alibabad including the Sagar division, and the officers of the Madras army whose corps may be stationed to the North of the Kistnah, are to be granted the benefits of the arrangement.

The following extracts from a resolution of the Government of India in the General department, dated the 3d January 1838, containing rules regarding military officers holding civil employ and providing for their drawing their salaries during absence on sick certificate, beyond what is provided by the Act 1st Victoria Cap. 47, are also published for general information:

"Military Officers holding Civil Situations.—7. Military officers employed in the civil departments and drawing a civil allowance are entitled in common with officers holding civil situations in the Military department to draw the military pay and allowances of their rank while absent at sea on leave and medical certificate, and likewise one half of the difference between such allowances and the civil or staff pay of the officers to which they stand appointed."

8. The above allowances are to be drawn for a total period not exceeding two years from the date when the vessel in which such officers embark may leave the presidency or other port of departure, and the civil situation held by any officer who shall not return within that period shall be considered vacant."

9. The rules for furnishing medical certificates and for regulating the forms and manner of drawing military allowances during absence on leave have been laid down in General Orders in the Military department."

10. The civil auditor will pay the bills of officers on leave beyond sea under medical certificates for the portion of their civil salary which they are permitted to draw by those rules in the manner so provided. The civil auditor, proceeding to sea on medical certificate, shall be entitled to draw the civil allowance as well as the military pay and allowances of their rank while absent at sea on leave and medical certificate, and likewise one half of the difference between such allowances and the civil or staff pay of the officers to which they stand appointed."

11. Under the sanction of the resolutions contained in the latter part of Chapter 1, Act 1st Victoria, Cap. 47, it is further provided in respect to all the above classes of officers, that they embark with the sanction of the Government at any other presidency than their own, or at any other place within the limits of India, provided that it be not more distant from their place of embarkment than the port of their own presidency, the date for the commencement of the operation of the above rules for officers beyond sea shall be that of their embarkment at such place or port, and not that of their departure from their own respective presidencies, and the same privilege is to be granted to the date of leaving India will be granted to officers of the several services referred to embarking at other presidencies or places in India not more distant from their station than the port of their own presidency, with the leave of Government previously obtained for the purpose of proceeding to Europe on furlough, or of retiring from the service altogether."

20. In the above rules no provision is made for the case of sickness of the officers mentioned regarding the service after leaving their presidency with the permission of the Government in consequence of sickness. The case of such persons has been considered by the President in Council to require a new rule, which under the terms of the Act requiring to be submitted for the confirmation of the House of Commons before it can take effect. It is accordingly declared that the security to be given by servants as the condition of their drawing allowances while absent from their presidency, must provide for the case of such retirement, and the servants must bind themselves to refund the whole of the allowances so drawn in case of their resignation and departure for Europe without previous return to their presidency, provided that the new rules to be established should require such refund."

2. In compliance with the application of the Excellency, we have required that Mr. Kitson be restored to his rank and standing in the Bengal army from the date of the announcement of this division in General orders. This resolution has received the concurrence of the Board of Commissioners for the Affairs of India as required by the provisions of the Act 5th George 3, Cap. 75, Sect. 4 and 5.

3. We trust that the future conduct of Mr. Kitson will be of a nature to prove that he duly estimates the value of the boon now conferred upon him, and that we will learn from past experience effectually to correct that spirit of intolerance and disrespect to superior authority for the indulgence in which he was so properly brought to trial by court martial."

OUR GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

MARINE DEPARTMENT NO. 4 1838.—In our dispatch in the public department dated the 24th January last, (No. 1) we directed you to cause a series of tide observations to be made upon an uniform principle at various points on the coast of India, and in order that such registry of tides may be conducted simultaneously with like experiments instituted for the same object throughout the British Islands and the Maritime States of Europe, we have been at considerable pains to ascertain from those most competent to afford information what description of instruments, apparatus, and process have been generally agreed upon and considered best adapted to insure uniform correct results. We have now to call your attention to the simple expedients, which they have recommended to our acceptance, for such comparatively we consider the apparatus specified in the margin, for seven principal and as many as 18 intermediate stations of less note, including also the requisite instruments for observing the time and meteorological phenomena.

Memorandum of the necessary instruments at each station.

1. Barometer with a Daniel's or Leslie's Hygrometer, Thermometer and Spherometer. Whewell's Anemometer, a box Chronometer, Variation Transit, with Gambey's Dip Circle, Gauss' instrument for acceptance, for such comparatively we consider the apparatus specified in the margin, for seven principal and as many as 18 intermediate stations of less note, including also the requisite instruments for observing the time and meteorological phenomena.

2. The nature of the observations contemplated do not call for buildings of a costly or permanent description. At the principal points it may be advisable that the observations should extend through two or at most three entire years in view to the registered of the changes incident to two or it may be three opposite monsoons; at all the remaining points a single series of observations during opposite monsoons, will suffice for every purpose practical and philosophical.

3. We are further advised since the observations are to be limited in duration, that they may be carried on consecutively at a certain number of places at a time so that the very same apparatus and instruments employed in the one instance may be transferred at the expiration of such term, and set up with little expense at the remaining stations by the respective parties instructed in the former operations.

4. We have consulted the Lords Commissioners of the admiralty as to the number and situation of the places where it may be most desirable to institute the more elaborate experiments, and direct accordingly that they may be confined to the following ports, viz.

Mandee in the Gulf of Cutch.
Cochin or some Port near Cape Comorin.
Some Port near the head of the Bay of Bengal.
Some Port on the coast of Ava.
Prince of Wales Island and Singapore and Malacca.
Bashree in Gulf of Persia.

5. Macao and Mocha, Suex or Cosseer in the Red Sea, have been also named, but we are doubtful of your means for conducting observations, especially the more elaborate ones at those places.

6. Other experiments may be made with a simpler apparatus at eighteen intermediate points on the coast.

7. It appears to us that the greatest difficulty consists in the selection of proper places sheltered as much as possible from the effects of the external swell in which places the observer may at all times have convenient access, and the selection whereof must unquestionably be delegated to the officer on whom the general management will devolve.

8. In such localities however we are fully satisfied that self registering Tide Gauges, constructed either upon the general principles of that invented by Mr. Mitchell, now in operation at Sheerness, or that invented by Mr. Bunt, civil engineer, which is, employed at Bristol, are alike applicable to the determination of every desideratum connected with the theory of the tides, and far better suited to such investigations than more complex and ingenious machinery which may be subject to many sources of instrumental error, or affected by circumstances peculiar to the climate.

GENERAL REGISTER.

¶ If exceptions be taken to the former contrivance in respect of the float register rod, they may be obviated by the substitution of a tin tube, or slender metallic rod, although we are informed that straight grained, well seasoned deal will not be liable to such irregular curvature or change of form as to affect the accuracy of the experiments more particularly if coated over occasionally with paint or the common varnish procurable in every bazar.

10. The entire cost of this apparatus, together with a slight temporary superstructure for its reception, is calculated at £150 or £200. In India, where labour and materials are so much cheaper than in this country, the cost certainly ought not to exceed that sum. Of the other designed by Mr. Bunt, which we are told is equally exact and efficacious we deem it unnecessary at present to speak more fully, as a description of it is now in course of publication in the transactions of the Royal Society, who will decide upon its superior fitness.

11. The construction of either of these self-registering tide gauges being restricted to those places where it may be desirable to have continuous hourly observations, a much simpler contrivance has been suggested for the others, of which we transmit in the packet a description for your information.

12. It is sufficiently plain and easy of construction the expense attending it therefore cannot be great. We are given to understand that even this in the hands of any one who can note down the observations in writing will, with proper care and attention, afford data of considerable value to science.

13. It is only necessary to remark further that the time and height of the tide should invariably be noted and entered immediately in a proper record kept for that purpose, as little or no reliance can be placed on memory or loose memoranda in researches of this nature. The observations should be noted moreover according to mean time as given by a good watch of clock regulated for the place, and not according to solar time or if the time be corrected by the sun, allowance should be made for the equation of time.

14. With these particulars it is desirable to combine meteorological observations, with which view proper instruments will be furnished at any early opportunity, together with a complete tide gauge, and such portions for four other as may be made up at less expense in this country than in India. We are inclined to believe from personal observation that intelligent natives are perfectly competent, under proper supervision, to the experiments, which evidently require a much larger share of patience and attention than intellectual qualifications. This conclusion is grounded on the result of some laborious and accurate measurements rather delicate investigation of the hourly oscillations of the barometrical tides, astronomical phenomena and vibrations of the pendulum, in which with proper training and superintendence they have displayed an aptitude which is highly creditable.

15. It must be clearly borne in mind that while we are anxious that these important objects should be attained with the greatest accuracy, it is very far from our intention to assign on a large outlay, nevertheless to do justice to our intentions qualified persons must be selected and prepared for the work, and the whole machinery must be set in motion and superintended by some one who not only feels an interest in its progress but has the power of controlling the parties employed, and in such capacity will regulate all his proceedings with the strictest economy. Such we are informed by the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty they consider Major Jervis, as he is in immediate communication with his royal highness the president of the royal society, and the philosophers were deeply interested in these enquiries. In this arrangement we are disposed to concur, inasmuch as it will supersede the necessity of any separate charge beyond the allowance this officer will otherwise receive in his proper official capacity after his return to India.

Explanation of the subjoined sketch (referred to in para 11 of Marine letter to the Governor General of India in Council, No 4 dated 12th September, 1838.)

This simple contrivance for registering the tides consists of a pole, (it may be a coconut or bottle-tree) firmly imbedded in the ground to which a vertical tube is to be lashed of 2 or 3 inches diameter. (it may be either of tin or a straight bamboo) corresponding in length to the rise and fall of the tide where it may be required and in this a float, (either of cork or an air tight box) carrying a staff marked off to feet and inches, to rise and fall with the water in the tube.

The end of the tube should be closed up and the sides perforated to allow the free ingress and egress of the water, while the float within is very slightly, if ever, affected by the oscillation of the waves from without, whereby the steady progressive rise and fall of the float in this maintained uniformly the same under all circumstances.

It has an index, consisting of a bit of wood or iron, perforated so as to admit the measuring staff, and attached to the extremity of a wire in the prolongation of the tube. This serves equally to guide the staff and keep it in a vertical position. The division should be marked off and commence when the water is at its mean or some standard level.

This apparatus will serve to show the greatest and least height of each successive tide, when immediate access is precluded by storms whether, merely fitting two rings on the measuring staff, one above the other below the index, which shall move freely without constraining the ascent of the float, yet so as to remain on the rod wherever placed.

MONEY MARKET.

Hurkaru Office 21st February, 1890.

Since our last, the October-November mulls have come to hand, and notwithstanding the large remittances brought out by both opportunities, we have nothing very material to report. Our Exchange rates, immediately after the departure of our January Mail fell to 2s 1d per Company's Rupee, and continued at that figure to the present time. It was expected, that the Exchange would experience at the different arrivals of the Mails, a corresponding increase with those ruling at home, and the rates at which the Court of Directors granted Bills on our Treasury, but on neither occasion was the least slightest manifested by either; so far from it, that as the receipt of the last intelligence of the Home exchange having advanced to 2s 1 1/2 a strong effort was made to reduce our rates to 2s 1 1/2, which however failed, and quotations stand as before.

The Bill market, in anticipation of the present opportunity has been and continues very animated, almost every description of Bill meets with a ready sale. Our Stock of Treasury and Bank Bills had been very nearly exhausted, and our market would have been quite bare after the going away of the mail, had not the late arrival replenished it. We are, consequently, supplied to answer calls for some time to come. The demand for remittances has been so great that we would hardly venture to guess at the amount going, suffice to say that it must be to a very considerable extent.

The business through the Company's Warehouse has been very confined, we much doubt whether any further advances against shipment will be effected through them so long as ship-owners can procure private advances, the exchange with respect to both modes is the same 2s 1d per Company's Rupee, but the conditions are changed, the former are so many and various, that no one would ever have recourse to it, that could otherwise suit him; if, and it appears to us that the only alternative to induce parties to avail themselves of the Company's advances would be to reduce the rate.

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES.—Our quotations are but nominal; beyond and ordinary sales of very small accounts for private investment nothing has been done, all speculative income-liquidity of the renewed uncertainty of our political relations with our neighbors in the North West and Eastward, avoid such fluctuating investments.

BY THE DEPUTY GOVERNOR OF BENGAL.

RESOLUTION.—Read a letter from the Agent at Saugor, dated the 10th December last, forwarding abstracts of the Jabdnipore sessions of this trial for 1837.

"In order that the public may be made acquainted with the result of the measures adopted for the suppression of the crime of thuggee.—The Right Honorable the Governor General of India has been pleased to resolve, that the abridged extract from a letter from the agent to the Governor General in the Saugor and Nerbudda territories, dated 6th December last, shall be published for general information.

Extracts from a letter from the Agent to Governor General Saugor and Nerbudda territories, dated 26th December, 1836.

3. "The entire number of cases committed for trial was 57,—two of these commitments, Nos. 20 and 29 were however annulled, and the number of trials in consequence was 55,—of the trials, 25 were supplements to those held by my predecessors—10 were on charges of murders that had not formed the subject of a preceding trial, one No. 37, involved two counts, viz. 1. a charge for a particular murder, and 2dly, the general one of having belonged to a gang of thugs under Act XXX. of 1836, and 19 were restricted entirely to the general charge.

3. Agreeably to the number of prisoners in each commitment, 180 persons stood convicted for trial at the sessions, but as several of the prisoners were committed in more than one case, the actual number of individuals for trial was 121, and their trials terminated as follows, viz.

	Persons
1. Sentenced to death.....	13
2. " Transportation for life.....	70
3. " Imprisonment for life.....	25
4. " Ditto, until it may be safe to release on security.....	3
5. " Acquitted but ordered to give security.....	3
6. " Deceased after commitment.....	6
7. " Commitment annulled.....	6
Total 121

4. Of the prisoners capitally sentenced six were convicted as Jemadars, six as Bhartotars or stranglers and one as a Bhumsen or holder of hands—those transported for life were proved to have been concerned in the murders charged to them, and those imprisoned for life were convicted of having belonged to a gang of Thugs.

The evidence brought forward on the trials consisted of the testimony of approvers the examination of bodies of persons murdered by the prisoners, and confessions before up at the trial or before the officiating general superintendent and his assistants. Inclusive of the deceased Sheikh Daood before a Judo, ten of the convicted thus pleaded guilty to their trial to the charges preferred against them, and of these, three were capitally punished, and six were transported, twenty-three others confessed before the officiating general superintendent, and of them three were sentenced to death, eighteen to transportation, and two to imprisonment for life, and nine more made confessions before the assistants to the general superintendent, of whom five were transported and four imprisoned for life, and it thus appears that 42 of the prisoners committed for trial had acknowledged their connection with the profession followed by them, in the presence of an European officer.

Ordered, that the foregoing resolution be published for general information, in the Calcutta and Delhi Gazette and Agra Ukhbar.

Para. 1. "Complaints have been made in this country of the expense occasioned by the practice of the judgements, transmission of letters and packages by the overland mails. This is a practice which, independent of the private inconvenience, which it occasions, has a tendency to impede the public service by overloading the docks, and we desire that in future no letters or packages be forwarded overland, unless specially authorised to be sent by that mode of conveyance."

2. In adopting the regulation now suggested, it will be proper in order to avert disappointment, to give publicity to the change of practice.

3. The last mail via Malta, brought numerous printed copies of a memorial from Mr. Thomas Baber, of the Bombay civil service, one of which was addressed to each member of the Council. The copies of the memorial (upon each of which a charge for postage to the extent of Rs. 1 was demanded) have of course been refused but as considerable trouble and inconvenience must be occasioned by a repetition of such a proceeding, we desire that you will take measures for giving publicity to the Post Office Regulations of this country under which the receipt of letters by the overland mail is restricted, a copy of the Regulations in question is forwarded (a No. in the Packet).

Under the authority of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's treasury, the chairman, deputy chairman, secretary and assistant secretary to the East India Company, have the personal privilege of receiving letters free of postage from the East Indies by packet via the Mediterranean; but this privilege does not extend to any other director or officer of company."

REVIEW OF THE CALCUTTA MARKET.

The Mail being now about to close, we present a review of the Import and Export Trade, since the date of our last, viz.

1. Upon — Our Market to the end of last month continued in a very active state, and the transactions were almost exclusively confined to public sales at the Marts, — prices however were fully supported, with reference to the various quantities, and districts where produced. During the past eight or nine days, there has been scarcely anything doing either by public or private sale, although the December Mail has arrived with favourable accounts of the English and French Markets, as regards prices, consumption and stocks. We may, however, reasonably calculate on renewed activity in the article, if not on some improvement in prices, under all circumstances, taking into consideration the extent of the crop, which is likely to fall 2 or 3000 mounds under 90,000 mounds. Subjoined is a memorandum of the average prices realized at the Marts by public sales since our last, viz.

MONEY MARKET.

Harkiss Office, Calcutta, 11th March 1839.

The past month has been a heavy one with us, and our money Market has not recovered the quiet, which followed the departure of the last Mail. The English Mail for December and January, we are sorry to observe, has had no influence on the state of things. The remittances come out by that opportunity not exceeding, we understand, to four and a half.

The Bill Market presents as little chance we have no report beyond the few transactions, and that to a small amount, against shipments chiefly to France, at an exchange of francs 270 per Company's Rupee.

The Assignees of the Insolvent firm of Messrs. Ferguson and Co. have declared a fourth dividend of 3 company's rupees per cent this circumstance may possibly occasion a call for bids for remittance to Constituents, be we do not anticipate it will affect our present quotations.

the early part of yesterday at 1 ½ per cent. discount, and before the close of the day it was hardly procurable at the same rate.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.—JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT RESOLUTION, MARCH 26.—In directing, on the 23d January 1837, the gradual discontinuance of the Persian language and the adoption of the vernacular in the Judicial and Revenue proceedings of this presidency, the late Deputy Governor was pleased to direct that, on the 1st July 1838 and 1st January 1839, reports of the progress made in effectuating this important reform should be furnished by the Sudder Court, the Sudder Board and the special commissioners.

2. The reports now under consideration are those of the Sudder Court and Board and the special commissioner of Patna. The special commissioners of Calcutta and Moorshedabad have made no report. They have never attempted to carry the orders into execution, but entered into a correspondence with the Government to prove the impropriety of the change of language in their Courts and those of their subordinates. Before this correspondence could terminate, the papers were called for by the Honble the President in Council.

* 14th May 1838, No. 56. and duly transmitted to that authority; and therefore the Deputy Governor of Bengal anticipating the receipt of orders on the case from the Supreme Government, has hitherto refrained from coming to a Resolution on the reports now before him. But as no orders have yet been received and the period originally fixed for the complete change of language has come to a close, His Honor deems it proper no longer to delay the issue of instructions to the Sudder Court and Sudder Board, upon this important subject. Upon the report of the special commissioner of Patna it is, in His Honor's judgment, advisable to make no remarks until the receipt of the final orders of the Government on India of the objections of the special commissioners of Calcutta and Moorshedabad.

3. It appears that in the following districts, the vernacular language had, up to the 30th June, been completely substituted for the Persian, in the Courts of the civil and session judges, and the collectors and their subordinates (except in resumption cases).

Hoochly, Bhargulpore, Purneah, Patna, Jessore, Backergunge, Rangporo, East Burdwan, Dinagepore, Beerbhoom, Midnapore, and Shahabad—except in the Court of the Additional Judge, in which it is reported that "considerable progress" had been made towards the change. In Assam the Bengallee has always been and still is in use.

4. No inconvenience has attended the change in any of the above districts, and in some cases the results are very favorably reported on by the Local Authorities.

5. In the following districts the change had been completely made in the Revenue Department (except in regard to resumptions) but not in the Courts of the civil and session judges.

Furzedpore,
Mymensingh,
Sylhet,
Bulsoab.

* In these districts, the Sudder Court report that "considerable progress" has been made in effecting the change in the Judicial Department.

† A trifling exception is made in these Districts by the Commissioners which will be noticed hereafter.

Patna.
† Chittagong.

6. In the Courts of the civil and sessions judges of the following districts, Cutlack, Khoordah, Balaore, Saran, Behar, 24-Pargunnahs, Chittagong, it is reported by the Sudder Court that little progress had been made, and no progress whatever, had been effected by the civil session judge of Tirhoot.

7. The change was complete in the catcheries of the following magistrates and joint magistrates, and of course, of their subordinates,—Shahabad, Patna, Tirhoot, Saran, East Burdwan, Jessore, Hoochly, Nuddeah, Monghyr, Bograh, Malda and it was all but complete on the boundary offices of the following districts,—Cutlack, Pooner, Balaore, Bhargulpore, Purneah, 24-Pargunnahs, Rangpore Backergunge, Midnapore, Tipperah, Behar, Dinagepore, Sylhet, Bancoolah Baisset, Patna, and Furzedpore.

8. The reports shew that in none of these twenty three districts any inconvenience is felt from the change, or none but what is trivial temporary.

9. Hardly any progress had been made by the magistrates of Dacca, Beerbhoom, Moorshedabad, Noacolly, and Rajshyho.

Little remains to perfect the work in their District and the seal which has already effected so much will doubtless have completed the reform within the twelve months fixed by Mr. Ross for its accomplishment.

11 It appears then that of all the districts under the Bengal presidency, the change was on or soon after the 30th June complete in the Revenue Department in all. In the Judicial Department it was complete in the Courts of civil and session judges twelve districts and in those of magistrates in twelve—it was in advancing rapidly towards completion by the civil and sessions judges in nine districts, and by magistrates in fifteen. There were but seven districts in which little had been done by sessions judges and five in which the magistrates had done little; by one officers only, had nothing been done.

14a This result the Deputy Governor considers very satisfactory, and he has no doubt that the Sudder Court, by whom as well as in the Sudder Board, this alteration of system, has been very cordially and judiciously superintended, will not fail to cause in due time a full compliance with the injunctions of the Government by every functionary under its control.

15. It Chitragong, as observed in a note to paragraph 5 of this resolution, the change had been completely made in the Department with exception to settlement proceedings. In Moorshedabad as similarly noticed the change had been effected with the sole exception of certain registers and documents hitherto recorded in Persian. In the case of Moorshedabad the commissioner states his intention of completing the alteration without any exception as soon as the Volumes of Record now begun in Persian, are filled and new books opened, and to this His Honor has no objection. Respecting the exception pointed out in Chitragong the Deputy Governor is of opinion that, of all proceedings in a collector's office, it is of most importance that those of Settlements should be in the vernacular, and he desires that the Board will direct the commissioner to extend the necessary alteration without any delay to all settlement proceedings.

16 A question has been raised in regard to the Courts and officers in the Province of Behar, whether the Hindoostanee language should be written in the Nagree or in the Persian character, and it has been decided by all the authorities that the Persian character is to be preferred.

17. In this, His Honor remarks, the authorities are perhaps right as a commencement, but he is satisfied that the Nagree should eventually become the constant character of the Behar, districts, and he desires that the Sudder Court and Sudder Board will communicate that opinion to the Local Authorities, with instructions to use gradual measures for the cautious adoption of the Nagree character.

18. A few other matters of detail call for His Honor's observations.

19 The Sudder Court have instructed the Judge of Dinagepore that all documents intended for transmission to their Court, as well as Futwas, should be in Persian, but that translations should be made for the information of the parties concerned.

20. But as the language adopted by the Sudder Court itself, upon principles, in which the Deputy Governor fully concurs, is Hindoostanee, and Persian has been in that Court entirely disused, it would seem inconsistent to require the Mofussil Courts to forward Persian documents. The Court will be requested to reconsider this point.

21. One officer (Mr. Cracroft) suggests to the Sudder Court a case of a Judge in Bengal, receiving a Ronbhary in Raj Bhaka from a Judge at Multra, or vice versa, and has desired a solution of the supposed difficulty. The case is not very likely to happen; but the suggestion of the Sudder Court, that in Bengal proper, public officers should correspond in Bengallee; and use the Oordoo in the Persian character, on all other occasions of correspondence with other officers, appears to the Deputy Governor unobjectionable.

22. The orders of Government are solicited by the Sudder Court on the following point, viz. whether parties should be allowed to present Petitions in Persian. It is His Honor's opinion that the practice of allowing Petitions to be presented in Persian ought not to be too suddenly put a stop to. As certain classes become accustomed to the local dialects it will gradually fall into disuse of its own accord.

23. The Sudder Court enquire what is to be done within the Amliah, who may not be able to qualify themselves with the present year for the transaction of business in the vernacular language. The Deputy Governor observes that a reasonable time should be allowed by the local authorities to such native officers as may not yet have qualified themselves, within which they will be required to complete their qualification.

Ordered, that a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Sudder Court and Sudder Board respectively, and that it be printed in the Calcutta Gazette for general information.

(a) When in the field and marching.

Adjutants and quarter masters of troops of horse Artillery at Bombay, will be abolished as vacancies occur, and a brigade adjutant and quarter master, in one person, appointed, on the allowances above specified.

The staff to the brigade of horse and battalions of European foot artillery at Fort St. George, and to the European foot artillery at Bombay, will prospectively as vacancies occur, merge into one officer for each European brigade and battalion (in conformity with the practice in Bengal,) who will draw the allowances above specified.

The duties and emoluments of the regimental staff alluded to in the two preceding paragraphs, will remain unaffected until opportunities occur for effecting the proposed consolidation of their appointments.

The separate office of interpreter to the European regiment at Bombay, will also be abolished prospectively, and as at the other presidencies, a quarter master and interpreter will be appointed on the scale of allowances here indicated for the office. In the mean time the quarter master will continue to draw the same aggregate of emoluments as heretofore, but the same will in future be passed under the new heads herein detailed.

The additional staff allowance of 30 rupees a month, now granted at Bombay to quarter masters and interpreters of native infantry, and native artillery, when interpreters of both the Hindoostanee and Marhatta languages, will also be abolished prospectively, and in all future appointments the nominee will draw staff pay at the new rate now assigned of 62 rupees a month.

The present duties and emoluments of interpreters of Her Majesty's regiments of dragoons and infantry will both remain unaffected; but as vacancies occur, the separate interpreterships whenever existing in each language, Hindoostanee and Marhatta, will merge into one for both languages on the allowances here stated. This rule will apply equally to the interpreter of the European regiment.

The allowance of twenty one rupees a month granted at Fort Saint George to adjutants of corps, European and native, while in the field or marching, for the carriage of regimental books of their own and the Quarter-Master's department, will likewise be prospectively abolished, and the bona fide expenses incurred for those purposes will be drawn, when actually marching, as in Bengal.

Adjutant General of the Army.

At a general court martial assembled at Cawnpore, on Saturday the 9th day of February 1839, Lieutenant Kenward Wallace Elmshie, of the 62d regiment native infantry, was arraigned on the following charge:—

Charge.—"For conduct unbecoming the character of an officer and a gentleman, in the following instances:

"First. For having, on the 8th December 1838, entered the bungalow of Surgeon John Menzies, and, with a loud voice and violent gestures, delivered a hostile message from Eusebius Henry Bishop, grounded on circumstances which Lieutenant Elmshie well knew had been officially reported by Surgeon Menzies to Lieutenant Colonel Thomas Dundas, commanding the regiment.

"Second. In having subsequently, on the same day, sent to Surgeon Menzies, and to other officers for general circulation, copies of a paper signed by Lieutenant Elmshie, in the nature of a posting of Surgeon Menzies.

"Third. In having on the 10th December 1838, in a note addressed to Surgeon Menzies, asserted that the paper referred to in the second instance, had not been circulated, and requested that it might be returned but without making any apology for having written it, thereby suggesting the erroneous inference that it had not been shown to officers of other regiments."

Finding.—"The court is of opinion, from the evidence recorded, that Lieutenant Kenward Wallace Elmshie, of the 62d regiment native infantry, is

"On the first and second instances of the charge, guilty;

"And on the third instance, guilty, with the qualification, that the Court does not conceive he had any wilful design to mislead Mr Surgeon Menzies with respect to the erroneous inference his note suggested.

"And the court is further of opinion, that he is guilty of conduct unbecoming the character of an officer and a gentleman."

Sentence.—"The court sentences Lieutenant Kenward Wallace Elmshie, of the 62d regiment native infantry, to be suspended from rank, pay, and allowances, for six (6) months."

The Commander of the Forces is pleased to direct, that the following General Order be published to the army.

GENERAL ORDER BY HIS EXCELLENCY GENERAL SIR H. ROY FANE, G. C. B. & O. C. B., COMMANDER IN CHIEF IN INDIA.

Head Quarters, Bengal column of the army of the Indus, Camp, at Bakker, 16th February, 1839.

1. His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief being about to leave the Bengal column of the army of the Indus, in his progress where his duty calls him, feels it due to the troops, previous to his departure, to record what he has witnessed of their conduct, during their march from Peshawar into Sind, and to hold it up, as an example for their brother soldiers, on all other occasions.

2. The excellent discipline and good behaviour of the troops have conciliated the inhabitants of the country wherever they have passed, and he is glad to be able to point out the consequences.

These have been, not only the exaltation of their fame and character as soldiers, but the circumstances have greatly contributed to their personal advantages, because the confidence of the inhabitants, which such good conduct has produced, has led to their freely resorting to our camps with the produce of their villages, by which means we have been free from all wants and privations.

3. His excellency desires, that the officers of all ranks and departments will accept the expression of his approbation of their zeal, and of the good example they have set.

4. He feels it just, more particularly to notice the corps of Bengal engineers, and the sappers. The manner in which they have completed the important work of throwing a bridge over the Indus (490 yards) reflects great credit on their skill and their industry, and His Excellency requests that Captain Thomson, the chief engineer, and the commissioned, non-commissioned officers and soldiers under his command concerned in the work, will accept his thanks.

GENERAL REGISTER.

The Company's advances to the 4th instant inclusive, amount to Co.'s Rs. 54,35,688 10 6, and on goods now on hand Co.'s Rs. 65,150, making the total advances of the season 1834-35 Co.'s Rs. 54,80,838 10 6 at the present unfavourable rate of the Company's Exchange, few parties are inclined to take advantage of this medium of negotiation to any extent.

With regard to prospects for the ensuing season, it is much too early to hazard any thing like a correct opinion, but it may be stated generally, that in many of the principal Indigo Districts, they are far from favorable; long draught, and excessive hot winds, having done material injury to the young plant. Looking to the various accounts received from the Planters, a large crop cannot be expected, in consequence of the advanced period of the season.

SALTPETRE.—The demand has been steady since our last, but prices have not advanced, altho' there is more Tonnage in the River, and the rates of freight have declined a little. Present rates are as under, viz.

MONEY MARKET.

Harkaru Office, Calcutta, 6th May, 1839.

In our last of the 2d April ultimo, we noticed the arrival of the English Mail for January, the public remittances brought out by that opportunity caused some small stir in our money market and prolonged the excitement created by the preparation of our Mail until a few days after its departure. Affairs then remained very quiet until about the close of the past month when it was in some measure revived by the arrival of the February Mail, expectations were rife, but the result though by no means discouraging yet was not equal to what was anticipated and consequently did not inspire that activity as was hoped for.

Within the last week and up to the present moment all is preparation for the departing Mail to leave this evening. Our Bill Market received fresh supplies of Public Bills both from England and New South Wales. These supplies coming very opportunely are being purchased for remittance home, our market for Bills has presented a very lively appearance for the past few days, the amount of remittance going is now estimated at near nine lacs, and may yet be added to; the rates of negotiation are as below.

Ditto on France.....	2	70		French money

The London Exchange continuing at an very unfavorable rate for remittances out, that many have resumed shipments through the Government Export Ware House, and transactions through this channel since our last, have been to the extent of about a Lac of Rupees.

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES.—Very little business has been done in these securities. Some Stock Paper changed hands at a premium of 12 per cent, nothing beyond the ordinary sales were effected in the 3d. and

5. per cent., rates of which continuing at previous quotations and noticed below, the 4 per cents. have improved somewhat and more enquired after.

BANK OF BENGAL—Stock Co.'s Rs. 1,12,50,000.—The value of this description of investment had increased since ours of April to 2450 and 2500 rupees premium per share, which rates were maintained until within a day or two, when they fell to 2400 and 2450 Rupees the new current rate. The discount and interest rates continue without variation.

The Mirzapore Agency branches of this and the Bank of Bengal are working very well. There is much competition between them and the native shroffs which latter are offering very liberal terms to maintain in their ground and a portion of the extensive Exchange business, but we fear the influence of the Banks will soon deprive them of this profitable source

BY THE PRESIDENT IN COUNCIL.

Fort William, Political Department, 17th April, 1839.—The following convention and papers annexed, which has been received through the secret committee of the Honourable the Court of Directors from Her Majesty's principal secretary of state for foreign affairs, are published for the information of persons interested in the trade carried on with the Turkish dominions.

Convention of Commerce and Navigation between Her Majesty and the Sultan of the Ottoman Empire, with three additional Articles thereto annexed signed at Balta-Liman, near Constantinople. August 16, 1838.

Convention appended to the capitulations granted to Great Britain by the Ottoman Porte, amending and altering certain stipulations therein contained, as regards the commerce and navigation of the two countries.

During the friendly intercourse which has happily subsisted so long between the sublime Porte and the Kings of Great Britain capitulations granted by the Porte, and treaties concluded between the two powers, have regulated the rates of duties payable on merchandise exported from and imported into, the dominions of the sublime Porte and have established and declared the rights, privileges, immunities and obligations of British merchants trading to, or residing in, the imperial territories. But since the period when the above mentioned stipulations were last revised, changes of various kinds have happened in the internal administration of the Ottoman Empire, and in the external relations of that empire with other powers and her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and His Highness the Sultan have therefore agreed now to regulate again, by a special and additional act, the commercial intercourse of their subjects in order to increase the trade between their respective dominions and to render more easy the exchange of the produce of the one country for that of the other. They have consequently named for their Plenipotentiaries for this purpose, that is to say, Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, the Right Honourable John Lubbock, Lord Ponsonby, Baron of Imbolsky, a Peer of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Knight grand cross of the most honourable order of the bath of the Nishan of honour &c. &c. &c. Her Majesty's Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary at the Sublime Porte, &c. &c. And His Highness the Sultan, most illustrious and most excellent Vizier Mustapha Resid Pasha, minister for foreign affairs, bearing the decoration belonging to his high rank, a knight grand cross of the Legion of Honour of France, &c. &c. excellent and most distinguished Mustapha Kewec Bey, a member of the Supreme Council of State, assistant to the Prime minister, president of the Council of agriculture and industry, a minister of state of the first class, bearing the two decorations belonging to his office, &c. &c. and the excellent and most distinguished Mahomed Nouré Effendi, a Counsellor of State in the department for foreign affairs, bearing the Nishan of honour of the first class, &c. &c. who after having communicated their respective full powers, found to be in due and proper form, have agreed upon and concluded the following articles:

ARTICLE I.

All rights, privileges and immunities which have been conferred on the subjects or ships of Great Britain by the existing capitulations and treaties are confirmed now and for ever, except in as far as they may be specifically altered by the present convention, and it is moreover expressly stipulated that all rights, privileges or immunities which the sublime Porte now grants, or may hereafter grant, to the ships and subjects of any other foreign power, or which it may suffer the ships and subjects of any other foreign power to enjoy, shall be equally granted to, and exercised and enjoyed by, the subjects and ships of Great Britain.

ARTICLE II.

The subjects of her Britannic Majesty, or their agents, shall be permitted to purchase at all places to the Ottoman Dominions (whether for the purposes of internal trade or exportation) all articles, without any exception whatsoever, the produce, growth, or manufacture of the said dominions; and the sublime Porte formally engages to abolish all monopolies of agricultural produce, or of any other articles whatsoever, as well as all Permits from the local governors, either for the purchase of any article, or for its removal from one place to another when purchased; and any attempt to compel the subjects of her

Britannic Majesty to receive such Permits from the local governors, shall be considered as an infraction of treaties and the sublime Porte shall immediately punish with severity any viziers and other officers who shall have been guilty of such misconduct, and render full justice to British subjects for all injuries or losses which they may duly prove themselves to have suffered.

ARTICLE III.

If any article of Turkish produce, growth, or manufacture be purchased by the British merchant or his agent, for the purpose of selling the same for internal consumption in Turkey, the British merchant or his agent shall pay at the purchase and sale of such articles, and in any manner of trade therein, the same duties that are paid in similar circumstances, by the most favoured class of Turkish subjects engaged in the internal trade of Turkey, whether Mussulmans or Rayahs.

ARTICLE IV.

If any article of Turkish produce, growth or manufacture be purchased for exportation, the same shall be conveyed by the British merchant or his agent, free of any kind of charge or duty whatsoever, to a convenient place of shipment, on its entry into which it shall be liable to one fixed duty of nine per cent. ad valorem. In lieu of all other interior duties.

Subsequently, on exportation, the duty of three per cent, as established and existing at present, shall be paid. But all articles bought in the shipping ports for exportation, and which have already paid the interior duty at entering into the same, will only pay the three per cent, export duty.

ARTICLE V.

The regulations under which firman are issued to British merchant vessels for passing the Dardanelles and the Bosphorus, shall be so framed as to occasion to such vessels the least possible delay.

ARTICLE VI.

It is agreed by the Turkish Government, that the regulations established in the present convention, shall be general throughout the Turkish empire, whether in Turkey in Europe or Turkey in Asia, in Egypt, or other African possessions belonging to the sublime Porte, and shall be applicable to all the subjects whatever their description, of the Ottoman dominions; and the Turkish Government also agrees not to object to other foreign powers settling their trade upon the basis of this present convention.

ARTICLE VII.

It having been the custom of Great Britain and the sublime Porte, with a view to prevent all difficulties and delay in estimating the value of articles imported into the Turkish dominions, or exported therefrom, by British subjects, to appoint, at intervals of fourteen years, a commission of men well acquainted with the traffic of both countries, who have fixed by a tariff the sum of money in the coin of the grand signior, which should be paid as duty on each article, and the term of fourteen years, during which the last adjustment of the said tariff was to remain in force, having expired, the high contracting parties have agreed to name conjointly fresh commissioners to fix and determine the amount in money which is to be paid by British subjects, as the duty of three per cent, upon the value of all commodities imported and exported by them; and the said commissioners shall establish an equitable arrangement for estimating the inferior duties which by the present treaty, and established on Turkish goods to be exported, and shall also determine on the places of shipment where it may be most convenient that such duties should be levied.

The new tariff thus established, to be in force for seven years after it has been fixed, at the end of which time it shall be in the power of either of the parties to demand a revision of that tariff but if no such demand be made on either side, within the six months after the end of the first seven years then the tariff shall remain in force for seven years more, reckoned from the end of the preceding seven years, and so it shall be at the end of each successive period of seven years.

ARTICLE VIII.

The present convention shall be ratified and the ratifications shall be exchanged at Constantinople within the space of four months.

In witness whereof, the respective plenipotentiaries have signed the same, and have affixed their seals therunto. Done at

ADDITIONAL ARTICLES.

Certain difficulties having arisen between the Ambassador to Her Britannic Majesty and the plenipotentiaries of the sublime Porte, in fixing the new conditions which should regulate the commerce in British goods imported into the Turkish dominions, or passing through the same in transit, it is agreed between His Excellency the British Ambassador and the Plenipotentiaries of the sublime Porte, that the present convention should receive their signatures, without the articles which have reference to the above mentioned subjects forming part of the body of the said convention.

But at the same time it is also agreed—the following articles having been submitted to by the Turkish Government—but they shall be submitted to the approbation of Her Majesty's Government, and should they be approved and accepted by Her Majesty's Government, they shall then form an integral part of the treaty now concluded.

The articles in question are the following:

ARTICLE. I.

All articles being the growth, produce, or manufacture of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and its dependencies, and all merchandise, of whatsoever description, embarked in British vessels, and being the property of British subjects, or being brought overland, or by sea, from other countries by the same shall be admitted, as heretofore, into all parts of the Ottoman dominions, without exception, on the payment of three per cent. duty, calculated upon the value of such articles. And in lieu of all other and interior duties, whether levied on the purchaser or seller, to which these articles are at present subject, it is agreed that the importer, after receiving his goods shall pay, if he sells them at the place of reception, or if he sends them thence to be sold elsewhere in the interior of the Turkish Empire, one fixed duty of two per cent. after which such goods may be sold and re-sold in the interior, or exported, without any further duty whatsoever being levied or demanded on them.

But all goods that have paid the three per cent. import duty at one port, shall be sent to another free of any further duty, and it is only when sold there or transported thence into the interior, that the second duty shall be paid.

It is always understood that Her Majesty's Government do not pretend either by this article or any other in the present Treaty, to stipulate for more than the plain and fair construction of the terms employed; nor to preclude, in any manner, the Ottoman Government from the exercise of its rights of internal administration, where the exercise of those rights does not evidently infringe upon the privileges accorded by ancient treaties, or the present treaty to British merchandise or British subjects.

ARTICLE. II.

All foreign goods brought into Turkey from other countries, shall be freely purchased and traded in, in any manner, by the subjects of Her Britannic Majesty or the agents of the same, at any place in the Ottoman dominions; and if such foreign goods have paid no other duty than the duty paid on importation, then the British subject or his agent shall be able to purchase such foreign goods on paying the extra duty of two per cent. which he will have to pay on the sale of his own imported goods or on their transmission for sale into the interior; and after that such foreign goods shall be re-sold in the interior, or exported without further duty; or should such foreign goods have already paid the amount of the two duties (i. e. the import duty and the one fixed interior duty) then they shall be purchased by the British subject or his agent, and afterwards re-sold or exported, without being ever submitted to any further duty.

ARTICLE. III.

No charge whatsoever shall be made upon British goods,—(such being the growth, produce, or manufacture of the United Kingdom or its dependencies; or the growth, produce, or manufacture of any foreign country, and charged in British vessels and belonging to British subjects) passing through the straits of the Dardanelles, of the Bosphorus, and of the Black Sea, whether such goods shall pass through those straits in the ships that brought them, or are trans-shipped in those straits, or destined to be sold elsewhere are landed with a view to their being transferred to other vessels (and thus to proceed on their voyage) without being submitted to any further duty.

Merchandise imported into Turkey for the purpose of being transmitted to other countries, or which remaining in the hands of the importer, shall be transmitted by him for sale to other countries, shall only pay the duty of three per Cent. paid on importation, and no other duty whatsoever.

OFFICIAL NOTE DELIVERED TO LORD PONSONBY BY HIS EXCELLENCY MEHMET NUREE EFFENDI, ON THE 27TH OF AUGUST, 1839, RELATIVE TO THE 2D ARTICLE OF THE PRECEDING CONVENTION.

Translation.

It is stipulated by the 11th Article of the treaty of commerce concluded between the sublime porte and the British Government on the 25th Djemazievvel 1254, (16th August, 1838) that English merchants are at liberty to purchase all kinds of merchandise in the Ottoman Empire.

But in order that the right of English merchants to sell within the Ottoman Empire, or to export the merchandise which they may purchase, may not be liable to misapprehension, the embassy of her Britannic Majesty has desired that an explanation should be given on this point, either in the treaty itself, or in a special Note.

The meaning of the passage, of which an elucidation is requested is clear, from the relation which the subsequent points in the 11th Article bear to each other.—But we nevertheless repeat, that English merchants may, in virtue of the treaty, purchase within the Ottoman Empire all kinds of merchandise, may, if they think proper, send the same abroad after having paid duty thereon stipulated by the treaty, or may, if they think fit, resell the same within the Ottoman Empire, on conforming to the arrangements established by the said treaty with reference to internal commerce.

Such are the arrangements of the Treaty, and we give this explanation to the ambassador renewing to his excellency the assurances of our sincere and perfect friendship.

The 7th Djemazievvel, 1254, (27th August 1839).

DECLARATION AGREED UPON AND SIGNED BY THE RESPECTIVE PLENIPOTENTIARIES UPON THE EXCHANGE OF THE RATIFICATIONS OF THE PRECEDING CONVENTION.

Whereas it appears, on examining the English translation of the 11th article of the Turkish original of the treaty signed at Balta-Liman, on the 16th of August 1838, that certain words are inserted in that article in the Turkish language, which have no equivalent words in the English original of the same article of that treaty signed by the British Plenipotentiary, these words being to the effect, that the treaty is not to come into operation until the 1st day of March 1839, and whereas it is desirable to prevent all doubts which might arise in consequence of the difference between the text of the English and Turkish originals of the Treaty; it is hereby declared to be the understanding of the Plenipotentiaries on both sides, that the Treaty aforesaid shall begin to have effect on the first day of the month of March one thousand eight hundred and thirty nine.

It is further agreed and declared,—the Turkish text of the first of the three additional articles containing the words "overland, or by sea," and the words "or by sea," having been omitted in the English text, but having been introduced into Her Britannic Majesty's Ratifications,—that these words shall be considered as having the same force and validity as if they had been inserted in the original articles signed by the British and Turkish Plenipotentiaries respectively.

Done at Calender, on the 16th day of November, one thousand eight hundred and thirty eight.

No. 77 of 1839.—The Hon'ble the President in Council is pleased to publish the following military despatch, No. 14 of 1839, from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, dated 20th March, viz.

Para 1. You are aware of the anxiety we have long entertained that the whole of the departments of building, surveying and road and canal making and repairing, should be confided to officers of the corps of Engineers.

2. Upon a review of the present state of these departments, we find that notwithstanding the full employment of the officers of engineers at your Presidency upon duties belonging to their profession, there are still 36 officers not of that branch who are employed upon similar duties.

3. The establishment of engineers at your Presidency is 69, with the addition at present of 17 super-numeraries. These added to the officers of other arms employed as engineers, form an aggregate at your Presidency of 96 officers.

4. We have now to announce to you our resolution to raise the fixed establishment of engineers at your Presidency from 60 to 87, composed of three battalions, each of the following establishments, viz.

- 1 Colonel.
- 1 Lieutenant Colonel.
- 2 Majors.
- 6 Captains.
- 12 1st Lieutenants.
- 7 2d Do.

29

5. This augmentation will still leave 11 of the 26 appointments above-mentioned to be filled by officers not of the engineers—some of these are temporary in their nature, and we would hope that on their cessation and by a careful attention to the employment of the engineers, you will be relieved in a short period from the necessity of confiding such duties to officers who have not been specially educated for this branch of the service.

6. There are now eleven supernumeraries to the corps of engineers at the presidencies of Madras and Bombay. The whole of these are to have the option of being transferred to Bengal, ranking with the supernumeraries at your Presidency according to their rank at Addiscombe as shown in the enclosed list. The option of transfer is to be given in order of seniority at each presidency from the highest to the lowest.

7. The augmentation is to have effect from the date of its announcement in general orders.

8. The above augmentation will suffice to bring upon the establishment all the present supernumeraries at the three presidencies, and also two cadets who are on the eve of completing their studies at Chatham.

London, 20th March, 1839

We are, &c.

Instructions for the drill of officers in order to establish and ensure a uniform mode of carrying the sword, saluting, &c. both on the march and when halted.

The officers to be forward in line at five paces distant from each other, and standing at ease in the following manner, holding the sword in the right hand with the point lowered between the feet the edge to the right, the hands together, the left covering the right.

The following motions will then be performed by word of command.

DIRECTIONS.

Attention
(close order.)

Bring the arms to the position of "attention," the sword being held between the fore-finger and thumb, the remaining fingers along the side of the handle ready to grasp it, the upper part of the hilt resting upon the hand across the back part of the thumb, the edge direct to the front, and the back of the blade in the hollow of the right shoulder; elbow close to the body.

Recover swords.

Take a grasp of the handle, bring up the hand, the thumb as high as the chin, and close in front of it, the thumb on the side of the handle, the blade perpendicular, and the edge to the left.

Port swords.

Bring the sword diagonally across the body, with the edge upwards, at the same time bending the left elbow, so that the hand rises as high as the shoulder, the fingers being lightly closed with the blade passing between the fore-finger and thumb; elbows close to the sides.

Stand at ease.

(open order.)

Resume the position of "port swords."

Rear rank
(take open order.)
March.

At the word "order," bring the sword to the "recover."

Move forward three paces, and on completing the last, at the word "steady," let the sword be brought to the position of "port swords."

Present arms.

Bring the sword up to the "recover" at the second motion of the firelock, and drop it at the third motion of the firelock, extending it to the right, parallel with the right foot; elbow close to the side; and at the same motion raise the left arm as high as the shoulder, the hand being brought round by a circular motion over the peak of the cap; the knuckles uppermost and fingers extended.

Shoulder arms.

Bring up the sword to the "recover," at the first motion of the firelock, the left arm resuming its position, at the same time, and at the second motion of the firelock, resume the position of "port swords."

Rear rank
(take close order.)
March.

Face to the right, and as the right foot is drawn to the rear, bring up the sword to the "recover."

Move back into the original line, and front at the same time, bringing the sword down to the right in the position of "attention," (close order.)

TO SALUTE ON THE MARCH.

The officers will fall in at five paces distant from each other in column, three or four officers being in one line, as when in front of a company, when they will march past and salute as follows:

The salute on the march in open order, is to commence when at ten paces from the general, the officer on the right of the company giving a signal, to prepare the other officers, by raising the fingers of the left hand. The sword is brought to the "recover" by slowly extending the arm to the right, and by a circular motion of the hand to the left: the time occupied in performing this movement will be that of four paces (commencing with the left foot) and, without pause, the sword is gradually lowered with an extended arm to the right: the left hand is then gradually raised over the peak of the cap, to the position already directed, two paces being required also for these motions, the head being turned to the officer saluted during the time of marching past. Having passed the general six paces, the sword is again brought to the "recover," and to its original position in four paces, the officer on the right of the company giving the signal with the left hand.

In marching past in quick time, the arms are to be kept perfectly steady to the sides, the sword in the hollow of the shoulder. The band and drums are to practice at this drill, which is never to be without a pendulum and pace stick.

In taking post exercise in the rear, at open order the officers when fronted, will bring the swords to the position of "attention," (close order) and on moving from thence to their places in line at close order, the swords to be brought to the recover, and when they have reached their place in line resume the position of "attention."

On the march, or when the battalion is manoeuvring, the following motion of the sword is to be adopted: viz.

The sword is to be carried to the full extent of the arm, the right side of the guard resting on the inside of the fingers, the thumb having a sufficient grasp on the outside, so as to hold it with ease and flexibility, the back of the blade being kept against the hollow of the right shoulder.

With reference to the regulations for the field exercise and evolutions of the army, page 249, and in which it is directed, that when troops in column at quarter distance are marching past an inspection in quick time, the mounted officers are to salute; it is to be understood, that, if the troops have previously marched round in slow time, the mounted officers are not to salute.

QUEEN'S TROOPS.

Meerut, 18th April 1839.—No. 193. At a general court-martial re-assembled at Cawnpore, on Thursday the 21st day of February 1839, Ensign James Andrew Campbell, on Her Majesty's 16th regiment of foot, was arraigned on the following charges :—

Charge.—For conduct unbecoming the character of an officer and a gentleman, in the following instances :

First. In having neglected to attend parade for muster on the 1st January 1839, (though he had been on the 10th of the preceding month censured for neglect of duty as officer of the day) and having, in a letter addressed to Lieutenant and Adjutant John Bruce, falsely assigned illness as the cause of his absence from muster parade.

Second. In having, on the afternoon of the 1st January 1839, entertained, and associated with Soldiers' wives, and other women, in the house of, and in company with Harriet Monks, a woman of bad character, during which evening the house was visited by gunner James Printon, of the 3d company 5th battalion of artillery, who, for a short time, sat at the table; notwithstanding that Ensign Campbell had been earnestly and repeatedly cautioned by his commanding officer against the ruinous consequences of intimacy with Harriet Monks, and had led his commanding officer to believe that he had separated himself from her entirely.

Third. In having, on the evening of the same day, whilst in an extreme state of intoxication, severely beaten and kicked without any immediate provocation, Khuda Bux, Khidmutgar.

ADDITIONAL CHARGES.

First Additional Charge.—With having, at Cawnpore, on the evening of the 10th January 1839, broken his arrest, by entering the bungalow of Dr. Charles McCurdy, civil surgeon of Cawnpore.

Second Additional Charge.—With Conduct highly disgraceful to the character of an officer and a gentleman, in the following instances :

First instance. In having, on the above mentioned occasion, without the slightest provocation, grossly abused and maltreated Khuda Bux, Khidmutgar, in the service of Dr. McCurdy.

Second instance. In having at the same time, during the absence of Dr. McCurdy, broken open a box, and supplied himself with beer, after drinking which he, Ensign Campbell was conveyed to his buggy in an extreme state of intoxication.

Upon which charges the court came to the following decision :

Finding.—The court having considered the evidence before it, is of opinion, that Ensign James Andrew Campbell, of Her Majesty's 16th regiment of foot, is, with respect to the first instance of the charge, guilty, excepting the word 'salarly,' of which the court acquits him.

"That the second instance, he is guilty, with the exception of the word 'entertained,' of which the court acquits him, as well as of the criminality conveyed in the following passage, during which evening the house was visited by Gunner James Printon, of the 3d company 5th battalion of artillery, who, for a short time, sat at table. The court considering the evidence insufficient to establish the fact here represented.

"In the third instance, that Ensign Campbell is guilty of having, on the evening of the same day, whilst in a state of intoxication, beaten and kicked Khuda Bux, Khidmutgar; but the court finds him not guilty of the remainder of this count and acquits him thereof.

"The court is of opinion, with respect to the facts found in these three instances, that Ensign Campbell is guilty of conduct unbecoming the character of an officer and a gentleman.

"The court in further of opinion, [that on the first additional charge Ensign Campbell is guilty]

"That in the first instance of the second additional charge, he is guilty, and in the second instance, that he is guilty, with the exception of having 'broken open a box,' and of being conveyed to his buggy 'in an extreme state of intoxication,' of which excepted portions the court acquits him, and with respect to these two instances the court find Ensign Campbell guilty of unbecoming conduct.

Sentence.—The Court Sentence Ensign James Andrew Campbell, of Her Majesty's 16th regiment of foot to be cashiered.

Approved,

Recommendation by the Court.—The court having discharged its duty in recording the above sentence, in obedience to the articles of War, would, in consideration of Ensign Campbell's youth and inexperience, and his earnest regret and contrition he has expressed, respectfully recommend his case to such alleviation as the Commander of the Forces may be able to afford to it."

REMARKS BY HIS EXCELLENCY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF.

The Commander in Chief can see no grounds for the "alleviation" which the members of the court recommend; because the misconduct of the prisoner was in direct disregard of attention to, the warning of his commanding officer, convey the letter of the 9th of December 1837.

The sentence to have effect from the date of its publication at Cawnpore.

REVIEW OF THE CALCUTTA MARKET.

Harkaru Office, 5th June, 1839.

* The state of our market since the last Overland Mail is represented in the following detail.

INDIGO.—Our market is altogether inactive, and no sales either private or Auction have been effected. Since our report by the last overland mail, we have had accounts of rains in all quarters, and although they have been heavy in some districts, they have caused no injury to the plant, which is reported to be generally healthily and promising. With regard to the out-turn of the season nothing yet can be said, but it will, on the whole, depend upon the way in which the rains which have now set in may proceed, and the rivers may rise prospectively.

The exports of the crop of the last season, as ascertained from the Customs House entries, to the end of May last, are as below.

MONEY MARKET.

Harkn Office, Calcutta, 5th June, 1830.

We have nothing here to add regarding the position of our Money Market since the departure of our last by way of the Persian Gulf a route to be followed by the present dispatch.

Our Bill market continues in the same state with no alteration in the rates, nor with any addition to our Stock of Bills. It is generally believed that the unsettled state of our relations with the Chinese Government (from which quarter we have not had more recent intelligence) will induce the holders of the large supply of all descriptions of Bills there, to send the same round to our market, it is impossible to say with any certainty what influence this great influx will have upon our rates, but judging from the common course of things that if we are to be thus inundated our exchange must rise. Again, they may be remitted round and confined only to first hands, when there will be a less desire to realize and consequently afford a better opportunity for the maintaining of our current quotations, which stand particularized under:

of the reports, is that the Company's finances are such that they must soon open a fresh 5 per cent. Loan, this has operated much to effect the value and we wonder that such can be so generally credited when the very circumstance of the Government sending money out of the country must deny the assertion and carry conviction. The fluctuations are the mere vagaries of the brokers.

Cap. LV. and if the vessel exceed 700 tons by measurement, the port duty shall be levied as upon that tonnage.

And it is hereby enacted that every upon vessel sailing under the colours of a foreign European or American nation that may anchor in the port of Madras, there shall be levied a consolidated port duty at the rate of three annas six pice per ton, according to measurement, made in the manner above prescribed.

And it is hereby enacted, that if any vessels, British, native or foreign, anchor in the port of Madras, shall not break bulk therein, and shall not remain four complete days from the time of dropping anchor, there shall be levied upon such a vessel a duty as follows, that is to say, five annas of the tonnage of the vessel shall be levied upon every vessel that may break bulk there, anchoring therein and remain out of the port within forty eight hours, and seven tenths of a penny without breaking bulk shall stay more than forty eight hours and less than ten complete days.

And it is hereby enacted that all the powers and authorities, penalties and other means whereby the payment of any charges of the port and anchorage of Madras may have been legally enforced before the passing of this act, shall be applicable to the enforcing of the consolidated and commuted port duties imposed by virtue of this act.

And it is hereby enacted, that it shall be lawful for the Government of India, to order the consolidation and commutation of any port or harbour duties, as levied in any subordinate port of any presidency into a tonnage duty, which shall be levied at the rate and in the manner specified in the next following section of this act, upon the vessels anchoring in and trading with such port.

And it is hereby enacted, that when the Governor General of India in Council shall direct the port duties to be commuted and consolidated at any port of the Madras presidency other than that of Madras, or any subordinate port of any other presidency the total amount levied at such port shall not exceed one anna per ton for British and native vessel not exceeding 700 tons, and upon vessels exceeding that measurement at the rate for 700 tons, and upon foreign European, and American vessels, at the rate of one anna four pice per ton, and all vessels anchoring in any such outports shall be charged with reduced duty in the proportion above provided for the ports of Madras, if they leave such port without breaking bulk before completing four entire days from the time of anchoring therein.

And it is hereby enacted, that the consolidated and commuted port duties above prescribed, when ordered to be levied in any port by the Governor General of India in Council shall be levied by the Officer appointed by the Government of the presidency within which the port is situate to give port clearances or other customary documents to vessels sailing from such port, that is to say by the Master Attendant, or by the Collector of Customs at such Port, as may be ordered by such Government, and if such duties be not paid upon demand, it shall be competent to such officer to withhold from the vessel on account of which payment may be refused, any port clearance or other customary duty required to be possessed by ships leaving such port until the same shall be paid.

VIII. And it is hereby enacted, that all the powers and authorities, penalties and other means by which any port or harbour duty of any subordinate port of any presidency which shall be consolidated, and commuted by virtue of this act, may have been legally enforced before the consolidation and commutation thereof as hereinbefore provided, shall be applicable to the enforcing of the consolidated and commuted duties at such port imposed by virtue of this Act.

Political Department, Fort William 3d June, 1839.—The following Official Despatch from the Envoy and Minister at the Court of Shah Shooahool Mookh, dated the 24th of April last, is published for general information.

To T. H. MADDOCK Esq.

Offy Secy to the Govt. of India, with the Govt. Genl.

Sir,—In my letter to your address of the 12th instant, I ventured to record an opinion to the effect, that the lapse of a few days would suffice to shew the high estimation in which His Majesty Shah Shooahool Mookh is held by his countrymen, as well as the wisdom of the policy pursued by the British Government, throughout the whole of the proceedings in which we are now engaged.

Yesterday the Shah, with his disciplined troops, made a march of 22 miles to Doh Hadjee, where we had the satisfaction of learning, that the Sindars were about to decamp. We have since ascertained that they actually set out about 3 o'clock yesterday evening, attended by about two hundred followers. Their conduct to the last was marked by meanness and rapacity. Whilst with one hand they were selling their stores of grain to the Merchants of the City, with the other they were practising every species of extortion and violence towards the peaceable inhabitants, and they departed amidst the execrations of all classes.

This morning we marched upon Caboolah, a distance of about 18 miles, and we are now encamped within two miles of the City. The spectacle which presented itself to us on the road, was the most interesting one I ever felt to my lot to witness. His Excellency Lieut. General Sir John Keane, with the Army of the Indus, was one march in our rear, our advance having been made on an erroneous calculation of the distance which, owing to the heat of the weather, was too great to be performed by the European troops. The Shah's disciplined troops were behind us, and His Majesty advanced, attended only by the officers of the Mission and his own immediate retinue. At every hundred yards of our progress, we were met by bands of well mounted and well armed men, all tendering their allegiance to His Majesty, whilst the peaceable inhabitants of the country assembled in crowds, and manifested their joy at the Shah's restoration in the most unfeigned terms.

Tranquillity was restored—the people flock, to our camp with the greatest confidence. There is no longer any apprehension of security, and even the confidential servants of the Sindars, several of whom have visited me, declare their satisfaction at the change of Government, and state that they would sooner have joined the Shah, but for the dread, that some evil would have been inflicted on their families, whom they must have left in the city.

His Majesty proposed to send out a party in the hope of overtaking the fugitive Sindars, and they certainly appear deserving of little consideration after the wickedness and folly which they have displayed, in spite of repeated and solemn warnings. It doubtless would be dangerous to allow them to remain at large, and excite disturbances in the country, but I was apprehensive that in the present excited state of men's minds, they might, if seized by the Shah's party, be subjected to unnecessary cruelty; I therefore prevailed upon His Majesty to permit me to make the Sindars one more offer, which, if accepted, will enable them to retire to our Territories in safety. Any provision which his Lordship the Governor General may please to assign to them will, of course, fall far short of what they would have received had they at once come into our terms, and I am of opinion that five hundred Rupees per manneem for each of them would be an ample provision.

6. It is my intention therefore to write to the Sardars through Moolah Nussoo, their confidential adviser, and I am not without hope that they will come into my terms, deserted as they are by nearly all the followers who left the City with them, and surrounded as they must be by dangers, and difficulties of every description.

7. I now proceed to detail the progress of events from the date of my last communication.

8. Since the dispatch of my letter to your address, dated the 12th instant, giving the substance of my communications with the birders, nothing of sufficient importance occurred to require a separate report.

9. In the Kajak Pass, we found a natural obstacle of a much more formidable nature than we anticipated, but it was speedily surmounted by the energy of the British troops. Brigadier Arnold, who went to reconnoitre the Pass, did not find it a smaller party detached by the Sirdars, and was tied upon. The party however made a precipitate retreat, and it was evident that the Sirdars had been surprised by the rapidity of our advance.

10. In the same Pass, letters were intercepted from the Sirdars, addressed to the authorities in Sevir, and the Eastern Provinces, stating that they intended to advance and oppose us in Poshter, and calling upon all true Mohammedans to join in a religious war, against the invading infidels. We further learnt that the Sirdars were still unremitting in their endeavours to excite the same feelings of animosity against us at Candahar.

11. It subsequently came to our knowledge that Rahim Dil Khan, and Mehr Dil Khan, with a number of other Chiefs and a body of between two and three thousand Cavalry, had snuffed Candahar with a view of annoying us in every possible way, leaving Kohun Dil Khan to guard their interests in the City. The main body advanced as far as Killa Futuhalah, whence they detached parties to the vicinity of Dunda Goolah. These parties succeeded in killing several of our followers who had incautiously strayed, and in carrying off two of my Elephants which had been, against orders, taken for the purpose of procuring fodder to too great distance from the Camp. They also put us to considerable inconvenience for a short time by diverting the stream, which supplied our Camp with water.

12. On the morning of the 20th instant Hajee Khoo Kakur, who had accompanied the Sardars from Gaudabar, and who is decidedly the most powerful Chief in those parts reported his arrival, with about 200 Harem-men, to pay his respects to the Shah. He was escorted into Camp and received with all honor both by His Majesty and myself. This defection, it was obvious, would at once prove fatal to the hopes of the Sardars.

13. On the same day two other persons of considerable influence came in, namely Abdool Majeed Khan, the son of Shah Pusa and Khan Governor of Lach, and Gholam Akhondzadeh, a Mullah, who I have good grounds for believing, was one of those who were most violent in stirring up the population to oppose us.

14. The accession of these individuals and the near approach of our Troops, filled the Sudas with consternation, and they fell back rapidly upon Caudabar.

25. The ancient nobles of the land have been nearly exterminated by the rapacious tyranny of the Baraksky Cossacks; but it was gratifying to find that the advent of the Shih was cordially welcomed in every stage of his progress by every man of respectability, who has been left in the country, and that his reception at Caudaher, as above detailed, has fully justified the opinions that have been pronounced, as to his popularity with all classes of his subjects.

16. I shall report further proceedings in the course of tomorrow.

I have, &c ,

(No. 915)

Judicial and Revenue Department, 5th June 1899—The following extract from a resolution by the Hon'ble the President in Council, under date 20th March 1899, communicated to the Bengal Government with Mr J P Grant's letter No. 42 of the 15th ult'mo, is published for general information.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Hon'ble the President of the Council of India in Council in the Financial Department, dated the 20th March, 1939

Resolution—Resolved, that the 46th November 1836, the date when the Hon'ble Court's despatch dated 11th May of 1836 was laid before the Council of India for orders, be the date which is to regulate the claim of incumbents to retain the allowances held by them on that date.

2d Resolved, that the date of the receipt of the present dispatch by its application to the officers of the Benal Division of the Presidency be the date when the letter from the Secretary of the War to the Right Hon'ble the Governor General, forwarding the decision from His Lordship's camp was laid before the Council, viz 20th February 1839

3d. With reference to the above dates Mr. C. Tucker, extra temporary Judge of the Sudder Dewanny and Nizamat Adawlut, under date 16th December 1846, (made permanent 9th September 1838,) and whose salary since the former date has been fixed at 55,000 must, from the 20th ultimo, be reduced to 42,000

4th In like manner the salary of Mr. Hawkins, Register, which, on the 16th January 1838 was fixed at 32,000 must, from the same date, be reduced to 30,000

5th. Of the Civil and Sessions Judges the officers drawing salaries in excess of 30,000 rupees, who, will fall under the orders for reduction contained in this despatch, are—

MEASUREMENTS. R. P. NIBBETT.

A Dick,

J. Templer,

W. Dent,

H. Oldfield,

all of whom draw 32,000 upon augmentations made and since the 16th November 1830. The other officers named in the list as having more than 30,000 are old incumbents, viz Messrs. Crauford, Lee Warner and J. D'Oily; and those who have received the higher rate of 36,000 before the 16th November 1830, viz, Messrs R. Burlew and H. Moore.

6th. Of the Civil and Session Judges (in Number 28) the following draw salaries less than 30,000 Messrs. Small Russell, Macdonald, Glasgow, Gough, Cattanach, Galding, Innes and Dunlop. The salary of all these officers being 28,000 they are each respectively entitled to an increase of 2,000 if such an amount is provided, but a deduction equivalent to furnish such an addition be immediately available, and if the deduction afford only a partial increase the amount is to be "proportionately" reduced.

* Court's Orders, proportioned among officers of the same class." The present amount available from Civil and Sessions Judge is 10,000,

But His Honor in Council regards the immediate saving made in the allowances of officers of the Sudder Court as likewise available for the augmentations of Civil and Session Judges' salaries. Thus the amount in hand applicable for augmentations from the 10th February last is 15,000.

7th. Since that late Mr. Cracroft's resignation has been received, this gentleman's salary was $4,000 being that of a 2d. Judge of Circuit under the old system. Considering the amount the excess above $6,000 as personal, His Honor in Council deems 6,000 to be available for augmentation of the inferior grade of salaries of Civil and Session Judges. Thus the total amount at present available is 21,000, but in addition to the nine gentlemen named as filling the office of Civil and Session Judge (with Mr. Ravenshaw, draws the same allowances of 28,000) and an additional Civil and Judge Session Judge, and the criminal duties to be performed in the trial of these offenders, are at least of equal responsibility and grade with those of ordinary Sessions. His Honor in Council is therefore disposed to admit the claim of this gentleman to be placed on the same footing in point of salary.

8th. Thus there are ten officers entitled to receive in the whole 20,000 rupees from the 30th February, but from that date till the departure of Mr. Croft, the amount available being only 15,000, they will each respectively receive only three-fourths of the augmentation allotted to them until the date when Mr. Croft's salary fell in, and from that date the entire increase, the additional judges performing only Civil duties will continue to draw, as before ordered, only 25,000.

9th. In the statement laid before the President in Council the next officers named are separate Magistrates. Of these the Chief Magistrate at Calcutta and Magistrate at 21 Pergunnas are special officers, the allowances of which have been sanctioned by the Hon'ble Court. The remainder, twelve in number, have been appointed under an arrangement not before the Court at the time of issuing their orders. The appointments having been substituted for those of Joint Magistrate and Deputy Collector.

10th. The despatch of the Hon'ble Court contains no orders specifically referring to these officers, but His Honor in Council is of opinion that the principle of the orders will apply, and therefore that the office of Magistrate must be established with an equal salary, the duties performed and the powers exercised being all of the same description.

11th. Of the twelve Magistrates appointed in Bengal, three are drawing 18,000 Rs. per annum and the remainder 12,000. The Right Hon'ble the Governor General has proposed to fix the equal salary of 15,000 Rs. per annum for this class of officers, in the Messrs Oudow, Ginnore, and Elliott would lose 3,000 per annum, and the remaining nine would obtain a salary increase. This would involve a not charge of 18,000 per annum, to meet which there is no deduction available from the salaries of officers of the same class, and as these officers were not embraced in the previous orders of the Hon'ble Court, and there has been no special salary assigned to this class of Officers which was rationally distributed unequally upon the principle of keeping the total the same, it cannot be assumed that there are vacancies of the higher grade.

12th. The President in Council concurring in the expediency of fixing the Salaries of the Magistrate on the uniform scale proposed, to wit, 15,000 per annum, feels that he would not be justified in providing the means by so large a net charge upon the resources of the country, since therefore the dispatch in question contains no specific orders in regard to this class. He resolved, that the case of the Magistrates be submitted to the Hon'ble Court with a recommendation that they may be uniformly placed on the footing of 15,000 per annum.

REVENUE.

13th. In the Sadler Board of Revenue the salary of Mr. R. D. Malles, Censorial Member, will require to be reduced from 40,000 to 32,000 but as this gentleman has taken his departure in the interim the case is only noted, for the saving which becomes available in consequence for other augmentations.

14th. Of the Commissioners, Mr. Dampier only draws more than the amount fixed by the Hon'ble Court his salary was fixed at 32,000 to 16,000 3,000 for travelling charges on the 26th January 1836. The orders for reduction do not therefore apply to him.

15th. The remaining six Commissioners of Revenue draw uniformly, 35,000, i. e. 35,000 + 3,000 travelling charges, (vide Civil Auditor's statement) which is the rate now finally established by the present despatch of the Hon'ble Court. There are thirteen gentlemen filling the office of Collector only, of these, three, A. C. Barwell, J. Wilkinson and Wm. H. Belli, are old incumbents, not affected by the present orders.* Of the remainder of the officers of this class two (Hon'ble J. C. Erskine, and H. Dick) draw 25,000 under appointments made subsequent to 16th November, 1836, each of these gentlemen will, therefore, under the present orders, lose, 2,000 per annum, 4,000 to reduce their salaries to the scale of 23,000 fixed by the Hon'ble Court for this class. There are eight officers—

These Officers draw the old salary of 18,810, besides commission, which more than makes up the deficiency Mr. Barwell draws the special salary heretofore drawn by him as Collector at Baccra, with the addition of a salt charge. The aggregate allowances of all these gentlemen of course in excess of the present highest scale of salary viz. 23,900.

A Oallvie,
N. Smith,
E. Sterling,
J. Laurell,
R. Forbes,
F. Skipwith,
W. Drom,
H. C. Hamilton,

drawing only 21,000 per annum, and to each of whom therefore an increase of 2,000 per annum would have to be awarded were there funds available under the order to apportion the amount available from the same class which is in this case 4,000 per annum; each of the above eight gentlemen would receive from the 29th ultimo, 500 per annum, and if the gain from reduction, of Mr. Mangia be thrown into the account they will each receive in addition one-eighth of 3,000 per annum from the 14th March, the date of Mr. Mangia's departure, to wit, 375 per annum.

16th. According to the letter of the Hon'ble Court's despatch there is no other fund at present available for addition to the allowances of the Collector's drawing only 21,000, but as each of the three old incumbents must be considered as Collector of the 1st class, there will be a further 2,000 Rs. to be distributed upon each vacancy, and when the whole of the officers have tapped the total salary of each of the Collectors now drawing 21,000 will be 500 + 875 + 750 = 1,625 + 21,000 = 22,625. Messrs. Erskine and Dick will, however, draw 23,000, there would still therefore be a grade amongst these officers— for their successors will still draw 23,000 i. e. superior allowances to other Collectors.

17th. There is however an important point still to be noticed which is this, that in the Resolution of the 21st May 1837, upon the previous despatch of the Hon'ble Court, it was laid down as a rule that the total Government payment to the class being taken at the amount fixed by the Hon'ble Court the distribution, instead of being equitably should be by grades, one half drawing an amount in excess of the average, and the other half in the same proportion less. But if this principle had been followed out as intended, the amount available for increase of the underpaid officers would, of course, have exactly equalled the demand, and it appears that the only reason why this is not the case is, that provision to the higher grade has for sometime been suspended, and on that account there is, reckoning the three incumbents of the former system as upper grade officers, a vacancy of one of this grade to complete the number six, or one and a half, if the exact half of 13 be taken, assuming 3,000 Rupees per annum to be available for the augmentations on this account a sum of 375 will be added immediately to the allowances of the underpaid Collectors, which is the complement of the exact sum of 23,000 for each. The effect of the Court's present orders will therefore be that, instead of drawing 23,000 immediately, 375 per annum of that amount will be payable from the date of Mr. Mangia's departure, and 750 in three parts, as Messrs. Baywell, Belli and Wilkinson vacate.

JUDICIAL—REVENUE.

18th. The next officers on the list are Magistrate Collectors— to these the Hon'ble Court has allotted the uniform salary of 25,000 per annum, with exception to the three employed in Cuttack, who being also Salt Agents, are allowed to draw 28,000. There are 14 officers of this class, of whom one only, Mr. Rauken draws 24,000 upon the ground of having a small charge of Customs—all the remainder, the Cuttack officers excepted, who draw also 28,000 as allowed by the Court in consideration of the districts being unsettled, and of there being a salt charge annexed to each receive 24,000 per annum. There are thus ten officers to be increased 2,000 Rupees each, and as the Salary authorized by the Court for Chittagong in the previous despatch was 28,000, the Government having raised it is increased to 30,000 on equal grounds personal to Mr. Harvey, which the present despatch recognizes, there are none who will suffer corresponding deductions. According to the strict principle of the Hon'ble Court's despatch there is no fund from which to provide for these officers the increases allotted to them, and as the expediency of dividing the Magistrate's office from that of Collector's appears now to be very generally admitted in Bengal, it may not be considered of so much importance to seek prospectively for the means of raising the salaries of the Magistrate Collectors in the manner proposed by the Court.

19th. It is to be observed however, that the cause of there being no Collectors Magistrates on the higher salary of 28,000 is the same, as remarked in the case of the Collectors only, viz. the suspension of promotions to the higher grade. The entire halt heretofore of the number of these officers may, on the same principle, be deemed entitled to the augmentation though they have not received it, in which case the fund, though in abeyance exists for raising the whole to 26,000 from the 20th February last.

20th. In the business of administration there are evidently three distinct duties to be performed. The collection of revenue, the administration of Civil Justice, and the preservation of the Police and peace of the country.

21st. The natural provision for the performance of these duties is through separate officers for each, and if heretofore the Police and Peace have been united first with the administration of Civil Justice, and subsequently with the collection of Revenue, the doubling up of distinct duties has been a necessary imperfection arising from the desire to diminish the number of public officers as well for the sake of economy as from the want of servants in sufficient number to provide separate officers for all three duties.

22nd. The latter want is not at present felt, because of the extraordinary supply of Civil Servants furnished by the Hon'ble Court in the years 1830, 1837, and 1843.

GENERAL REGISTER

28th.—Of the fifty servants nominated in each of these years forty have now passed their tenth year, which is a period of service at which full competence for the most responsible duties is of necessity reached. It is in this condition of the service which enables the Government and seems to require of it to provide separate officers for each of the three classes of ministerial duties, which have of necessity to be performed in every district.

29th. The only class of officers remaining to be noticed is that of independent John Magistrates and Collectors, who have always been appointed at out stations. Of these there are at present nine, of whom five receive Rs. 800 per annum, and four 12,000. If in order to follow out the principle laid down by the Hon'ble Court it be deemed necessary to equalize these allowances, and consequently it should be determined to place them all on the scale of 15,000, there will be an excess of 3,000 beyond the amount required to raise the smaller salaries which may be added to the allowances of the Magistrate-Collectors, making a further addition to them of 800 rupees each per annum; but his Honour in Council is inclined to respect the rights of incumbents of the class under review, and would not therefore order a present reduction, more especially as they are not included amongst the classes, revised by the Hon'ble Court, so that the salary assigned is not in contravention of any orders of the Hon'ble Court. More over in several instances the separate joint office at the out station had existed at the same salary for a long time, and thought of necessity known to the Hon'ble Court, they have not been ordered to be reduced.—His Honour in Council therefore, instead of equalizing the allowances of these out station officers, prefers establishing 18,000 rupees as the ordinary salary of them, and seeking to reduce their number by a new distribution of Zillahs so as to abolish the lower grade on 1,000 per mensem.

30th.—There is an inferior class of Officers not entered in the list called Joint Magistrates and Deputy Collectors of the 2d grade on the salary of Head Assistant under the old system, viz. 8,400 per annum.

31st. These officers were until lately divided into two classes the higher, of which received 1,000 per mensem. These have now however been entirely absorbed. The abolition of the Gratulation System will therefore have no application to the remaining single grade of these officers, which, as an useful and in troublesome districts, may require to be maintained.

32d. It only remains to notice the individual cases,—these are the cases of Mr. W. Young, Secretary to the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium, to whom the Hon'ble Court confirm his previous allowances of 30,000, but direct the salary of the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium, to be reduced to 28,000 on a vacancy. This reduction will of course take effect.

33d. The cases of Messrs. Harvey and Mills require no orders as both these officers are now Commissioners.—The case of the Salt Agents of Hidgelee and Tumulon is again referred to by the Hon'ble Court. The salary of these officers were in the previous despatch, ordered to be reduced from 50,000 to 42,000 Mr. Barlow, the Salt Agent of Hidgelee, as an incumbent, is entitled to continue upon his present allowances of 50,000, but Mr. Martin was appointed in August 1835, upon a salary of 30,000.

34th. It is not clear to the President in Council whether this latter salary shall be raised.

35th. Having thus disposed of the questions arising out of this despatch, so far as they apply to Bengal,—Ordered that copy of the above Resolution be sent to the right Hon'ble the Governor General for his Lordship's information, in order that the President in Council may have the benefit of His Lordship's views and sentiments as to the manner in which the Court's orders should be carried into effect also in the North Western Provinces.

Ordered, that a copy of the above resolution be sent to the Government of Bengal through the revenue and Judicial Department of the Government of India, with a view to the several augmentations and reductions being carried fully into effect from the dates and in the manner stated.

Head Quarters Meerut, 17th April 1839.—The Commander of the Forces directs the publication of the following extract of general orders issued under date the 18th October 1832 and enjoins the strictest attention to the instructions therein contained.

Whenever the finding and sentence of a native general court martial is published to the army the Commander in chief expects that commanding officers of native regiments and battalions will not content themselves with barely having the same read at the head of their respective corps, they must use their best endeavours through the medium of their interpreters to cause the whole subject, including the Commander in Chief's decision and remarks, to be fully understood at least by the native officers. This is to be considered as a standing order of the service, and to be entered in the book of general regulations with each corps.

Head Quarters, Camp Mahabeshpur 27th April 1839.—No. 1.—All Reports, Correspondence, &c. Sent intended for the information of his Excellency the Commander in Chief, are to be addressed to the respective Departments of Adjutant General, Quarter Master General and Military Secretary, Head Quarters Bombay Presidency, until further orders.

The appointment of Captain Michel, Her Majesty's 3d Regiment, (or Buffs) to be Assistant Adjutant General to the Queen's Troops serving with the Army of the Indus, as stated in the General Order of the 20th January last, has not taken place.

His Lordship the General Commander in Chief has been pleased to sanction the appointments of Captain Lushington, Her Majesty's 9th, and of Ensign Currie, Her Majesty's 94th Regiment, to be Aide de Camp to the Hon'ble the Governor of Bombay.

With reference to be General Order of the 21st of June last, directing that a certain portion of the mess contributions of Her Majesty's Regiment in India should be remitted for the use of the Mess of the provisional Battalion at Chattram, His Excellency the Commander in Chief in compliance with further instructions received from the Right Honourable the General Commanding in Chief is pleased to direct that, the contributions to be so transmitted are to be restricted to the proportion for officers allowed on the establishment of one Company; viz. one Captain, two Lieutenants and one Ensign.

Her Majesty has been pleased to approve of two Sergeants and one Corporal being added to the establishment of each Depot Company of the Regiment of Infantry serving in India, and with a view of placing all Regiments upon the same footing as to Colour Sergeants, that one of the additional Sergeants shall be Colour Sergeants.

GENERAL REGISTER.

His Excellency the General Commanding in Chief has approved of the additional appointments thus authorized; viz two Sergeants, and one Corporal, being made at the respective Depot at Ootacamund.

His Excellency the Commander in Chief is pleased to direct the publication of the following opinion, given by the Judge Advocate General in England on a case reference to him relative to the forfeiture of Pay and Pension of Soldiers on Discharge, and of Dismissal with Ignominy, from the Service, His Excellency is in their pleasure to direct, that a copy of this order shall be furnished in all Courts Martial assembled for the trial of Soldiers in such cases.

Opinion.—“A Soldier who has not served a sufficient length of time to entitle him to a Pension, may, notwithstanding, be subjected to this Sentence of forfeiture, and the Court may recommend that he be Dismissed with Ignominy, from the Service.”

“Should the recommendation be carried in to effect, the Discharge follows, and in that case there can be no doubt that the Soldier is barred from claim, or advantage as to Pension on Discharge.”

“This recommendation, however forms no part of the Sentence and it may happen that the recommendation will not be attended to. In this case, the Soldier will continue to serve, and may serve long enough to entitle him to a Pension, and unless a forfeiture against him to prevent it, which I conceive in no question would, he might reckon his time of service before conviction, and make that service a part of his claim to Pensions on Discharge.”

The same reasoning applies to that part of the Sentence of forfeiture which relates to additional Pay whilst serving.

The leave of absence granted by his Excellency Lieutenant General Sir John E. M. to Lieutenant and Brevet Captain Mackenzie, Her Majesty's 10th Regiment, for 2 years, to Europe, on private affairs, proceeding in charge, of Invalids, is confirmed.

Rs. 7 13 per fy. m. l. and sales effected of several small parcels at this price, but since the last 3 or 4 days the price has again looked up, but we have heard of no transaction; this rise is not owing to any demand from the Upper Provinces, but to a speculative measure at this place. The Stock in the hands of importers consists of about 1061 tons.

As regards prospects of the ensuing crop, we think that under present circumstances, they are more favorable than they were a fortnight back, accounts received from the Factories up to the latest dates represent as below.

Very favorable from Ghazepore, Azimgur, Colgong and Moongheer, but not quite so favorable at Malda and Furruckpoor. Prospects are good in Turhoot, and the periodical rains have set in, but the accounts from Mymensing and Dacca are discouraging, and in Jessore the rivers were rising rapidly, but manufacturing was going on very favorably, want of Rain was complained of at Allahabad, although the weather was constantly cloudy.

Several Estimates have already been formed here of 1,00,000 mds, 11,000 mds and 1,50,000 mds, but it is to be impossible at this present moment, when manufacturing is going on at some places, and not yet commenced with at others, to form a correct idea of the Crop, there are many contingencies yet to contend with by the Planters.

The Exports of the last crop, up to this day are—

MONEY MARKET.

Burkharu Office, Calcutta, 10th July, 1839.

The Water Witch, an opium clipper, to leave hence on the 12th instant, under engagements by the Government to carry, an overland despatch, to be left at Aden, from whence it is to be carried up to Suez by a steamer, affords us an opportunity to prepare a report for our friends.

Since our last of the 18th ultimo, viz the Gulph, our money market has not had much scope for active operation. The stoppage of the China Trade, and the non-receipt of any satisfactory intelligence continues to maintain the gloom which the first intelligence had cast; the deliveries of the opium which was resigned over to the Chinese authorities, by last advices, were continued to be made, and it is hardly possible to expect any reaction in affairs until some measure is entered into towards claiming compensation for the losses. The adverse and determined steps of the Chinese have caused several houses of business at Canton to decline receiving further consignments of opium.

The overland mail to the 25th April, came in on the 6th instant, and the accounts brought out are in all satisfactory. The remittances received on this occasion have been pretty fair and come opportunely.

There is not much variation in our Bill Market, the rates of all descriptions continued at the same quotations as our last, for the first few days after its dispatch, when they began to fall as the Warehouse advances diminished, the exchanges had advanced to present quotations, and even a little higher, when it was restrained by the Government ordering a further sum of a crore of rupees to be appropriated on the same terms for operations for season 1839-40. We may now look forward to the Exchange remaining fixed at 2s. 2d. per Company's rupees. Within the last week or ten days, negotiations to a large extent have gone forward at quotations.

Lapsidure Department, 10th June 1839—The following Act is passed by the Honble the President of the Council of India in Council on the 10th June 1839, with the assent of the Right Honble the Governor General of India, which has been read and recorded—

Ordered that the Act be promulgated for general information
Act No. XVI. of 1839.

I. It is hereby enacted, that from the first day of January, in the year of Our Lord 1840 the following rules shall be in force for regulating the assessment and collection of the rents payable to Government in the Settlements of Prince of Wales Island, Singapore and Malacca.

II. And it is hereby enacted, that if any person, except as is provided in the last Section of this Act, shall hold or occupy any land within any of the settlements aforesaid, not under a grant or title from Government duly registered and which land has not been declared, by competent authority, free from assessment, such land shall be liable to assessment, and shall be assessed in such manner at such rate, and under such conditions, as the Collector acting under the instructions of the Governor of Bengal, shall determine.

III. And it is hereby enacted, that if any person holding or occupying land in the manner set forth in the preceding section shall refuse to engage for or to remove from the land within one month from the date on which he shall be called upon by the collector to enter into such engagement, or so to remove from it, by a written notice to be served personally, or at the residence of the owner or occupier, or to be stuck up on the premises, it shall be lawful for the said collector to eject such person from the land so held or occupied, and to take and hold possession of the same on the part of Government, to be disposed of in such manner as the Governor of Bengal may direct. Provided that no person so holding or occupying land who has filed or shall file his claim to exemption from assessment thereon before the day and year aforesaid, shall be liable to be so called upon by the Collector until his claim shall have been determined by competent authority.

IV. And it is hereby enacted, that all Magistrates and Police Officers shall aid and assist the Collector and his Officers in the due exercise of the power of ejectment conferred upon the said Collector by the foregoing Section, and any holder or occupier of land who shall resist or cause to be resisted the exercise of the said power, and any person who shall be aiding and abetting in such resistance, shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be punished by fine not exceeding one thousand Rupees, or in default of payment of the fine, by imprisonment not exceeding six months.

V. And it is hereby enacted, that after the date on which this Act shall be in force in the settlements aforesaid, any persons desirous of clearing and occupying waste and forest lands for the purposes of agriculture shall make application to the collector of Land Revenue, who is hereby authorised to measure and assess the land, and to grant a lease for the same, in such manner, and under such conditions, as the Governor of Bengal may from time to time prescribe. And if, by reason of the density of the jungle or other obstacles, it should be found impracticable to cause immediate measurement to be made of land so to be leased, it shall be competent to the collector to issue to such applicant a permit or written authority, of which the number, date, and all essential particulars shall be entered in a Register to be kept for that purpose, to clear and occupy such land subject to the conditions, on which a lease would have been granted. And on all land occupied under any such permit so issued, it shall be lawful for the collector to demand and enforce the payment of rent in like manner as if a regular lease had been granted. And the collector shall, with all practicable despatch, cause all land so occupied to be measured, and after such measurement the permit shall be called in and cancelled, and in lieu thereof a lease shall be issued, the term of which shall commence from the date of the permit. Provided, however, that it shall not be competent to a collector to grant any lease of lands for a term exceeding twenty years renewable on such conditions as the Governor of Bengal may direct for a further period of thirty years.

VI. And it is hereby enacted, that upon granting any lease under the provisions of the foregoing section, the collector shall require the applicant to set up good and solid landmarks by which the boundaries of the ground to be occupied by him shall be plainly defined, and such landmarks shall be set up to the satisfaction of the collector to be certified by him on the back or other part of the lease before the lease shall take effect, and it shall be a condition in every lease so granted, that the lease is to maintain all such landmarks in every substantial repair. And if it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the collector, that, notwithstanding this condition such landmarks have not been kept in good repair, it shall be competent to the collector to cause the proper repairs to be made, and to levy three times the cost on such repairs from the holder or occupier of the land, the amount to be levied by the process provided for the collection of rents. And the collector or his officers shall at all times have the right of free access to such land for the purpose of inspecting and directing the construction or repair of the landmarks, and any person resisting them in the exercise of this right or removing or defacing any landmark set up in conformity with the provisions of this act, shall be punished in the manner provided in the IV. section of this act.

VII. And it is hereby enacted, that all applications to hold or occupy lands for a term exceeding that specified in section V, for the purpose of erecting houses or other durable work on such lands beyond the limits of the principal towns in the settlements aforesaid, shall be forwarded by the collector to the Governor of Bengal, who will grant or reject such applications as in his judgement may seem fit.

VIII. And it is hereby enacted, that every lease granted under the provisions of this act shall be signed by the collector for the time being, and shall specify the name of the lease holder, the quantity and boundaries of the land included in the lease, and the rate of rent to be paid per acre per annum, which particulars, together with any other conditions material to the right of government, one of the party obtaining the lease, shall be entered in a register to be kept in the collector's office for that purpose.

IX. And it is hereby enacted, that it shall be lawful for the collector to accept on the part of Government any surrender of a grant or lease by the parties interested in the same for the purpose of subdividing the same and to regrant or lease the same in parcels. Provided that no such subdivision shall be allowed, unless all arrears of rent under the original grant or lease are paid up and provided that on no one portion of a grant or lease so subdivided shall a less rent than one rupee per annum be leviable

GENERAL REGISTER.

X. Clause First—And it is hereby enacted, that whenever the rent of any grant or lease from Government of land within any of the settlements aforesaid shall fall due, payment thereof shall be made by the holder or occupier of the land at the office of the collector, to such person as shall be authorized to receive the same, and on failure of such payment the same may be recovered in the manner following.

Clause Second—When an arrear of rent shall have become due, the collector shall demand payment of it by a notice of demand, in writing, stating the amount of the arrear, and requiring payment of the same within fifteen days from the date of the service of the notice, and stating that in default of payment within the period specified, the amount of the arrear due, together with the costs of process, will be recovered under the powers of this Act.

Clause Third—The notice of demand shall be served by the delivery thereof to any holder or occupier of the land, or by being left at his ordinary place of residence, or by being stuck up on the premises.

Clause Fourth—For the service of the aforesaid notice one rupee shall be charged and shall be leviable, if not paid on demand, in the same manner as arrears of rent.

Clause Fifth—Whenever an arrear of rent shall be demanded in the manner above prescribed, and shall not be discharged, it shall be lawful for the collector to issue an attachment and to seize by virtue of such attachment, as well the personal property of the holder or occupier as also any effects or any crops to whomsoever belonging which may be found upon the land on account of which the arrear may be due and to bring the same to sale by public auction at the collector's office or elsewhere, five days previous notice of such sale being stuck up at some conspicuous spot, and at the place where it is intended to bring the crops, or other property to sale.

Clause Sixth—The attachment shall be made by an officer deputed, for the purpose, who shall publicly notify the attachment, and shall at the same time on any property attached, and take an inventory thereof, and it shall be competent to the said officer to require the assistance of the police in case of resistance to his authority, or of any attempt to remove the crops or other property from the premises, or otherwise to defeat the process.

Clause Ninth—An advertisement shall be stuck up for not less than twenty days before the sale, in the collector's office, and in a court of justice situated near to the land specifying the description of the land, the name of the defaulter, the amount of the arrear, the time and place of the intended sale, and the conditions thereof. The sale shall be conducted by Public Auction, in the presence of the collector, the highest bidder shall be declared the purchaser, and the proceeds of the sale, after deducting the arrear originally due to Government, with interest thereon at 12 per cent. per annum, and any further arrear that may have accrued up to the day of sale, together with the costs incurred by the sale, or other lawful process, shall be paid over to the party or parties entitled. Charge 1.—For conduct unbecoming the character of an officer and a gentleman in having, in the station billiard room at Allahabad, on the night of the 16th March 39, in the hearing of several gentlemen, repeatedly uttered concerning Lieutenant Gabriel Henry Whistler, who was not then present, the words "coward" and "blackguard," and other insulting expressions; and in having said to Lieutenant Stephen Nation, (one of the Company, who had declared that he would inform Lieutenant Whistler,) that he would apply the same expressions to him, if he did not that night bring him a hostile message from Lieutenant Whistler, which Lieutenant Nation had previously refused to do.

2d. His Lordship comments on the unnecessary correspondence occasioned by deviation from the instructions laid down in the regulation, of the army on this subject, and he is of opinion, that Lieutenant Colonel Bolton would find it difficult to assign any reasonable pretext for not addressing himself on this occasion, to the general officer under whom he is serving, and he points out that the Lieutenant Colonel should be reminded of the necessity of adhering in future to the Regulations.

As more than one instance of this irregularity has occurred amongst her Majesty's regiments with this army, his Excellency the Commander in Chief deems it necessary to refer the Commanding officers of regiment to the instructions, pages 61 and 62 of the regulations and orders for the army; which he desires may be more carefully adhered to in future.

REVIEW OF THE CALCUTTA MARKET.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

INDIGO.—Advices have been received during the week from Benares, Junpore and the Upper Provinces which report very favorably of the Indigo prospects, and although the late rains may have diminished the produce a little herabouts, the present hot weather will soon bring it up again, the result therefore still promises to range between a crop of 110 and 120,000 mounds.

We have heard of no transaction during the week, and at the public sale of 71 chests of low Up Country produce held on Tuesday last, there were no biddings.

RAW SILK.—Considerable business has been done in this article since our last for shipment for England; but the prices quoted show a further reduction of 2 a 4 ns. per seer from last week's rates. Accounts from Consimbhazrat state that the prospects of the Band had last month promised a full one, but the recent heavy rains have reduced it considerably.

SILK PIFCE GOODS.—Transactions are confined to Corbous of good quality, which continue in demand for the English market. Choppabs and Handanas are less required for, and the assortments remain as quoted in our last.

COTTON.—Purchases of this article are limited, and prices remain without any change since our last Shipments are in progress for England and China.

SALTPETRE. Transactions during the week have been inconsiderable, but the late prices are fully maintained. The inactivity in the market is attributable to the demand being somewhat restrained for the Home market, the near completion of shipments to America, and the scarcity of good quality in the bazar.

SUGAR.—Continues to engage attention for the Home market, but the price is yet too high to admit of purchase.

LAC.—The demand for Shell Lac continues to be supported for England and America, at about last week's prices. Lac Dye of ordinary to low quality is enquired after for America, better sorts are in limited operation, and prices remain without change.

GRAIN.—The scarcity of fine Rice in the market has suspended operation for England. Shipments to the Mauritius, Bourbon and the Coast are renewed, and extensive operations are in progress in Moonghy Rice and Wheat.

DRY GINGER.—A few purchases are reported for America at our quotation.

HIDES AND HORNS.—Of good size and weight continue to be inquired after for the Home market at our quotations.

LINSEED.—Continues in demand for shipment to England, and the price has slightly improved.

OPPIUM.—There have been many transactions since the Company's arrival, but mostly among the speculators in the bazar, who, have succeeded in running up the price to 300 rupees, though where the prospects exist to warrant such an immense advance, it would be difficult to tell.

CHINA, STRAITS AND COAST PRODUCE.

ALUM.—A sale is reported at an improvement of 3 annas per maul on our last quotation.

BEKLANUT.—Without sale, and remains as last quoted.

GENERAL REGISTER.

CHINTZES AND COLORED COTTONS.—Of all descriptions continue to be saleable at about last week's prices.

WHITE COTTONS.—Sales continue to be effected in Shirtings and Long Cloths, Cambrics, Jaconets and Ipok Muslins, but we are unable to report any improvement in prices. Lappets and other lighter fabrics are less enquired for at this time of the year, and we have no change in prices to notice.

WOOLLENS.—Fine and Coarse Cloths continue to be enquired after, but at no improvement in prices.

COPPER.—The demand for this metal has been more active since our last, and sales of Sheathing, Braziers and File have been rather extensive during the week, at improved prices.

IRON.—A sale of Swedish flat is the only transaction in this metal reported this week at our quotation.

STEEL.—A sale of Swedish Steel is reported at our quotation.

The appointment by his Excellency Lieutenant General Sir Jasper Nicolls, of Captain Brown, her Majesty's 57th regiment, to act as Aide-de-Camp to Major General Sir Robert Dick, K. C. B., during the absence of Captain Pye, is confirmed.

Head-quarters, Poona, 19th June, 1839.—The leave of absence granted by the officer commanding the forces in Bengal, to assist surgeon Pileau, her Majesty's 6th Regiment, to proceed from Calcutta to England, on medical certificate, and to be absent on that account, for 2 years from the date of embarkation, is confirmed.

Head-quarters, Mahabeshwur, 29th May, 1839.—No. 4.—His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief of the Army in Scinde, having referred the minutes of a court martial held upon Lieutenant Reynolds of her Majesty's 2d, or Queen's Regiment of Infantry, together with his observations and orders thereon to the Commander in Chief in India, His Excellency has been pleased to direct the latter with his remarks to be published to her Majesty's Troops in the East Indies.

Head-quarters, Camp, Shadulpur, 14th March, 1839.—O. O.—At a general court martial held at Camp Lukkee, and continued by adjournments to the 6th March 1839, Lieutenant Henry Reynolds, of her Majesty's 2d, or Queen's Regiment, was arraigned on the following:

Charge.—Lieutenant Henry Reynolds, 2d, or Queen's Regiment, placed in arrest by me, for highly irregular and unofficer-like conduct, in twice refusing to perform his duty as a Member of a regimental court martial on the 14th January last, when called upon by me to do so as the President of the said Court.

2d, or Queen's Royal Regiment

Upon which charge the Court came to the following decision:

Revised Finding.—The Court having attentively considered her remarks contained in the letter from his Excellency's Military Secretary, it does respectfully adhere to its former finding, and it does therefore fully and honorably acquit the Prisoner, Lieutenant Reynolds, her Majesty's 2d, or Queen's Royal Regiment, of all and every part of the Charge exhibited against him.

Disapproved.

Lieutenant Reynolds is to be released from arrest, and to return to his duty.

The Commander in Chief abstains from remark upon this trial, considering it better to forward the proceedings to His Excellency the Commander in Chief in India, now at Bombay, for his Excellency's consideration.

By order of His Excellency the Commander in Chief,

Depy. Adj. Genl. Her Majesty's Forces.—Bombay

REMARKS BY HIS EXCELLENCY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF IN INDIA.

1st. The charge on which Lieutenant Reynolds was arraigned is so far from definite, that it is not possible to infer from it what was the fact charged; of which he has been "fully and honorably acquitted."

2d. The charge should have averred distinctly, that he had twice refused to vote on the question of punishment, after a prisoner had been convicted by a majority of the members of a court martial of which he was a Member.

3d. It would have been better had more care been bestowed on the charge, by the officer whose duty it was to prepare it for adjudication.

4th. It is impossible to understand the grounds of the Court's acquittal of Lieutenant Reynolds, it seems doubtful whether they procured in his reasoning, and deemed that, in acting on his own erroneous opinions, he was not by so doing, guilty of irregular and unofficer-like conduct; or on what other reasoning his innocence is affirmed.

If the first was the ground for their opinion, it is necessary that their mistake should be pointed out to them.

5th. On a reference made to the Judge Advocate General of His Majesty's Army, on this point, in the year 1834, he ruled as follows.

"Upon a finding of guilty by a court martial, I am of opinion on "that although all the members of the Court may not have concurred in it, it must be deemed the finding of the whole, and the members who voted for acquittal may be called upon to "vote upon the punishment to be awarded on the prisoner, as "if they had concurred in the finding of guilty.

6th. This settled the point as to the interpretation of the law by her Majesty's officers, and it was little becoming the Court to be led away by the declaration of Lieutenant Reynolds, and to "honorably acquit him" of an error which he had actually committed, it is strange why the term "Honorably" should be at all introduced since the charge in no way affected his honour.

7th. The Commander in Chief is of opinion, that the Court greatly erred in voting the charges against the "Lieutenant" "Vexatious, and not for the good of the service" and also in their intimation to the observations of his Excellency the Commander in Chief of the Army in Scinde; in whose reasoning, as laid before the Members of the Court (in his Military Secretary's letter of 6th March 1839.) His Excellency the Commander in Chief in India, generally concurs; as he does also in the disapproval of the sentence passed by the Court.

The general state of our market, with regard to Imports, Exports, Freights, Exchange and Public Securities, since the departure of the last Overland Mail on the 11th ultimo, may be gathered from the following details.

Copper.—Some demand has been manifested for this Metal since our last Extra, for the Upper Provinces, and considerable sales have been effected at improved prices. EXPORTS.

INDIGO.—The accounts from all the Indigo districts, since the issue of our last Overland extra, have been more favorable than we were led to expect from the continual rains we have lately had; advices from Ghazepore, Manares and the districts in the neighbourhood are good, periodical rains have fallen, and the plants look promising. Tirhoot and Purneah have somewhat suffered from the rains and rise of the rivers. —Mymensing, Dacca and Jessore have also suffered a little, but manufacturing has nearly been completed, as well as in Kishnaghur, where the season has turned out a very promising one; taking all circumstances into consideration, we are now inclined to think that the crop will not exceed 1,20,000 mds., nor fall short of 1,15,000 mds.

In our market, sales of the old crop have been limited, and confined only to American accounts. The exports to the present time are:

RAW SILK.—The Filatures at Cossimbazar and other districts have suffered considerably from the recent heavy rains. Our market was consequently expected to improve both as to demand and prices; but the last Overland accounts have very much checked the desire to operate in this article, though there have been very considerable operations (of a speculative character) in expectation of a great falling off in the supplies from China, but it seems this will be more than made up by the expected excess from Italy.

We quote the following as the prices of the day for the assortments.

SILK PRICE GOODS.—Good Corahs, Choppahs and Bandanas have been in demand for England, but the scarcity of supplies in our market have restrained operation. The accounts from Home will very much check the desire to operate in these Goods also.

MONEY MARKET.

Hurkani Office, Calcutta, 27th Aug. 1839.

Our last of the 10th July carried intelligence of and indifferent state of things, since then we have not had much, if any improvement. Our China news are more satisfactory, that is, with respect to our knowledge of what is doing there and freed from that uncertain anxiety which was experienced from the want of correct and authentic intelligence. The Opium deliveries had been completed to the extent of 20,000 chests, now for the compensation! it is true, that the several parties who have relinquished there Opium hold from the Superintendent of Trade at Canton, an order on the Home Treasury for compensation, but whether the granting of such an order be acknowledged remains yet a question of doubt; holders are not very sanguine of the result, and the report of the attempt made at public auction for the sale of these orders termed "Opium Scrips," clearly shows a want of confidence, the highest offer made was 365 Rupees per chest, altho' the sale was well attended by all classes interested in the Trade and consequently well supported.

Our Home intelligence have not been exciting, the Mails for May and June have come in, and we are now looking out for the July one.

Our Bill Market since our last, has continued without change, the business done the first two weeks after its departure was pretty fair, but since then it has been exceedingly dull and heavy, and it was not until within the last week that we experienced any activity, and this we may say is actuated by the preparation for the Mail to leave to-morrow, via Bombay. By this opportunity, we expect that there will be large remittances made, and these are chiefly Bills against consignments with documents negotiated at 2s 2d. per Co.'s Rupee.

There has been but a very trifling business done through the Government Export Warehouse.

Under are the current rates of our Bill Market.

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES.—These Securities remain neglected, and we perceive no near prospect of any improvement. The Bazar has been rife with reports of several kinds, to act, we presume in favor of the 4 per cents. which are very much depressed and have a tendency to go lower. It is almost a matter of certainty that there will be a campaign against Barmah, when, of all the reports, we are disposed to believe that a new 5 per cent. Loan will be opened and possibly as an inducement to its quick subscriptions, the amount will be received half in 4 per cent. paper and half in cash, such has been reported to us, as coming from a good source, and such we think very probable.

Stock paper has changed hands very freely, unbiased by bazar quotations at eleven rupees premium payable by bills on England at 2s 2d. per Co.'s Rupee—there is a large stock of all descriptions in the market, and the rates they stand at are as under.

BANK OF BENGAL.—Stock 1,12,50,000 Co.'s Rs. Shares 4000 Rupees. The meeting called as noticed has recovered the late depression they have been slowly but steadily advancing from 1,900 to 2,450 Rupees premium, at which rate sales have been effected; the Bazar quotation is 2,500 Rupees.

UNION BANK.—Stock 1,00,00,000 Co.'s Rupees Shares 1,000 Rupees. The meeting called as noticed in our last for the 15th July terminated in the increase of the capital to the present amount and one of the resolutions went to cut down the interests, on deposits on fixed balances from 4 to 3 per cent. per annum, another, was the establishment of a reserved fund to the extent of two lacs of rupees, with a view of equalizing the dividends, and keeping them from falling below 8 per cent., the rate declared for the past half year. (sd) T. H. MADDOCK,

TO THE RIGHT HONORABLE LORD AUCKLAND, G. C. B.

My Lord.—We have the honor to acquaint your Lordship that the Army marched from Ghuznee en route to Cabool, in two columns, on the 30th and 31st ultimo. His Majesty Shah Shoojahool Moolk, with his own troops, forming part of the second Column.

On the arrival of the Commander-in-Chief with the 1st column at Hyde Khail, on the 1st instant information reached him, and the same reached the Envoy and Minister at Haft Assayn that Dost Mahomed with his Army and artillery were advancing from Cabool and would probably take up a position at Urghandee or within the former 24, the latter 30 miles from Cabool. Upon this, it was arranged that His Majesty with the 2nd column under Major General Walshe, should join the 1st column here, and advance together, to attack Dost Mahomed, whose son, Mahomed Akbar, had been recalled from Jellisabad, with the troops guarding the Khyber Pass, and had formed a junction with his father, their joint forces, according to our information, amounting to about 15,000 men.

Every arrangement was made for the King and the Army marching in a body from hence to morrow, but in the course of the night messengers arrived and stated (this morning) a great many Chaks and their followers, announcing the dissolution of Dost Mahomed's Army by the refusal of the greater part to advance against us with him, and that he had, in consequence fled with a party of 300 horsemen, in the direction of Bameran, leaving his guns behind him, in position as they were placed at Urghandee.

His Majesty Shah Shoojah has sent forward a confidential Officer with whom has been associated Major Currien, of Her Majesty's 16th Lancers, taking with him a party of 200 men and an Officer of artillery to proceed direct to take possession of those Guns, and afterwards such other Guns and public stores as may be found in Cabool and the Bala Hissat, in the name of, and for His Majesty Shah Shoojahool Moolk, and the King's orders will be carried by his own officer with this party, for preserving the tranquillity of the City of Cabool.

A strong party has been detached in pursuit of Dost Mahomed under some of our most active Officers. We continue our march upon Cabool to-morrow, and will reach it on the 3d day.

We have, &c.

Commander-in-Chief.

W. H. MACNAGHIEN,

Envoy and Minister.

GENERAL REGISTER.

Extract from a letter from His Excellency Lieutenant General Sir John Keane, K. C. B. and G. C. H., dated Head-Quarters Camp Cabool, 8th August, 1839.

"It gives me infinite pleasure to be able to address my Dear patch to your Lordship from this Capital, the vicinity of which His Majesty Shah Shoojah-ool-Moolk, and the Army under my command reached the day before yesterday. The King entered his capital yesterday afternoon, accompanied by the British Envoy and Minister, and the Gentlemen of the Mission, and by myself, the Generals and Staff Officers of this Army and escorted by a squadron of Her Majesty's 4th Light Dragoons, and one of Her Majesty's 16th Lancers, with Captain Martin's Troop of Horse Artillery. His Majesty had expressed a wish that British Troop should be present on the occasion, and a very small party only of his own Hindustanee and Afghan Troops. After the animating scene of traversing the streets, and reaching the Palace in the Bala Hissar, a Royal Salute was fired, and an additional salvo in the Afghan style, from small guns resembling wall pieces, named Singalla, and carried on camels. We heartily congratulated His Majesty on being in possession of the throne and kingdom of his ancestors, and upon the overthrow of his enemies, and, after taking leave of His Majesty, we returned to our camp.

"I trust we have thus accomplished all the objects which your Lordship had in contemplation, when you planned and formed the Army of the Indus, and the expedition into Afghanistan.

"The conduct of the Army, both European and Native, which your Lordship did me the honour to place under my orders, has been admirable throughout, and, notwithstanding the severe marching and privations they have gone through, they appear more and more disciplined, and have suffered nothing, and the opportunity afforded them at Ghuznee of meeting and conquering their enemy has added greatly to their good spirits.

"The joint Despatch addressed by Mr. Macnaghten and myself to your Lordship on the 1st instant, from Shikarbad, will have informed you that, at the moment we had made every preparation to attack (on the following day) Dost Mahomed Khan in his position at Urechunder, where, after his son Mahomed Akbar had joined him from Jelalabad, he had an army amounting to 13,000 men, well armed, and equipped, and thirty pieces of artillery, we suddenly learnt that he abandoned them all and fled with a party of horsemen on the road to Bamacee, leaving his guns in position as he had placed them to receive our attack.

"It appears that a great part of his Army, which was hourly becoming disorganized, refused to stand by him in the position, to receive our attack, and that it soon became in a state of dissolution. The great bulk immediately came over to Shah Shoojah-ool-Moolk, tendering their allegiance, and I believe His Majesty will take most of them into his pay.

"It seems, that the news of the quick and determined manner in which we took their stronghold, Ghuznee, had such an effect upon the population of Cabool, and perhaps also upon the Enemy's Army, that Dost Mahomed, from that moment, began to lose hope of retaining his rule for even a short time longer, and sent off his family and valuable property towards Bamacee, but marched out of Cabool with his Army and artillery, keeping a bold front towards us, until the evening of the 2d, when all his hopes were at an end, by a division in his own camp and on part of his Army abandoning him. So precipitate was his flight, that he left in position his guns with their Ammunition and waggons, and the greater part of the cattle by which they were drawn. Major Curzon, of Her Majesty's 16th Lancers with his party of 200 men, pushed forwards on the 3d, and took possession of these guns, &c. There were 28 brass guns in position and loaded, two more at a little distance, which they attempted to take away, and since then, three more abandoned still further off on the Bamacee road. Thus leaving in our possession 28 pieces of cannon with all the material belonging to them, which are now handed over to Shah Shoojah-ool-Moolk.

GENERAL REGISTER.

Wednesday, 11th September, 1839—Notification.—The importance of investigating the cause and phenomena of storms has been brought to the notice of Government by the Honble Court of Directors, and the Honble the President in Council in consequence of reports of obtaining local Registers of these Phenomena taken simultaneously at as many stations of India as may be found possible. The public Officers of the different settlements and stations of India are accordingly invited and requested upon the occurrence of any hurricane, gale, or other storm of more violence than usual, to note accurately the time of its commencement the direction from which the wind first blows whether in gusts or regular and whether accompanied with rain, thunder and lightning or other Phenomena. Also to note with as much accuracy as possible, the chances of direction in the wind, and the time of the occurrence of each, and lastly, the duration of the gale and in what quarter the wind is when it ceases. The variations of the Thermometer and Barometer at each period noticed will also be of importance if the means are forthcoming of making such observations.

The President in Council refrains from making it the business of any particular Officer to note the above circumstances, but relies on the known desire of enlightened persons to promote objects of Scientific and useful Enquiry that the public Officers will arrange in such manner as to ensure that the observations will be taken by some one in the vicinity of each Station.

SILVER.—The price of this metal continues to be supported, and holders are disinclined to sell, anticipating a great improvement in our market, on receipt of orders from the Upper Provinces for purchase—which are shortly expected. Importations from Europe are very limited and the quotation of the day is Co.'s Rs. 9 per fy md.

TIN PLATES.—Sales in these are not extensive, and prices may at present be quoted at Co.'s Rs. 18 a 48 per box.

MUG TWIST.—Our market has been very active since our last extra, as regards demand for this Yarn, with a view of availing of the departures of the steamer for the Upper Provinces, and consequent on the approach of the native genera holidays, (which will cause a suspension of business for about 3 weeks) but the prices of the high numbers from 50 to 90, and those of the low numbers from 20 to 30 have slightly receded owing entirely to some heavy parcels being submitted to at low rates—the quotations of the day are as below, viz.

IMPORTS.

INDIGO.—Our accounts of Indigo continue favorable, and there is no doubt every district, (excepting Firozabad and Purneah) will have a full average crop, it not something more. A manufacturing in the lower Provinces is nearly closed, and prospects in the upper Provinces have improved, and unless a change takes place in this or next month, we think that the out-turn will not fall short of 1,20,000 maunds.

In our market there is hardly anything doing—a few small parcels of the old crop changed hands during the last week for the English market, at about 25 a 31 rs. per maund, below the prices offered for them six months back.

CUTCH.—(Pegu.) Importations have of late been upon a limited scale, from high price and comparative scarcity at Rangoon—the quantities in original hands may be estimated at 8,000 maunds, for which ropes 55 a 12 are demanded and at this latter rate, some 400 a 500 maunds have been taken for country consumption. MONEY MARKET.

Hulk, Office, Calcutta, Sept. 21, 1839.

Since our last, of the 27th August last; our Money Market has been very quiet, the activity which prevailed during its preparation, having died away almost immediately after its departure, and the non-receipt of the July mail now overdue, restrains much business. Our Bill Market also remained quiet and without improvement until within the last ten or twelve days when a change began to show itself in the reduction of the rates of exchange. This favorable turn did not affect all descriptions, it seemed to confine itself chiefly to private Bills.

The near departure of the mail has however done the same for the other kinds in a measure; our quotations are below:

Bank Bills,	2 0 a	2 1	p Co R.
H. M. Treasury Bills,	2 0 a	2 0 1/2

Ditto against consignment,	2 14 a	2 1 1/2
Insurance Bills,	2 13 a	2 2
Bills on France, (according to sight),	2 50 a	2 75

Our Market is not barren of purchasers, but they have been expecting to make bargains, viz. at 2-2d. and documents.

The business through the Company's Ware House has been exceeding of late.

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES.—Since the receipt of the intelligence of the successful termination of the campaign in Central Asia, these securities began to improve, the discount on the 4 per cent. have risen very materially, and it is possible it will still go lower when the public mind is perfectly allayed, as there being any probability of a Burmese war. There is at present a very generally believed report that there will not be one.

Head quarters, Meerut, 20th August 1839.—At a general court martial, assembled at Meerut, on Monday the 5th of August 1839, Captain William Smith, of the 19th regiment native infantry was arraigned on the following charges.

Charges.—“First For officer-like conduct, and gross neglect of duty, when in command of a detachment, which marched from Meerut on the 24th May 1839, for the purpose of escorting treasure from Allypore to Delhi, in having proceeded by dusk from Meerut to Allypore, in never having been present with the detachment between Allypore and Delhi from the time of its marching from one place of encampment till its arrival at another, in having permitted the infantry portion of the detachment to be improperly dressed, when on duty and on the march, and the sentries to be without their muskets in the day time, and in not having personally delivered over the treasure to the civil authorities at Delhi.

“1st. In having, in a letter to Lieutenant and Adjutant William Lawrence Mackean, dated 8th May 1839, stated that four Sepoys of the light company had represented to him, that they had been employed for the last two days at the Adjutant's quarters in ‘tailor's work,’ which they have a decided dislike to perform; whereas the said Sepoys had on the said and on former occasions, willingly assisted in making up waistcoats, and the idea of its being unsuitable and tailor's work, was first suggested to them by Captain Smith, who, in a comparative and direct manner, recorded the following sarcastic remark upon the said and Sepoys, ‘Mind you, the only good I know of is that I hear he is a capital hand at his needle.’

“2d. In having, in a letter addressed to Lieutenant Charles Cheape, Brigade Major, dated 19th June 1839, expressed his disapproval of Lieutenant Colonel George Wilkeson, to that of Major General John Macleod, K. H. Commander in Chief, station of Meerut, on the case of Havildar Kesul (or C. W. Singh, of the light company).

“3d. In having disobeyed the following injunctions contained in a letter from Lieutenant and Adjutant Mackean, dated 12th July 1839:—‘and to avoid the serious trouble of each frequent and numerous letters from you, that commanding officer declares, that you will not assume address him in writing on the subject, which he is preparing to submit to the major General commanding the station, but that whatever you may have to communicate, or apply for, you will do so in person, in the manner directed in the last paragraph of my letter, No 218, of the 16th ultimo, by sending a written copy, of the same date.

Finding.—“The court, on the evidence before them, are of opinion as follows:—

“That on the 1st instance of the 2d charge, he is guilty, with the exception of having first suggested the idea that the work the four Sepoys of the light company had been employed on, was unsuitable and tailor's work, on which the court acquit him.

GOOD CONDUCT WARRANT.

Dated 9th May, 1839.

VICTORIA R.

Whereas it has been represented to us that it would materially tend to the encouragement of good conduct in the Army if a reward, to be obtained only by the well-conducted Soldier, were substituted for the additional pay granted to soldiers who have completed certain periods of service, Our Will and Pleasure is that all Corporals, Trumpeters, Drummers, Fifers, Ruglers, and private Soldiers, enlisted or re-enlisted into our service on or after, the 1st day of September, 1836, shall have no claim to additional pay after any period of service, but that a reward of additional pay for good conduct shall be granted to such soldiers under the following rules—

1. Soldiers who shall have completed seven years' service shall be entitled to claim 1d. a day, and to wear a distinguishing mark, provided their names shall not have been entered in the regimental Defaulters' Book for at least two years immediately preceding such claim.

2. Soldiers who shall have completed 14th years' service shall be entitled to claim a further reward of 1d. a day, and to wear two distinguishing marks, provided they shall have been uninterruptedly in the enjoyment of the 1d. a day for at least two years immediately preceding such further claim.

3. Soldiers who shall have completed 21 years' service shall be entitled to claim a further reward of 1d. a day, and to wear three distinguishing marks, provided they shall have been uninterruptedly in the enjoyment of the 1d. a day for two years immediately preceding their claim to the third penny.

4. Soldiers who shall have completed 28 years' service shall be entitled to claim a further reward of 1d. a day, and to wear four distinguishing marks, provided they shall have been uninterruptedly in the enjoyment of the 3d. a day for two years immediately preceding their claim to the fourth penny.

5. Soldiers who by their good conduct shall have obtained one or more distinguishing marks, shall be entitled to have the full rate of that good-conduct pay of which they shall have been in uninterrupted possession for five years immediately preceding their discharge, added to the rate of pension, whether temporary or permanent, to which they may have a right under the provisions of the Warrant of our late Royal Uncle, dated the 7th February, 1833.

6. Soldiers who have been in the possession of some one or other of the rates of good-conduct pay for five years uninterruptedly, but who have only been in possession of either of the higher rates for some period not less than two years immediately preceding their discharge, shall be entitled, if discharged with two distinguishing marks, to an addition of 1d.; if discharged with three distinguishing marks, to an addition of 2d.; and if discharged with four distinguishing marks, to an addition of 3d., as an augmentation of the pension to which their services will entitle them.

7. Soldiers who shall have been in the uninterrupted possession of good-conduct pay for at least three years immediately preceding their discharge for disability, or by reduction, and who shall not have acquired claims to pension, or who shall be entitled only to temporary or conditional pensions, shall have their names registered at Chelsea Hospital, and upon their attaining 60 years of age shall receive, as a reward for their former good conduct, a pension of 4d. a day if discharged with one distinguishing mark, and of 6d. a day if discharged after having been twelve months in possession of two distinguishing marks; and this reward for former good conduct shall also be extended to soldiers who may be permitted to obtain free discharge at their own request, as an indulgence, after certain periods of service, as described in the 11th article of this Warrant.

8. The service requisite to entitle men to the distinction and rewards granted by this Warrant may include former service in all ranks after the age of eighteen.

9. Men discharged on reduction, or for disability and re-enlisting within three years after the date of their discharge, may reckon their former service, provided they shall declare such former service at the time of re-enlistment, but men purchasing their discharge, or receiving free discharges, shall not reckon former service.

10. The forfeiture of service now attaching to individuals in respect of additional pay, in consequence of the sentence of a court-martial, or of conviction for desertion, will equally attach to them in respect of good-conduct pay.

11. Soldiers of good conduct, who may be permitted to purchase or to obtain free discharges at their own request, shall be allowed free discharges upon the following terms, instead of those prescribed by the Royal Warrant of the 14th November, 1829, and by His late Majesty's Warrant of the 26th February, 1833, but the conditions, limitations, and regulations, for granting discharges by indulgence laid down in the said Warrants, shall, in the cases of all soldiers, and others remain in full force.

12. Soldiers enlisting since the 1st March 1833, who are in the enjoyment of two or more distinguishing marks, and of the good-conduct pay, may obtain permanent pension as an indulgence, at the rate fixed in the Warrant of 7th February, 1833, two years earlier than other men who have not earned this distinction, and may further receive the same amount of good-conduct pay which would have been added to their ordinary pension, under the rules laid down in this Warrant, if they had been discharged as unfit for further service or by reduction.

13. As it is Our Will and Pleasure that this reward shall be strictly an honourable distinction, to be conferred only upon the well-conducted soldier, the commanding Officers of Regiments are strictly enjoined to enter in the Regimental Defaulters' Book the name of every soldier who, in consequence of misconduct, shall have been subjected to any punishment beyond six days' drill, or seven days' confinement to barracks, and the commission of every offence, which shall impose upon the commanding Officer the necessity of recording the soldier's name in the Regimental Defaulters' Book, shall render the man ineligible for this reward for two years from that date, and, if he be already in possession of this distinction, shall deprive him of this distinguishing mark and good-conduct pay for one year; and a second recorded offence within twelve months shall render two years of uninterrupted good conduct necessary to obtain a restoration of such reward.

14. The soldier having two or more distinguishing marks shall, in like manner for the first, second, and third recorded offences, forfeit one distinguishing mark, and the good-conduct pay allowed with it for one year for each offence; and if a fourth offence be recorded against him in the Regimental Defaulters' Book, within twelve months, he shall forfeit all claim in consequence of his previous good conduct, and shall only be entitled to obtain a restoration of his honourable distinctions by subsequently serving, with uninterrupted good conduct, for two years to obtain one distinguishing mark, for four years to obtain two distinguishing marks, for six years to obtain three distinguishing marks, and for eight years to obtain four distinguishing marks.

15. Any soldier who, by having been recorded in the Regimental Defaulters' Book, shall have been adjudged to have been guilty of an offence by which he is to forfeit the whole or a part of his reward for previous good conduct, shall, if he desires the commission of such offence, have the right of appeal to a Court-Martial.

16. A Soldier may, for a first offence of a serious nature, be adjudged by the sentence of a Court-Martial, to forfeit all or any part of the advantages he has derived from his previous good conduct, either absolutely or for any period not less than eighteen months, according to the circumstances which shall have appeared in evidence.

17. The distinction and the rewards granted by this Warrant do not extend to sergeants and other non-commissioned officers above the rank of corporal, and they shall not be allowed while serving, any addition to their established pay, but if permitted to put on their discharges, or to obtain their discharges at their own request, they will be admitted to the benefits of article 11 of this Warrant, and if discharged to pension, they may, for peculiarly good conduct on the special recommendation of Our General Commanding in Chief, and by the consent of Our Secretary at War, communicated to the Commissioners of Chelsea Hospital, be allowed additions of 1d., 2d., 3d. or 4d. a day to their pensions; provided that the aggregate pension shall in no case exceed, for a sergeant, 1s. 10d. for a quarter-master sergeant, 2s. 1d., and for a sergeant-major, 2s. 4d. a day.

18. All soldiers now in our service, who enlisted since the 1st March, 1833, but before 1st September, 1836, shall have the option of relinquishing all right to the additional pay of 2d. a day to which they are now entitled after the completion of 14 years' infantry, or of 17 years' cavalry service, and shall then be entitled, by their good conduct, to claim the 1d. a day after seven years' service, and shall be, in all respects, entitled to all the advantages both of good-conduct pay while serving, of pension on discharge, and of deferred pension, which are hereinbefore granted to soldiers enlisted on or after 1st September, 1836.

19. All soldiers now serving who enlisted on or before the 1st March, 1833, shall by relinquishing their right to additional pay for length of service, be entitled to claim all the advantages of good conduct pay while serving, which are hereby granted, but as the Warrants, which were in force at the time of their original enlistment give them a right to higher rates of pension on discharge than those which are to be granted to men enlisted after the 1st March, 1833, they will not be entitled to have their good conduct pay added to their pensions on discharge.

20. In special cases, however, of men enlisted on or before the 1st March, 1833, who, by their good conduct, have obtained one or more distinguishing marks, and who, after short service, may be discharged for disabilities, or by reduction, either without pension or with temporary, or conditional, or permanent pensions, (not exceeding those granted for similar disabilities and services under the Warrant of the 7th February, 1833,) the good-conduct pay may, by the consent of Our Secretary at War, be added to their pensions; and such men, if not placed upon permanent pensions, may be registered at Chelsea for the deferred pension, under the same Rules as the men enlisted after the 1st March, 1833.

21. All soldiers now serving, who enlisted on or before the 1st of September, 1836, and who have completed 28 years' service, may, on relinquishing their right to additional pay, receive 4d. a day good conduct pay, provided their names shall not have been entered in the Regimental Defaulters' Book for at least eight years immediately preceding the exchange.

22. Soldiers who have completed 21 years' service may, on relinquishing their right to additional pay, receive 3d. per diem good-conduct pay, provided their names shall not have been entered in the Regimental Defaulters' Book for at least six years immediately preceding the exchange.

23. Soldiers of less than 21 years' service, already in the receipt of additional pay, at 2d. a day for length of service, may on relinquishing their right to additional pay, continue to receive the same amount as good conduct pay, provided their names shall not have been entered in the Regimental Defaulters' Book for at least four years immediately preceding the exchange.

24. Soldiers who are already in the receipt of additional pay of 4d. a day for length of service, may, on relinquishing their right to additional pay, continue to receive the same amount as good conduct pay, provided their names shall not have been entered in the Regimental Defaulters' Book for at least two years immediately preceding the exchange.

25. Soldiers not yet in the receipt of additional pay for length of service, may by relinquishing their right to the same, receive good-conduct pay, on completing the respective periods of 7, 14, 21 and 28 years, provided their names shall not have been entered in the Regimental Defaulters' Book—in the first case, for at least two years; in the second case, for at least four years; in the third case, for at least six years, and in the fourth case, for at least eight years, immediately preceding.

26. In establishing their claims to the good-conduct pay, soldiers who were present at the Battle of Waterloo, shall be allowed to reckon two years in addition to their actual service, and those who were enlisted before the 1st December, 1820, shall be allowed to reckon three years for two of actual service, after the age of 18, in the East and West India (in other than West India regiments), but in claiming their discharge under the 11th Article actual service only will be reckoned.

27. Soldiers enlisted before the 1st September, 1836, shall be entitled to distinguishing marks, whether they accept or not, the option of relinquishing additional pay for good conduct pay, and they shall be entitled to the same addition to their pensions for the number of distinguishing marks they may severally possess at the period of their discharge, as is allowed to men in receipt of good conduct pay.

Given at our Court at Buckingham Palace, this 9th day of May 1839, in the second year of Our Reign.

Cambrics and Madapolams have also been sold, but without any material change in prices; in Jaconets, Book Muslins and Lappets very little can be expected to be done, at this advanced state of the season for these descriptions of Goods, some purchase of Lappets, however have been made for speculation on the spot at rather low prices. In Chinzees, sales of a few parcels of Sinle Colo 8 12, Neutral and Pines have been made at a out the prices obtained last month. In Colored Cottons the demand for Turkey Red Twills has somewhat subsided, an sales of a few parcels have been made at a shade of decline in prices. Ginghams are unsalable unless at low prices. PEACOCKS.

PEACOCKS.—A sale of the new crop marked T F. and Co., Bhauglepora to arrive, is reported to have been made at Co's Rs. 200 per md all round on speculative purposes. A few parcels of European and Native manufactures have already arrived and are held at last year's prices. Our market for operation will not, we think, open till the end of this or the first week in next month, and we do not believe that any body is at present willing to buy unless at prices much below the rates at which sales were made last year,—but notwithstanding this, we are of opinion that prices will rule at near last year's prices. Manufacturing has ceased in all the districts, and from the accounts last received, the result of the crop at the Upper Provinces, will somewhat fall short of the quantity that had been anticipated last month,—this is attributable to the heavy rains they have had. We have nothing to add to the Exports list reported, and as there remains at present nothing of the old crop in the market, the result of the past season, including the quantity that remained of the previous year, may be reckoned at 1y. mds. 89,702.

RAW SILK.—Continues in demand, but owing to the scarcity the fine quality in the market, and the high prices that are demanded for such as are available for purchase, operations for the Home markets are limited. The prices of the day for the assortments are—

Cosimbazar, ..	Co. Rs	11	4	a	12	4	per f ar
Gonates,	"	11	0	"	12	3	"

Benaulah, ..	"	10	4	"	11	6	"
Harrispaul,	"	11	0	"	12	0	"

SILK PRICE GOOD.—The demand continues for Co. rals but operations are restrained from the scarcity of fine quality—Choppahs and Bandanas are enquired after for the American market,—and the prices of the day may be reported at about the rates quoted in our last extra—viz, Corahs, Cosimbaz, Allarise, Sa. Rs.	132	a	135	p.d.

medium, ..	"	110	"	125
Choppahs,	"	132	"	135
medium, ..	"	100	"	120
Bandanas,	"	135	"	136

COTTON.—Our market has been very quiet since the conclusion of the Native Holidays—nothing has been doing for either England or China, and prices have submitted to a fall, and may at present be quoted as below.

Banda,	Sa. Rs.	13	12	a	14	4	per b. md
Bhoomurgur, ..	"	13	4	"	14	0	"

Cutchoura,	"	11	12	"	12	8	"
Rajapore,	"	12	12	"	13	0	"

SALT PETRE.—Very little has been doing in this article for the Home market, but it has engaged great enquiry for America, and purchases have been made at an advance of 2 a 4 as per md, on the prices quoted in our last Extra—the rates of the day are—

Gudna,	Sa. Rs	5	12	a	6	10	per fy. md

BY THE PRESIDENT IN COUNCIL.

Financial Department, the 25th September, 1839.—With reference to the Notification published in this Department under date the 6th March last, it is further notified, that the Hon'ble the President in Council has been pleased to extend the benefits of that Notification and to allow the Registry of endorsements upon Government Securities intended to be dispatched by Dawk from one Presidency to another, to be made in the Office of the accountant Generals respectively, under the provisions of the abovementioned Notification.

No 140.—Notice.—Fort William, General Department, the 2d October, 1839.—The following correspondence on the subject of the despatch of the Berence steamer from Bombay at daylight on the 18th instant, without the Calcutta mails of the 26th and 27th of August, is published for general information.

By order of the Hon'ble the President of the Council of India in Council.

No. 197 of 1839-40.

To M. T. PRINSEP, Esq.

Secretary to the Government of India.

General Department.

Sir,—I have the honor to annex for the information of the Hon'ble the President in Council a copy of a letter from the Post Master General of Bombay bearing date the 16th instant, reporting the arrival of the mails hence of the 26th and 27th ultimo at his Presidency too late to admit of their contents being forwarded on the steamer Berence. Other mails are alluded to, but I do not deem it necessary more particularly to advert to them, since it was expected, as publicly announced, that the mail of the 27th was the latest that would reach Bombay in time for the steamer. It is very distressing to find that such should have been the case, but I trust that I shall be able to satisfy Government that this untoward circumstance was not occasioned by a want of care or attention at this office of the road establishments under my control, but rather to an astonishing slow rate of travelling beyond the jurisdiction of the Bengal Presidency.

2. By fixing the 27th ultimo, as the probable latest date on which it would be safe to send letters intended for despatch by the Berence steamer, whose departure from Bombay was fixed for the 14th instant, it allowed 15 clear days independent of that of despatch and that on which the steamer was expected to leave Bombay, making, altogether about 10 days. The average time occupied in the transit from Bombay to Calcutta, for half a month previous upon an average occupied 13½ days, and the mail which arrived on the 26th ultimo, occupied exactly 13 days. Under such circumstances it never occurred that the mails of the dates in question could occupy more than 15 days, the more especially as great care was taken not to allow the Mails to exceed 10 weeks each, and on both nights only 4 were despatched.

3. The correctness of such calculation is best proved by the rates acquired between Calcutta and Nagpore, which for the mail of the 26th was 3 miles, 2 furlongs and 13 poles per hour, and that of the 27th 3 miles per hour. Had even those rates been accomplished, from Nagpore to Bombay, where the road is open, and moreover, where there is a Horse Dawk, both mails would have reached Bombay in time for the steamer; whereas on the contrary the mail of the 26th travelled on that portion of the road at a rate of only 2 miles, 4 furlongs and 37 poles per hour, and the mail of the 27th at 2 miles 5 furlongs and 6 poles, and the slow rates are attributed, by the Post Master General, to the heavy rains. It was quite impossible to imagine such slow travelling on the Bombay side of Nagpore, but on the contrary a more accelerated pace was looked for, than could have been expected on this side from runners.

4. I trust that I have satisfactorily shown that in this matter no blame attaches to this office, and that the cause of the mails arriving too late at Bombay arises solely from the extraordinary slowness with which they travelled from Nagpore to this Presidency, which is beyond my control.

5. I avail myself of this opportunity also to report, for the information of His Honor in Council, the great delay now occurring in the transit of some of the mails for Calcutta from Bombay; unjoined is also a copy of a letter from the Post Master of Nagpore to the Post Master General of Bombay of date the 21st instant by which it appears that no less than five mails from Bombay reached the Nagpore Post Office simultaneously, weighing but little short of 2 maunds. The mail of the 9th from Bombay which is supposed to contain the residue of the despatches by the land Overland mail, occupied upwards of 11 days the distance being 568 miles. None of the mails enumerated in the Nagpore Post Master's letter have yet reached this office, the delay no doubt occasioned by their excessive weight.

I have the honor to be, &c.

(Signed) G. ALEXANDER,

Post Master General.

Fort William, General Post Office, the 30th Sept. 1839

P. S. Since writing the foregoing, the five mails above mentioned have all reached this office, 1st October.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.

TO THE POST MASTER GENERAL,

SIR,

CALCUTTA.

I regret to inform you that the Calcutta Dawks of the 26th, 27th, 28th, 29th, 30th and 1st, have all arrived here too late to be conveyed by the Steamer Berence, which vessel left this at day light on Friday morning the 13th instant.

The Dawk of the 26th arrived at this office at ½ past 12 o'clock P.M. of Friday the 13th, those of the 28th, 29th 30th and a portion of the 27th, came in together by express from Poonah at 10 o'clock P.M. on Saturday the 14th, and that of the 21st with the remaining portion of the Dawk of the 27th reached this at half past 3 P.M. on Sunday the 15th instant.

The cause of the delay in reaching this would appear, by the Road Indexes returned to you by this day's Post, to be ascribed to heavy falls of rain and bad weather.

TO THE POST MASTER GENERAL.

Bombay.

Sir,—I have the honor to inform you that the mails from your Office of the 9th, 10th, 11th, 12th, and 13th instant arrived here together last night at 9½ P.M. 15 Packets for Calcutta, which weighed 5480 Ropes were dispatched to Calcutta at 9½ P.M. I am not aware how this delay has taken place.

Bombay Cas. 's, 16th September.

TO THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA,

Sir,—I am directed by the Hon'ble the Governor in Council to transmit to you for the information of the Honorable the President of the Government of India in Council, the accompanying copy of a letter from the Superintendent of the Indian Navy dated the 12th instant, reporting that the Steamer Berence could not be detained for the Calcutta mails of the 27th ultimo, without incurring imminent risk of the whole of the important Packet which that Vessel conveys being too late for the Alexandria Steamer.

The Steamer was detained for the accumulation of the 27th ultimo from the 17th instant to the morning of the 13th instant, and the Honorable the Governor in Council directs me to express his great regret at the necessity which he was under of dispatching the Vessel without further delay.

GENERAL REGISTER.

I am further directed to transmit the accompanying copy of a letter from the Post Master General of this date, reporting date of the arrival of the Calcutta mails from the 26th to the 29th ultimo inclusive, and stating that bad weather appears to have been the cause of the delay in their arrival.

I have the honor to be, &c.

TO THE HON'BLE SIR J. R. CARNAC, BART,
President and Governor in Council, Bombay

HONORABLE SIR,—In reply to the verbal message of Mr. Secretary held as to the probability of the Berendse reaching Suva in time to save the mail to England I have the honor to state as my opinion that but 19 days being now available to make the passage to Suva in the probability of the adverse weather at the Equinox the strength of the westerly winds in the Red Sea with the further disadvantages of part new Machinery no able to heat and cause detention, her reaching Suva in time is by no means certain her already detention has been beyond prudence.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.

To L. R. R. ID, Esq.

Acting Chief Secretary to Government.

SIR—I have the honor to report for the information of the Honorable the Governor in Council, that the Calcutta Dawk of the 26th August arrived at the Post Office at ½ past 12 P. M. on Friday the 1st of those of the 28th, 29th, 30th, and a portion of the 27th, arrived together by Express from Poona at 10 o'clock P. M. on Saturday the 11th, and that of the 31st with the remaining portion of the Dawk of the 27th, arrived at ½ past 3 P. M. on Sunday the 15th instant.

The number of Coverts received by the above Dawks for England amounts to 3,348, and the cause of their delay in reaching this would appear by the Road Indoxes to be ascribed to heavy falls of rain and bad weather.

I have, &c.

(Signed) E. E. FELLIOT,
Post Master General.

Bombay General Post Office, the 16th September, 1839.

No. 178.

To W. S. BOYD, Esq.

Acting Secretary to the Govt. of Bombay.

SIR,—I am directed by the President in Council to acknowledge the receipt of your letter dated 16th ultimo, with its several Enclosures, explaining the circumstances under which the Berendse Steamer had been despatched at day light on the 13th ultimo, notwithstanding that the Calcutta mails of the 26th and 27th of August, the latest of which was officially notified in Calcutta, as the latest date on which to write by this mail had not then reached Bombay.

2 Your several letters of the dates noted in 4 of 13th Sept the margin have also been received, reporting that 25 packets transmitted from this Office besides the packets forwarded from the Legislative, Judicial, Revenue, and Military Departments, had arrived too late for the mail despatched on the 13th of September, and would be forwarded by that, proposed to be despatched from Bombay on the 7th of October.

Considering the great disappointment that will be felt in Calcutta and other parts of this Presidency in consequence of the failure of its mails the President in Council has deemed it necessary to publish the explanation of circumstances furnished by the letter above acknowledged, and its enclosures, for the information of parties interested.

The Post Master General of this Presidency has submitted a report upon the causes of the detention of the packets forwarded on the 26th and 27th of August copy of which is enclosed for the information of the Hon'ble the Governor in Council. It will be seen from that report that the main cause of the untoward delay has arisen from the unusually slow pace at which the mails were conveyed between Napore and Bombay, that is on the part of the line the management and control of which is under the Post Master General at Bombay, but that the rate at which both mails reached Napore was, notwithstanding, their weight and the unfavorable state of the weather, in excess of three miles an hour.

This justification of the officers of the Post Department on this side of India will add to the feeling of discontent excited in the community with the act of the Government of Bombay, which has led to the postponement until the despatch of the next monthly mail of nearly the entire commercial and private correspondence of this Presidency, for as the mail in question was the first despatch from Bombay to Suva by afternoon in the season, the transmission of letters by it was of course to the public a matter of more than usual interest and importance.

The President in Council is unable, upon a review of the circumstances and reasons which have induced the Government to Bombay to despatch the Berendse in anticipation of two Calcutta mails, to convey his concurrence in the propriety of this measure.

The motive which influenced the punctual despatch was of course a natural desire not to risk the arrival of the mails at Suva on a date too late for the regular English mail by Malta and Gibraltar, which leaves Egypt once a fortnight.

To those whose packets were addressed for conveyance by that mail the risk was of a loss of fourteen days, to save which to them the Government of Bombay has incurred the certainty of the loss of nearly a month to those whose packets were left behind.

But all the letters of importance are now directed via Marseilles, which is known to be by far the most expeditious route, and for these the opportunity of a conveyance intermediate between the regular English Steam Packets would have been afforded in French Steamers.

To the writers of letters so addressed therefore the risk was at the utmost that their correspondence might be delayed seven days, and when this risk of detention is set against the absolute detention of a month thrown upon the correspondence of this Presidency for the two last notified days His Honor in Council cannot but regret the determination come to for the despatch of the Steamer without the Calcutta packets.

His Honor in Council feels justified by the above statement of circumstances in requiring that henceforward the Steamers and other vessels advertised to convey packets by the route of Egypt or of the Persian Gulf shall not be despatched, until the arrival of the packet from Suva, Calcutta and Agra of the dates advertised by the Post Master General of those Presidencies respectively, as the latest safe dates for the despatch of letters by the mail.

The Right Hon'ble the Governor in Council must therefore direct the dates fixed for the despatch of Steamers to be so regulated as to allow, in case of accidental detentions from weather, of a delay of at least 18 hours for Mails that may not have reached Bombay.

Published by order of the Hon'ble the President in Council,

H. T. PRINSEP,
Secy. to the Govt of India.

Legislative Department, the 23d September, 1839.—The following Act is passed by the Hon'ble the President of the Council of India in Council on the 23d September 1839 with the assent of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India, which has been read and recorded.

INDIGO. The Market may be considered now as having fairly opened, and some activity has been shown by purchasers to secure particular marks,—but under the favourable accounts received from Home by the last overland mail, prices for these marks have been rather firmly held by the Planters and holders of produce, and we are inclined to think that they will rule nearly or equally as high as those of the last season. Orders from France have been received, and are held by brokers, and from the state of the market in that quarter, we do not think they will be executed to the extent of last year's purchases, their limits are Rs 200 to 220 for the particular marks, should the crop not exceed 100 to 110 thousand maunds.

There were three public sales held last week—at the first although the attendance was full, and bid- dings on English and American accounts spirited no more than 30 chests were sold at prices ranging for the European marks from Rs- 167 to 215, and for Native marks 180 to 217-8. At the second and third sales, about 55 chests changed hands, the fine qualities were taken off freely at prices from 215, to 235, and the middling qualities at much higher prices than were expected. The French have been buying rather largely at these two sales, in completion of orders for shipment per the Petite Nancy, which vessel is expected to take her departure in the first week next month.

The following is a memo: of sales by contract on speculation made since September last, exclusive of other purchases of parcels already arrived which are noted at foot:

Since writing the above we have received China news, bringing the following accounts :—

Captain Elliot, it appears, made arrangements with the Chinese under which the legal trade was to recommence outside ; and all vessels were to be searched for opium and if any was found, the parties were to be dealt with according to the late edicts ; but these engagements had been violated apparently by both parties. The Rustomjee Gowsajee, Sir Edward Ryan, and Red Rover had arrived ; the second named had disposed of some Opium at 600 dollars, and then proceeded to the East Coast. One large English vessel, the Thomas Coutts, had proceeded to Whampoa of her own accord, and immediately after the Chinese peremptorily demanded the delivery of the sailor who killed the Chinaman at Hong-kong, and the entrance of the British shipping into Whampoa, with signature of the bond agreeing to submit capital offenders for trial by Chinese officers, or the departure of the ships from the coast, under threats of destruction. The possessions of the officers and crew of the Thomas Coutts, as hostages, is supposed to have induced the Chinese to act thus, with the hope of obtaining concessions from the British derogatory to the honor of the nation.

At Singapore little or no Opium remained, and prices would of course be high there.

MONEY MARKET.

Mukuru Office, Calcutta, 16th December, 1839.

Since our last of the 9th November, our Money Market has been much more animated, and we look forward to its encreasing every week, as the season for operations advances.

Our Bill Market has fluctuated much generally to the advantage of sellers. The recent arrival of the October overland mail, bringing the bad news of the Home Money Market, had the effect of causing an immediate reduction in our already reduced rates of exchange—our present rates are as under, and we do not believe that any negotiations for the present will have been effected on better terms.

the intelligence received, but the Government here reduced its advancing rate from 2s. 2d. to 2s. 1d. per Company's Rupee. We consider the policy a good one, inasmuch as there was little done when the exchange remained at 2s. 2d., but now at the more favorable one 2s. 1d., there are almost daily applications.

The amount taken up since our last, is about six and a half lacs, of which two lacs were taken after the reduction of the exchange nearly a fortnight ago.

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES.—The 4 per cent. Securities, we had hoped, would have maintained the healthy turn they took after the close of all hostilities about our frontiers, but very unexpectedly a fortnight back, without any tangible reason, there appeared to be so large a supply thrown into the market, that the discount rose immediately from 4 to 4 1/2, and 4 1/2, it now rules at 4-14, at which some operations have done during the week, and it is expected, in fact, it is quoted by some at 5.

The 5 per cents. continues steady, and quotations are below.

No. 13, of 1839.

OUR GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

* Agra Judd Narrative 16th Oct. 1837, para 24, 55 to 57, 70, to 72, 90, 102 to 104 and 122. 1st By the advice Public Works, 6th January 1839, p. 11, noted in the margin* we have been put in possession of the details relating to the distress caused by the famine which prevailed in the Central and Northern parts of the Doab owing to the failure of the periodical rains in the year 1837.

Agra Judd. Narrative, 4th Aug p 1 to 27.

Govt. Genl's (Rev.) letter, 17th Nov., whole.

Ditto (Judd. L.) 9th Feb'y., 1839, whole.

2d We have perused these proceedings with the deepest concern, and greatly lament the deprivation and sufferings of the Native population of all classes during the continuance of this calamity. The excitement inseparable from such visitations and the extensive loss of life are likewise much to be deplored.

3d. The amount* sanctioned by you as expended by the local authorities in the Agra Division alone, in alleviating the distress and averting the misery which at one period threatened to be so extensive and fatal in its effects is considerable, and the Revenue which you have directed to be suspended, and which we fear must ultimately be relinquished, in order to relieve the unfortunate Landholders and Ryots from all anxiety on that account, is large in amount.

4th. It is however extremely gratifying to find that you were enabled to employ the entire population on works of public utility, and that a large portion of the community was preserved from destitution by the prompt and timely measures you adopted. These appear to us to have been dictated by a wise, humane, and liberal policy.

5th. It is also very satisfactory to learn that the prospects of the current season are most propitious, and that few signs remain of the past devastation.

6th. The efforts made by Mr R N C Hamilton, the commandant of the Division, in duties performed with so much zeal and efficiency, by that officer and those under his control, fully merited the approbation bestowed on them.

We greatly regret that any speculations should have taken place on the part of the Natives to whom the duty of making daily payments to the destitute was entrusted, but we are happy to observe that generally the conduct of the Zemindars in the neighbouring districts, and other superior classes of Natives, in subscribing to relieve their suffering countrymen was most exemplary at this distressing period, and we desire that you will make generally known, in such manner as you may deem most advisable, the sentiments we have now expressed.

8th. We concur in the acknowledgements conveyed to the Reverend J Moore,* who appears to have * Church Missionary, rendered important and valuable services in aid of the local authorities on this occasion.

2. You will observe that commencing with November next the mails will be despatched from England on the 4th of every month instead of every fourth Saturday as hitherto, and we have instructed the Bombay Government to make corresponding arrangement with regard to the despatch of the mails from India.

THE CHAIRMAN AND DEPUTY CHAIRMAN OF THE EAST IND COMPANY

Gentlemen,—In transmitting to you the enclosed Copy of a letter from the Board of Admiralty of the 29th ultimo, submitting a plan for the permanent arrangement of the mail service between this Country and India.

I am directed by the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to request that if the Court of Directors agree to the proposed arrangement directions may be forwarded with a view to delay as possible to the authorities in India in order that the arrangement required for the communication between Surin and Bombay may be made in conformity with this proposal. My Lords have at the same time instructed me to add that it will be necessary in case of any unforeseen accident, the homeward bound mail should arrive at Alexandria after the departure of the English Steamers, orders should be issued for forwarding the mail according to the Convention by the French Steamers to Malta.

My Lords will communicate with the Board of Admiralty, request them to give directions that in such case every possible facility should be given for forwarding the mail from Malta to Marseilles by a Government Steamer, but in case this should not be possible it will be necessary that the Mail should be conveyed on by the French packets.

I am, &c.

Treasury Chambers, 2d July, 1839.

To F BARRING, Esq. &c. &c.

Sir,—With reference to my letter of the 21st instant on the subject of the conveyance through France of the correspondence with India, I am commanded by the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty to acquaint you for the information of the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury that my Lords are unable at present in the absence of an certain intelligence as to the probable days of arrival at Alexandria of the Bombay mails to propose any arrangement for the departure of the Steamers during the time which must elapse before a permanent arrangement can be carried into execution, but they have no time in submitting the consideration of the Lords of the Treasury a plan for the permanent arrangement of the mail service between this country and India in order that directions may be sent out to the Indian Authorities by the next mail which leaves this country on the 6th July; so that they may be apprized, as early as possible of the intended arrangements, and be enabled to take the necessary measures for carrying them into effect, on the other side of the Isthmus of Suez.

My Lords understand from your letter of the 28th instant, that it will be most convenient to the Merchants, &c. in England that the mails should be despatched from England once in every Calendar month on the 8th day of the month. This mail leaving London on the evening of that day would reach Calcutta about 11 a.m. on the 6th, and by the convention is to be delivered at Marseilles in 4 days, and 6 hours, reaching Marseilles therefore at 6 o'clock on the afternoon of the 6th, my Lords propose that a Steam Vessel should be at Marseilles ready to put to sea as soon as the mails are put on board, but that she should wait 48 hours in case the mails have not arrived, as soon as the mails are embarked, or at the expiration of 48 hours, that is, on the evening of the 11th at latest she will proceed to Malta, four days are allowed for her passage to Malta. In case the mails are put on board at the proposed time on the 6th, she will reach Malta on the evening of the 11th and deliver the mails, she will then remain at Malta for the return mails. Before noon of the 11th the Steam Vessel for Alexandria is to leave Malta and it is calculated will reach Alexandria by noon on the 19th, at Alexandria she will remain four days. It is proposed that orders should be sent to India that the mails should be despatched from Bombay so as to arrive at Suez on the same day, viz. the 19th of the month. It is calculated that four days are required to convey the mails between Alexandria and Suez, each Vessel therefore by this arrangement will have four days to clear her Suez and coal, being ready to proceed to Sea as soon as the mails which she is to convey are delivered to her. In case the Indian mails should not arrive, the Packet is to wait

2 days in February,
4 " April,
4 " June,

4 days in September,

and 5 the remaining months of Alexandria, or longer in case a telegraphic communication should have reached Alexandria, that the mails have been despatched from Suez across the Desert, on the arrival of the Indian mail at Alexandria, or on the evening of the last day of her stay as before stated (except as above) in case they have not arrived, she will put to sea and return to Malta. If the mails arrive, as is expected, she will leave Alexandria on the 2nd by noon. She may be expected in the ordinary course allowing six days for the passage, to reach Malta on the 20th. The mails will be instantly transferred to the Steam Vessel lying there which will immediately proceed to Marseilles, she may be expected to reach Marseilles in five days from Malta, being the 3d, 4th or 6th day of the month, according to the number of days in the preceding month. She will then be in readiness to convey the mails from England of the next month which will arrive there on the 9th. In the event of having been detained the full time allowed beyond the ordinary stay at Alexandria she will always have 24 hours at Marseilles to take in her coals, &c. The longest time required has in all cases been allowed so as to provide against the bad weather of the winter months. In fair weather the passage will probably be shorter. My Lords have to request that you will communicate to the French Government, and that Directors of the East India Company and the necessary Departments of the Government the proposal, and to signify the wishes of the Lords of the Treasury thereon. If it should be approved an order to that effect is created, should be sent out to India by the next mail, and my Lords conceive that it might come into effect in the autumn as to commence with the mail to be despatched from this country on the 4th of November.

I am, &c.

Admiralty, 29th June,

Copy, Marine Letter to Bombay, No 45, dated 3d July, 1839.

Para. 1. We transmit a number in the Packet Copy of a letter from the Secretary to the Lords Commissioners of her Majesty's Treasury, enclosing one from the Board of Admiralty, in which is detailed a plan for the permanent arrangement of the mail service between this country and India to commence with the month of November next.

2 You will observe, that it is intended to despatch the Indian mails from this country once in every calendar month instead of on every fourth Saturday as heretofore, and that accordingly a mail will leave London on the 4th of next November and of every succeeding month. It is calculated that the mail will arrive at Alexandria about the 19th of the month, and that the Steam Vessel which carries it to that port will be ready to return to Malta on the 23d of the month. You will be careful therefore to fix the days for the departure of the mails from Bombay so that they may reach Suez on the 19th of the month (the first mail so despatched to be at Suez on the 10th November next) and at Alexandria on the 23d, four days being allowed for their transmission to the last mentioned place.

3 We make this communication to you direct, instead of through the Government of India (who will be advised of our having done so) in order that you may have as much time as possible for making the necessary preparations.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.—No 16 of 1839.

OUR GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

Para. 1. Referring to our Despatch in this Department No 45, dated the 3d July, we transmit in the packet Copies of letters from the Secretary to Her Majesty's Post Master General, dated the 12th July 1839, and of their respective enclosures.

2 It will be observed, that mails are to be made up at the General Post Office in London to be forwarded to India, under the new Convention with France via Marseilles, on the 12th August, the 16th September, and the 14th October next, and that a British steam Packet will be at Marseilles on the 15th August, the 2d of September, and the 19th October to proceed with such mails to Malta, &c.

3. It is afterwards proposed to make up these mails in London on the 4th day of every Calendar month commencing with November, except when that date may fall upon Sunday, and then the mail will be made up on the following day.

4 The despatch of letters to and from India and the Mediterranean via Falmouth, will continue (as I have before stated) for the present, and during the next three months referred to mails will be made up in London for those places every fourth Saturday.

5. With respect to the return mails from India, it is intended that they should be made up monthly.

1st. One in Iron Boxes for conveying via Marseilles.

2d. Another in Iron Boxes or otherwise as may be deemed expedient for conveyance via Falmouth.

6 The mail via Marseilles is to be considered the Chief or Regular mail by which all letters and Despatches unless marked via Falmouth are to be forwarded and the single uniform rate of Postage upon letters by this route to and from this country will be 2s. 8d.

7 The mail via Falmouth is to be considered as the Auxiliary mail by which the heavier Despatches, Accounts or other public Documents, where dispatch and celerity of conveyance is not so immediately essential, should be forwarded, and also all Letters and Newspapers especially marked by the printers to go by the route of Falmouth—the single uniform rate of Postage by this line will continue as at present 2s. 6d.

8. In conformity with the new Convention the 8th Article of which states that "all Letters from the East Indies and from the French Possessions in India destined for France, or for the Countries to which France serves as the Channel of Communication," (provided the letters are expressly directed by the sender in writing on the address to be so sent) are to be sent "by the French Post Office" or "by way of France"—it will be necessary for the Post Master at Bombay to make up a separate mail containing such Letters for France and the Countries she serves addressed to the Post Master at Marseilles. No Letters however, for Foreign Countries other than France itself which are not specially addressed through or to the French Post Office as before described, are to be included in this French mail, and it will be requisite that a particular and separate account of the weight of Letters in English ounces, and of the number of Newspapers, so sent to the Post Master at Marseilles, should be transmitted by the Post Master of Bombay to the Post Master General of Great Britain, or to his Official Secretary by the same packet to enable his Lordship to raise the proper charge against the Post Office of France, such mail to be conveyed between Alexandria and Marseilles by the British Packet.

9. The Red Sea rate of Postage upon all such Letters is to be levied in India as at present, this, however, is the only rate to be taken in India, as it appears that France will account direct to the British Post Office for any conveyance of the French mails by British Packets in the Mediterranean.

10. You will observe, that under the 6th Article of the Convention an impression of the Seal used for Sealing &c. mails coming from the East Indies, must be furnished to and deposited in the Health Office at Marseilles.

11. Copies of the new "Post Office Convention" between Her Majesty and the King of the French for the conveyance through

J. C. MELVILL, Esq., &c. &c. East India House.

Sir,—I am directed by my Lord, the Post Master General to state, for the information of the Hon'ble the Court of Directors of the East India Company, that mails will be made up at this office to be forwarded to India under the new convention with France via Marseilles on the 12th August, 16th September, and the 10th October next, the Lords of the Admiralty having signified their intention that a British Steam Packet shall be at Marseilles on the 14th August, the 21st September, and the 10th October, to proceed with such mails to Malta, &c.; it is afterwards proposed to make up these mails in London on the 4th day of every calendar month, commencing with November, except when that date falls on a Sunday and then the mail will be made up on the following day; with regard to the return mails from India, and other points connected with the Indian Branch of the service, His Lordship presumes the East India Company will receive direct communication from Her Majesty's Government.

I have also to inform you that the Despatch of Letters to and from India and the Mediterranean via Falmouth, will continue for the present, and during the next three months referred to mails will be made up in London for these places every fourth Saturday.

I am directed to embrace this opportunity of calling the attention of the Court of Directors to the circumstance that by the Act 1st Victoria, Chap. 33, as will be seen by the enclosed Extract, the Privilege of Franking upon all letters and despatches (those of the three Secretaries of State only excepted) sent to or through France, is abolished; the Postage upon all such Letters public or private, must be paid in this Country, the Post Master General therefore recommends to the East India Company, as he is about to do in all the Public Departments, that those communications which do not require a special despatch, together with the bulkier or heavier documents, such as Books, Accounts, &c. both out and home should be forwarded via Falmouth, and His Lordship does not doubt that the Court will deem it expedient to instruct their officers in India accordingly.

I have the honor &c.

Extract from the Act 1st Viet Chap 33, Sec. 17.

"And be it enacted, that no Privilege of Franking shall extend to Letters transmitted by a Penny or Twopenny Post, so far as respects the Penny or Twopenny Post Rates, as to any Letters which are or may be liable to any Foreign Rates of Postage (the Public Despatches to and from Her Majesty's Secretaries of State, and the British Embassies and Legations at the Foreign Courts, being bona fide on the public service, only excepted.)"

General Post Office, 15th July 1839

J. C. MELVILL, Esq., &c. &c. East India House

Sir,—Referring to the letter of this date on the subject of the Indian mails, I am directed by my Lord the Post Master General to submit for the consideration of the Hon'ble Court of Directors of the East India Company the following points as the Outline of the preliminary instructions and information on which it appears to His Lordship most desirable should be communicated, together with copies of the new Convention to their office, the Post Master General in India, especially at Bombay, by the earliest opportunity.

The mails for England to be made up in India monthly:

1st.—One in Iron Boxes for conveyance via Marseilles.

2d.—Another in Iron Boxes or otherwise as may be deemed expedient for conveyance via Falmouth.

The first via Marseilles, to be considered the chief or regular mail, by which all letters and Despatches, unless marked "via Falmouth" are to be forwarded. The single uniform rate of Postage upon Letters by this route, to and from this Country will be 2s. 6d.

The second via Falmouth to be considered as the Auxiliary mail, by which the heavier Despatches, Accounts or other public Documents where dispatch and celerity of conveyance is not so immediately essential should be forwarded (by this route the Franking Privileges remain in force) and also all Letters and Newspapers especially marked by the senders to go by the route of Falmouth. The single uniform rate of Postage by this route will continue as at present 2s. 6d.

In conformity with the new Convention, the 8th Article of which states that "all Letters from the East Indies and from the French possessions in India, destined for France, or for the countries to which France serves as the channel of communication, provided the latter are expressly directed by the senders in writing on the address, to be sent by the French Post Office," it will be necessary for the Post Master General at Bombay to make up a separate mail containing such Letters for France, and the Consignees also to be addressed to the Post Master at Marseilles. No Letters however for foreign Countries, other than France itself, which are not specially addressed, through or to the French Post Office, as before described, are to be included in this French mail, and it will be requisite that a particular and separate account of the weight of the Letters, in English Ounces, and of the number of Newspapers sent to the Post Master at Marseilles, should be forwarded by the Post Master General of Bombay to the Post Master General of Great Britain, or to myself by the same packet, to enable this Office to raise the proper charge against the Post Office of France should such mail be conveyed between Alexandria and Marseilles by British Packet.

The Red Sea rate upon all such Letters will of course be levied in India as at present, and this is the only rate to be taken in India, as France will account direct to this Office, for any conveyance of the French mails by British Packets in the Mediterranean.

It will be seen also, by the 6th Article of the new Treaty, that an impression of the seal, used for sealing the mails coming from the East Indies is required to be furnished to, and deposited in the Health Office at Marseilles.

Length..... 1 1/2 ft. Inches. Boxes of Plate Iron of the unboxed dimensions are in course of preparation for the transmission of the Indian mails passing through France, instructions as to the opening, closing, and sealing of which, for the guidance of the Post Master General at Bombay, shall be furnished to the Directors in time to be forwarded by the mail for India, to be despatched from London via Falmouth on the 3d of next month.

I have the honor to be, &c.

OUR GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

Para 1. We transmit in the inclosed Copy of a letter addressed to our Secretary by Her Majesty's Colonel Mahabaty at the General Post Office on the 28th June last with his enclosure.

2. You will perceive from these papers that Letters for the United Kingdom, but addressed to the care of Agents or other Parties in Egypt, should be charged in India at the time they are posted, with the Indian Steam Packet rate of Postage, as Letters of that description are not, upon their arrival in this country, having been reported by the Agents to whose care they were forwarded, charged with the rate alluded to, but are treated as letters posted in Egypt.

3. You will forthwith instruct the Post Master of your Presidency accordingly.

Sir,—I am directed by my Lord the Post Master General to forward for the information of the Directors of the East India Company, copy of a communication received from Mr. Williams, the officiating Post Master General at Calcutta, from which it appears that doubt having arisen whether under the order given to this country letters for the United Kingdom, but addressed to the care of Agents or other Parties in Egypt should be charged in India when posted with the Indian Steam Packet rate of 1s. single, &c. if the Indian Government had decreed that such letters were liable to the rate in question. I am now directed to state that the view taken of this question by the authorities in India is perfectly correct, as letters from India so addressed to the care of Persons in Egypt to whom they are of course no return, are not, upon their arrival in this country (having been reported by the Agent to whose care they were forwarded) charged with the rate alluded to, but are treated as letters posted in Egypt. My Lord therefore desires me to request the Directors will cause the Post Master General of Calcutta to be informed, that the course now pursued is correct and that any such misapprehension as that which he appears in the first instance to have labored under, should exist in the other Presidencies of Madras or Bom-

General Post Office, 28th June 1839.

TO THE SECRETARY TO THE GENERAL POST OFFICE LONDON.

SIR—I have the honor to state for the information of the Right Hon'ble her Majesty's Post Master Generals, that on receipt of orders directing that no Steam Postage was to be levied in India upon letters transmitted from this country by the Overland mails from Bombay via Suez and the Mediterranean, and which were for delivery at places within the United Kingdom of Great Britain, letters primarily addressed to Parties in the United Kingdom of Great Britain, and secondarily, to the care of Mr. Waghorn and other Parties in Egypt were considered as coming within the purport and meaning of those instructions, upon the impression that the Parties in Egypt to whom such letters were addressed were of necessity, for want of any other means of conveyance, compelled to forward on the letters by the Government Packets, as that there was that guarantee that the Steam Postage would be levied in England by the English Post Office Department in common with those letters which went from India to England in the sealed mails for the London Post Office and I feel a conviction, that that was the correct view of the case.

But circumstances having recently transpired which led to a more serious consideration of this question, doubt arose as to whether, even were we assisted in letters of the description alluded to all passing through the English Post Office, we were not acting contrary to the letter, if not, the spirit of Rules provided for our guidance, and the question was accordingly placed before the Supreme Government of India for consideration and orders.

The Hon'ble the President of the Government of India in Council has declared that Letters for ulterior delivery to Parties in the United Kingdom of Great Britain, which may be required to be forwarded to the care of Parties in Egypt, are liable to be charged with Steam Postage in this Country, in accordance with that declaration Steam Postage, will henceforth be levied upon all Letters of the class under discussion, and my object in requesting that you will make this communication to His Lordship is, that there may be no confusion on the second levying of Steam Postage arising out of the adoption of a practice which has not before been obtained. These letters will be marked so as to indicate that Steam Postage has been levied upon them in this country.

I have, &c.

In the above Rules no provision is made for the case of Servants of the classes mentioned regarding the Service after leaving their Presidency with the permission of the Government in consequence of sickness. The case of such persons has been considered by the President in Council to require a new Rule, which under the terms of the act requires to be submitted for the confirmation of the Hon'ble the Court of Directors before it can take effect. It is accordingly declared that the security to be given by Servants as the condition of their drawing allowances while absent from their Presidency must provide for the case of such retirement, and the Servants must bind themselves to refund the whole of the allowances so drawn in case of their resignation and departure for Europe without previous return to their Presidency, provided that the new Rules to be established should require such refund.

General Department, the 6th November, 1839.—The applications for Furlough during the approaching season received on or before the 1st November, having been this day laid before the President in Council, together with the return of Furloughs available the following report and resolution are published for general information.

Agreeably to the order of Government passed on the 18th September 1838, the Secretary lays before the Board a Statement to the number of Furloughs available in the present year for the members of the Civil Service qualified to take the same, and of the applications preferred on or before the 1st November 1839.

On the 1st November 1838 there were vacant and available to make the complement of 51 Furloughs,....

To which must be added the case of Mr. Walters, who was admitted by the Hon'ble Court to an Annuity, which took effect on the 1st May 1839,.....

There have since fallen vacant,—

1st.—By return, the Furloughs of Messrs Cornelius Jarvis, A Spier, J G B Lancelotti and G J Morris,....

2d.—By expiry, i.e. completion of 3 years from the date of sailing,.....

3d.—By acceptance of Annuity between 1st November 1838 and 1st November 1839—none,.....

4th.—By death, Mr. R W Darlow,.....

Making with the available Furlough of 1st Nov. 1838.

Deduct taken within the year,

By W Blunt, Hon'ble R Cavendish, J Dunsmuir, G C Cheap, J Shaw, F Taylor, D Pingle, F Cadrow, E Bentall, Hon'ble R Forbes, R H Wygton, T Bute and EV Levin on 1st November 1838,.....

Admitted under special circumstances on 1st January 1839 H Fraser (his application came too late through a delay occasioned by the Governor General being at Lahore).....

Admitted under medical certificates in the course of the year, J Thornton, C Macswen, and J Neave,....

Total Furloughs available 1st November 1 39,.....

Remain above 1st date as per list, annexed,....

There are therefore only two Furloughs available on the 1st November of the present year for Civil Servants of ten years' service.

The applications received up to this date (1st November) including the disappointed of last year are 51, as in the following list, arranged according to the date of application. Messrs John Muir, N B Edmonstone, E F Tyler, B J Colvin, P C Trench, W J H Money, R D Mangles, J Cummer, C B Quintin, H Nisbet, W P Goad, A Fraser, A Reid, R H Scott, W R Thoms, M Drom, F Macraighen, A Shank, E Dredes, H W F Gan, W H Woodcock, H Boreford, John Lawrie, H F James, M S Gilmore, W A Pingle, G W Butty, J H Crawford, J A Drom, G Cady, W R Young.

But of the above applicants, Mr. Mangles is not entitled to Furlough, because he took a Furlough for 18th, as Junior, and drew the passage money and reduced allowance of 50 £ per annum for three years, having been absent from the 6th December 1827 to 29th Nov 1831. The Hon'ble Courts

Order restricted the grant of Furlough after ten years' residence in respect to those, who have benefited by this rule to cases in which their second voyage to Europe is under medical certificate, and in which they are only to receive the difference between what they have been "fore allowed in the shape of absence" and that of 2,500 per annum for 3 years.

From the above List also must be excluded five gentlemen, whose period of actual residence did not amount to quite ten years, on the 1st November.

The applicants therefore whose claims have to be considered in the order of seniority to the two Furloughs vacant are:

1 W A Pingle 2 R H Scott—3 H Nisbet—4 F Macraighen—5 W L Young—6 G Cady—7 J A Drom—8 Edward Dredes—9 A Reid—10 W H Woodcock 11 A Fraser 12 H P James—13 G W Butty—14 W J H Money—15 E F Tyler—16 W R Thoms—17 N B Edmonstone—18 J Muir—19 B J Colvin—20 P C Trench—21 H B Boreford—22 M S Gilmore—23 J Cummer—24 W P Goad, and 25 W M Drom.

The two Seniors of the above List, Messrs. Pingle and R Scott, are the only two gentlemen, who can be admitted to Furlough on the 1st November of this year.

But the disadvantage the service labors under in consequence of the 1st November being chosen as the date for awarding Furloughs accordingly to Seniority, has been represented by Messrs. Cady, Drom and Dredes, and the President in Council has resolved to give the subject favorable consideration on the present occasion.

The 1st November was originally chosen as the date for awarding Furloughs, because it is at the commencement of the favorable season of the year for the voyage to Europe, and it was deemed necessary to choose such a date as would give applicants of the North Western Provinces time to make their arrangements for the voyage. The date also at the time when it was selected, was the period of the year most favorable for returns, for the favorite passage-ships then were those of the Hon'ble Company, which leaving England between January and June, always completed the voyage before the end of October. The case is however now changed. The passage ships, so adjusting the period of their sailing as to enable them to make the voyage out and home within the year, arrive generally in November and December, and sail again in January, February and March, consequently the 1st November does not suit for the period of returns and it has been represented that, if the rule be not modified, all the Furlough returns of the passing Season, will be lost to the Service for 10 and 11 months, for he could not be appropriated under existing rules to the disappointed applicants of this year, till the 1st November 1836.

The Members of Government, when the representation before alluded to was laid before them, seemed to be agreed as to the expediency of opening to the present applicants the additional Furloughs that will shortly lapse, and for that purpose of fixing a second date as the limit of admissions, chosen so as to include them. The question which remains is, whether to choose a date favorable for the returns which will mostly occur before the end of the year, or to give the Service the benefit of lapses by expiry of the three years to the close of the Season.

The Secretary submits that January and February are the months of most frequent departure, and that if the date of computation be extended to the last day of January only, it will include besides three lapses in the course of December the following expiries of the Furlough by completion of three years in that month, viz.

Mr. G. M. Caldicott,	16th January 1837
" R. W. Maxwell,	21st January "
" H. Piddock,	18th January "
" C. Phillips,	by Bombay 10th January "
" W. S. Alexander,	27th January "
J. P. Gubbins,	18th January "
	by Bombay.

Three more furloughs will expire in the course of February and March. The expiring of the period being therefore a better criterion to assume, than the returns which are uncertain and do not include the case of applicants of the Annual List, like Messrs. Maxwell and Phillips, who will of course remain in Europe after their three years of furlough are complete, it would seem that there are grounds for extending the period to the 31st March so as to include all the furloughs about to expire giving however no such applicants the same preference they now enjoy in respect to the same as to subsequent lapses to the date of the next distribution on the 1st November 1836.

RESOLUTION.

The President in Council having considered the above report and the several Applications for Furlough submitted with it—Resolved that the following Rules be established for the grant of Furloughs to members of the civil service in modification of previous rules passed on the 10th October 1825 and 18th September 1828, and that the same be applied to the Furloughs of the present year.

I. Civil Servants desiring Furloughs as heretofore submit their applications so as to reach the Office of the Secretary to Government in the General Department at Calcutta, on or before the 1st November of each year when the Furloughs then available to complete the number 51, will be appropriated in the same order, who have completed ten years of actual residence, provided they are Subscribers to the Civil Annuity Fund and have not forfeited their claim by a previous absence as Juniors so as to bring their case within the orders contained in the 22d Para. of the letter of the Hon'ble Court of Directors, dated 8th December, 1824.

II. "The applicants on the 1st November shall further have the benefit of the Furloughs that may lapse by return or expiry to the 31st March next following, but during this period applicants under medical certificate will be entitled to preference, and such applicants may as heretofore take their Furlough, if any Furloughs are available, at any period of the year."

III. "The applicants on the 1st November shall further have the benefit of the Furloughs that may lapse by return or expiry to the 31st March next following, but during this period applicants under medical certificate will be entitled to preference, and such applicants may as heretofore take their Furlough, if any Furloughs are available, at any period of the year."

Apply to the above Rules to the applications now before the Government, of the following will be the order of admission to the benefit of Furloughs in the present season.

IV. Applicants entitled to Furlough on the 1st November, ranged in the order of Seniority are as follows:

Messrs. J. H. Crawford and W. Faran, whose period of ten years residence will be completed on the 7th of November of the present year, will also be entitled to avail themselves of any Furlough that may lapse after that date, their applications having been accompanied by medical certificates.

After Furloughs shall have been allotted to the above applicants under medical certificate, and to the other applicants whose cases may be laid before the Governments of Bengal or the North Western Provinces, in the interval between the 1st November and the 31st March the Furloughs that may lapse until the date last mentioned, shall be allotted, if they fall in, to the above applicants in the order of their rank in the above list.

12. H. Fraser, Senr.	18th Ditto "
13. H. Lushington,	18th March "
14. R. J. Loughnan,	18th Ditto "

The President in Council considers that under the above rules a full allotment of Furloughs will be made to members of the Bengal civil Service, and that the exigencies of the Public Service will not admit without inconvenience of a larger number of servants being absent than is provided for by the rules established; deems it expedient to require that leave to proceed to Europe on account of private affairs shall be sparingly granted to Servants not entitled to the privilege of Furlough, and that applications for such leave be not compounded with, except under special circumstances to be explained to the satisfaction of the heads of the respective Governments of Bengal and North Western Provinces.

It shall be incumbent therefore on the Masters or Commanders of Vessels employed as Troop Ships or transports, to provide such a Table as stated may afford under the Control of the Marine Board or Head of Department, through whom the Vessel is engaged or Superintended.

The rates above laid down are intended to be in modification of the previously established rate of (8) Eight Rupees per diem, of which six Rupees were made payable by Government and Two by the Officer embarking.

It is not considered necessary to settle the rates of Passage and Table money for the Wives and children of officers, which may continue as heretofore adjusted in accordance with established custom.

REVIEW OF THE CALCUTTA MARKET.

Hurkaru office, Calcutta, 10th January, 1840.

Our market with a few exceptions, may be considered as still in a depressed state, owing chiefly to the deprivations in the Opium Trade, in which almost all the Upcountry Traders were engaged, and from the last accounts received from the Upper Provinces, the market at these places do not appear to have yet recovered from the effects of this Trade. The particulars may be gathered from the following details.

COPPER.—Owing to a rise on the price of 14lb. Tile at Mirzapore where this description of Copper is very scarce and in demand, the price here has advanced about Rs. 2 per maund on the rates quoted in our last Extra. A slight improvement is also noticed on other descriptions; but sales do not show to have been made to any great extent. The stock in the hands of Importers may at present be considered of Sheathing and Firebars about maunds 5,000.—Tile maunds 1,000 Bolt, maunds 1,000. The market is bare of old.

The quotations of the day may be reported as below.

The Stock in the hands of Importers have considerably reduced, and are reported at present to consist of Swedish flat and Square 7,000 maunds.—English flat, Square and Bolt 2,500 mds. Nail Rod 2,500 mds.

WAX.—The market since the issue of our last Extra has remained very quiet, in consequence of the absence of demand, and prices may be quoted at a further advance of one anna—viz.

SPEITER.—The market has been very favorable since our last Extra as regards demand, and although some recent importations have added to the Stock last reported, the price has advanced about a rupee per maund since our last, and may at present be quoted at Ct. Ra. 10 at 10 4 par fy. md.

The Stock in the hands of Importers may at present be reported at about 20,000 mds.

TIN PLATE.—A few sales have been made since our last at Co. Ra. 17 1/2 at 18 per box. The demand for this Metal is rather limited.

QUICKSILVER.—Has remained without any action since our last, but is in good enquiry at Ct. Ra. 5 at 5 2 per fy. mds.

MULE TWIST.—We have to report some improvement in the market for this Yarn, particularly for the lower numbers, which have been selling and still do so at an advance of about 3 pds per mds above the prices quoted in our last Extra,—this is owing to the demand from the Upper Provinces where the Stock of these qualities of Twist is small and wanted for the manufacture of heavy and cold weather fabrics. An improvement may be looked for in the prices of the higher numbers towards the middle of next month.

COTTON PICK GOODS.—In Chintzes, the season may be considered as nearly passed,—Bangs and single colored Seta however sell at remunerating prices on arrival, owing to the supplies being very small. Heavy White and Grey Cloths, viz : Madras, Madapolams and Cambrics have been in limited operation owing to the advanced state of the season for those description of Goods. The market has just received some disposition to improve for the lighter fabrics, which are now coming in demand, and prices have slightly advanced on fine qualities of Honey Combs, Green and Lappets, and we may expect our market to improve further in a few weeks hence. INDIGO.—Our Market has been somewhat quiet, the holders being unwilling to sell at any reduction, and shippers showing no disposition to purchase, anxiously awaiting the arrival of the Overland Mail. There have been seven public sales held since the departure of the last mail, at which the buyers were principally French, Americans and Arabs, at prices showing a reduction of Rs. 5 to 7 per maund on good middling consuming qualities—a few lots were also purchased for the English market. With regard to private transactions we have heard of very few, and they are reported as below. The sales this year show the prices about 10 a 15 Rs. per md. below the rates obtained last year on fine marks, and as the quality this season is decidedly better, we may expect to report a reduction of 20 Rs.

GENERAL REGISTER.

The sale was fully attended and by an equal number of shippers and speculations on the spot, but purchases were made principally upon orders and for shipment on speculation, and the prices of Patna went up higher than had been anticipated, owing probably to the recent accounts received from China of some sales having been made on the coast at high prices by the commanders of the vessels stationed at Hong Kong, but at considerable risk; it was stated that the Drug was selling at $ 800 at 900 per chest.

FREIGHTS.

The continued scarcity of Dead Weight Tonnage has caused a rise in the rates quoted in our last Extra—of about 5 sh. per ton;—but as the arrivals of several vessels overdue; are now daily looked for, we expect the rates to recede materially.

Hurkaru Overland Price Current, Jany. 10]

MONEY MARKET

Hurkaru Office, Calcutta Jany. 10, 1840.

The Overland Mail of the 15th ultimo, carried with it a fairer business than we were led to expect at the time of our writing our ast. It cannot be surprising when we state that the active preparation did not commence until about the morning of its departure. We are again placed in an equally, if not more awkward position. Here we are within a day of the safe day and nothing doing, we may either attribute this slowness to the non-arrival of the November Mail, which is expected to bring favorable intelligence or to the published safe day as not ~~our~~ last safe day to write, whatever be the reason we are left to an inoperative market and which has been so for the last fortnight. We do not see any prospect of change until the arrival of the mail now daily expected.

Our Bill Market has been stationary, the transactions since our last have been extensive.

Bank Bills,	2 0 1 a 2 1 1 p Co. R.
Private Bills,	1 11 a 1 11 1/2 „
Bank Post ditto,	1 11 a 2 0 „
Bank Notes,	10 0 a 10 4 per £
Insurance Bills,	2 0 1 a 0 0 p Co. R.
Private Bills (without documents),	2 1 a 0 0 „
Monthly remittances,	1 11 a 2 1 1/2 „
Discounts, (according to sight) 2 50 a 2 60 „

The rate of advance through the Export Ware-house continues at 2-1 per rupee and through that channel most shipments are going forward. Shippers find it difficult to sell Bills, otherwise as no private individuals are willing to purchase at a less rate than 2-1 1/2 to which sellers will not consent and why should they? When the Government are ready to negotiate at a better. The Government funds have in consequence been greatly availed of and there remain but fifty eight lacs unappropriated.

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES.—The only change we perceive in these securities is in the 4 per cents, which have been gradually coming down in discount, we quoted them in our last at 3-12 to 5, they now stand at 4 to 4-6 and any anxiety displayed by sellers to quit the market, they may have to dispose is readily availed of by buyers, to raise the discount to 4-8 per cent.

The operations in Bank Shares have been very limited. Such shares as have changed hands have been at previous rates. The near approach of time for the declaration of the past half year dividend will deter any immediate change. We perceive the Bank of Bengal has declared a dividend of 74 per cent per annum, or 145 rupees per share. The Union Bank will not declare any before the 15th January next, and then it is expected it will give 8 per cent per annum or 40 rupees per share. It is hard to conjecture how the value of shares will rule after the dividends, but finding from the rates, which are not better than the last payment we would calculate upon an unaltered value.

BONDED WARE-HOUSE ASSOCIATION.—Shareholders are paying up the 8th instalment of 10 per cent. Shares are procurable at 10 rupees per share discount.

STEAM TUG ASSOCIATION.—Some shares, though not offered for sale in the bazar, are procurable at par.

BENGAL SALT COMPANY.—Two further instalments of 10 per cent each have been called for.

MONEY in great abundance, perhaps more than there is ready employment for, we are led to believe so from the circumstance of the large capital still invested in the prohibited and baneful opium trade.

Discounts remain unchanged. Interest on loans vary from 6 to 9 per cent according to the respectability of the party borrowing.

IN BULLION we have no transactions. Sovereigns have been selling at 10-3 to 10-4, and Bank of England Notes at 10-3 to 10-3 each.
